Extract from the Proceedings of the Government of India in the Department of Education (Census) under date Calcutta, the 20th March 1911.

RESOLUTION.

In certain provinces such as Madras and the Punjab the custom of making periodic estimates of the population, founded on more or less accurate data, is of very old standing, but the first systematic attempt to obtain information regarding the population of the whole of India, based on an actual counting of heads, was made between the years 1867 and 1872. But even then, many of the Native States, including Hyderabad, Kashmir, the States of the Central India and Rajputana Agencies and those attached to the Punjab, were left out of the count. This Census, moreover, was non-synchronous; the arrangements were seldom very elaborate, and in some of the more remote tracts it was admittedly carried out in a very rough and imperfect manner. The experience gained, however, was valuable, and it paved the way for the first regular Census on the modern system, which was carried out on the 17th February 1881. On this occasion the operations were extended to all the provinces and states in India, as the term was then understood, except Kashmir and various small remote tracts. The count was a synchronous one, taken in the manner to be presently described, except in certain forest and desert tracts where counting by night was impracticable and the regular procedure was modified to a varying extent; in some places a simplified schedule was employed and the final revision of the record was carried out by day, while in others this process was dispensed with. In the latter case the schedules did not, as elsewhere, show the persons actually present in each house on the night of the Census but those who ordinarily resided there.

On the 26th February 1891, the second general Census was taken on lines very similar to those of the previous one, but more elaborate arrangements were made to ensure completeness; the non-synchronous area was smaller; and Upper Burma, which had meanwhile been acquired, was included in the operations, as well as Kashmir and Sikkim. The third Census was taken on the 1st March 1901. Its operations embraced for the first time a large part of the Baluchistan Agency, the Bhil country in Rajputana, the settlements of the wild Nicobarese and Andamanese and certain outlying tracts on the confines of Burma, the Punjab and Kashmir. The non-synchronous area was again reduced, and even where it was not found practicable to effect a final revision, the enumeration was ordinarily carried out on the standard schedule. In some of the newly added areas, however, no detailed enumeration was possible, and the population was estimated with reference to the ascertained number of houses or the returns of the tribal headmen.

2. The fourth general Census of India was taken on the night of the 10th March 1911, or ten years and nine days after the previous one. The date was chosen partly with reference to the age of the moon, so that the Census staff might be able to go about their work by moonlight, and partly with the object of avoiding as far as possible religious festivals and fairs and the dates regarded as auspicious for marriage ceremonies or for bathing in the sacred rivers. Unfortunately there was a serious recrudescence of plague which interfered considerably with the enumeration in some parts of the country and caused a large temporary decrease in the population of certain towns, such as Nagpur, Gaya and Indore, many of whose inhabitants had left their homes. In parts of Northern India heavy rain fell while the final Census was being taken. This Census included within its scope the whole of Baluchistan (except Kharan), the Agencies and tribal areas in the North-West Frontier Province and several remote tracts in Burma which had not previously been dealt with. In a few tracts where the previous count had been non synchronous, a synchronous Census was effected and in a few others an actual enumeration took the place of an estimate.

The standard procedure to be followed was laid down by the Census Commissioner for India in a Code, on the basis of which the Census Superintendents of the different provinces and states prepared their local instructions after such modifications in matters of detail as were needed in order to meet local requirements. The general scheme provided for the division of the whole Empire into blocks, each of which (except in the non-synchronous tracts where they were larger) contained from thirty to fifty houses and was in charge of an Enumerator. Above the block came the circle, a compact group of from ten to fifteen blocks, or about 500 houses, under a Supervisor, who was responsible for the work of all the Enumerators in his circle. Circles were grouped, according to tahsils, taluks or other recognized administrative divisions, into charges under Charge Superintendents, who exercised general supervision over the Census operations and tested a large proportion of the work of their subordinates. The total strength of the Census staff was about two millions.

3. In Europe the Census record is usually prepared by the head of the family, but this is impracticable in a country where the great majority of the people are illiterate. As a rule, therefore, the schedules were filled in by the Enumerators. But as it was impossible for them to enter all the required particulars for all the persons in their blocks in the course of a few hours on the night of the Census, and as owing to their generally low standard of education, the entries made by them required careful revision by the superior Census staff, it was arranged, as on previous occasions, to have the bulk of the work done beforehand. During February the Enumerators wrote up the Census schedules for all the persons ordinarily resident in their blocks; and the record thus prepared was checked and corrected by the Supervisors and Charge Superintendents. On the 10th March between 7 P.M. and midnight, the Enumerators again went round their blocks and brought the entries into accordance with the facts at that time by striking out the names of people who had died or gone away, and entering the necessary particulars for fresh arrivals and newly-born infants. Elaborate arrangements were made, for the enumeration of persons who, on the night of the Census, were travelling by rail, river or road, or were otherwise absent from their homes.

On the morning of the 11th March the Enumerators of all the blocks in a circle met the Supervisor at a place previously arranged, and filled in a form showing the number of occupied houses and of persons (males and females) in each block. The Supervisor, after testing these figures, prepared from them a summary for his circle which he transmitted to his Charge Superintendent. The latter did the same for his charge, and reported the result to the District Officer. The charge summaries were then combined into the district total, which was telegraphed to the Provincial Superintendent and the Census Commissioner for India. Careful arrangements were made for checking the additions at each stage and for preventing the omission of the figures for any block or circle.

4. The general results of the Census according to the Provisional totals are exhibited in Tables A to C appended to this Resolution. The total population of India as thus ascertained is 315,001,099, viz., British territory 244,172,371 and Native States 70,828,728. To the total increase of 20,640,043 since 1901 British territory contributes 12,547,564 and the Native States 8,092,479. These figures are purely provisional and are liable to correction after detailed tabulation. But past experience shows that they are sufficiently accurate for all practical purposes. In 1901 the difference in the whole of India between the population according to the provisional totals and that finally ascertained was only 94,355 or ·03 per cent.

Variation per cent. since 1881.

The proportional variations at each of the last three Censuses are given in the margin. In considering them, allowance must be made for the greater accuracy of the more recent enumerations and for the fact that at each Census prior to the present one, part of the apparent increase was due to the inclusion of new areas within the scope of the operations. It has been estimated that, after allowing for artificial changes, the actual gain in the period 1881—1891 was 9·8, and in the succeeding decade 1·5, per cent. At the present Census there has been a further elaboration of method, which has, it is hoped, led to greater accuracy in the entries regarding caste, occupations and the like; but except in a few outlying tracts, the omissions from the record were already so few in 1901 that there was no appreciable room for improvement. The areas now dealt with for the first time have a population of 1,731,099. After allowing for this, the net increase at the present census comes to 6·4 per cent.

5. Until the full statistics have been tabulated it would be premature to attempt to say how far the variations which have occurred are due to natural causes and how far to migration, or to appraise the relative importance of the various factors which have influenced the growth of population. It may be mentioned however, that, shortly before the commencement of the decade, there had occurred two widespread and disastrous famines, which not only caused a heavy fall in the birth-rate but also, with their sequelae—cholera, fever and other epidemics—were responsible for a mortality (chiefly in the Native States) of about five millions in excess of the normal. A very large proportion of these deaths were of 'bad lives,' which would otherwise have swollen the mortality roll of the years immediately succeeding. It follows that, at the commencement of the decennium 1901-1911, the conditions were favourable to a comparatively rapid growth of population. On the one hand, after several years of impaired fertility, a high birth-rate was to be anticipated, and on the other, a relatively low death-rate. From an agricultural point of view the period in question was, on the whole, fairly prosperous. Though there were a few local famines, there were no widespread calamities like those of 1897 and 1900; and in most parts, taking one year with another, the crops were equal to, or above, the average. There was steady progress in industrial development, in the construction of railways and in the provision of facilities for irrigation.

But a new and terrible disease had now to be reckoned with. Breaking out in Bombay City in 1896 the plague had already in March 1901 caused a recorded mortality of about half a million. Since then it has continued its ravages, especially in Bombay and Upper India. The mortality from this scourge rose from 284,000 in 1901, to 1,316,000 in 1907. It then fell to well under 200,000 in 1908 and 1909. In 1910 it was 509,000. The total number of deaths from plague during the decade was nearly six-and-a-half millions, of which over one-third occurred in the Punjab, and two-fifths in the United Provinces and Bombay. In the Punjab and United Provinces, malaria was also very prevalent. The reported mortality from fevers in the United Provinces in 1908 was nearly two millions, and greatly exceeded the total number of deaths from plague in the whole decade. Elsewhere, in spite of a certain amount of plague, the decade was on the whole a healthy one.

A brief note by the Census Commissioner for India on the principal features of the decade from the point of view of the Census in the main British provinces is appended.

6. The Governor General in Council desires to acknowledge the services rendered by the Census Commissioner, the Superintendents of Census Operations, the district officers, and the various grades of local and village officials both under the British Government and in the Native States. His thanks are more especially due to the large number of private individuals, belonging to all classes of society, whose diligent co-operation with the officers of Government has rendered it possible to bring to a successful issue the census of a population far greater than that enumerated in any other country in the world and to publish the result within nine days from the date on which it was taken.

Order.—Ordered that a copy of the Resolution be forwarded to all local Governments and Administrations, to the Departments of the Government of India, and to the Census Commissioner for India, and that it be published in the Supplement to the Gazette of India.

L. PORTER,
Secretary to the Government of India.

Brief note on the conditions prevailing during the decade in the main British Provinces.

Bengal.—During the first four years the province as a whole enjoyed fair agricultural prosperity Then followed four years of depression and then again two years of good crops. In 1906 high floods, followed by drought, caused a local famine in Durbhanga. In 1907 the monsoon ceased early and caused a partial failure of the winter rice throughout the province: some minor relief operations were found necessary in four districts. In 1908, when the monsoon again ceased prematurely, ten districts were more or less seriously affected, while in two famine was declared Since 1901 about thirteen hundred miles of railway have been constructed. The mortality was high in three years, but on the whole the decade has been a healthy one and the reported births have exceeded the deaths by more than two millions. Plague has appeared yearly and has taken heavy toll in several districts of Bihar. The recorded mortality from this cause in the years 1901—1910 inclusive was 596,000. There are two large currents of migration, the one from Chota Nagpur to the tea gardens of Eastern Bengal and Assam, and the other from the United Provinces to Calcutta and other industrial centres.

Bombay.—The crops were very poor in Gujarat in 1901-02 and 1904-05, in the Deccan and Karnatak in 1905-06, and in most parts of the Province in 1907-08; but on the whole, the agricultural conditions of the decade were favourable, especially in Sind. There was a steady development of industry and trade up to the year 1908-09, when the high price of cotton caused a temporary set back; but in 1909-10 there was a rapid recovery, and the trade at the port of Karachi was greater than it had ever been before. About a hundred miles a year were added to the railways of the province, and there was a steady, though slow, extension of irrigation facilities. So far as the material condition of the people is concerned, the conditions, except perhaps in Gujarat, were favourable to a fairly rapid increase in the population. But until about two years ago, plague continued to be very prevalent. The reported mortality from it during the ten years 1901—10 was 1,313,000.

Burma.—Burma, in spite of its fertile soil, was formerly very sparsely populated. But it has developed rapidly during British rule; and each succeeding Census has disclosed a considerable increase of population. In 1901, a part from the generally high rate of growth, the main feature was the large increase in the deltaic districts, where the fertile waste land was rapidly being reclaimed by immigrants from Upper Burma and Madras. By that, time, however, most of the best land in these districts had been cleared; and a slackening in the rate of increase was therefore to be anticipated. On the other hand, the completion of irrigation schemes in Shwebo, Mandalay, Kyaukse, Yamethin and Minbu has encouraged migration to these five districts of Upper Burma. The agricultural conditions have on the whole been satisfactory, both in Upper and Lower Burma, especially during the last two years. The oil industry has developed, trade has increased, and the demand for labour has become greater than ever. The state of the public health has been satisfactory. The registration of births and deaths is not yet very accurate, but so far as they go, the figures indicate a large excess of births over deaths. There is believed to have been a considerable increase in the already large number of immigrants from Madras.

Central Provinces and Berar.—These provinces suffered severely in the two great famines of the previous decade. Since 1901 in spite of some local crop failures, there has been a steady recovery amongst the agricultural classes. In 1907 there was a partial failure of the monsoon, which was most serious in the Jubbulpore and Nerbudda Divisions, but, on the other hand, in several years bumper crops were harvested. The area under cotton, which of late years has been a most profitable crop, has expanded considerably. There has been a steady increase in the demand for labour, owing partly to the good seasons, partly to the increased expenditure on roads, railways and canals, and partly to the development of industries, such as cotton ginning and the quarrying of manganese ore. The emigration to the tea districts of Assam has probably been counterbalanced by immigration to meet the growing local demand for labour. In spite of about a quarter of a million deaths from plague, which has been worst in Nagpur and the Berar districts, the vital statistics show a marked excess of births over deaths.

Eastern Bengal and Assam.—The crops were generally good throughout the decade, but some damage was caused by the high floods of 1905-06. The general tendency to high prices of food grains prevailing at this time throughout India was accentuated locally by these floods and by the gradual expansion of jute cultivation to the exclusion of rice. The tea industry, which was suffering from over-production at the commencement of the decade, has entered on a new era of prosperity. Between the years 1901 and 1909 the total outturn has risen from 167 to 230 million pounds, and the tea garden labour force (excluding Jalpaiguri) from 645 to 756 thousand. The opening of the Assam Bengal Railway and the extension of the Eastern Bengal State Railway from Golakganj to Gauhati have greatly improved the internal lines of communication. The material condition of the Province is one of considerable prosperity. The state of the public health has been good. The disastrous epidemic of Kala Azar has disappeared from the Brahmaputra Valley. The Province has escaped the ravages of plague.

Madras.—Since the calamitous famine of 1877 the Madras Presidency has been unusually free from serious failures of the crops. The Deccan districts were affected by scarcity in 1897 and 1900, but on a comparatively small scale. Since 1901 the crops have on the whole been good. There was local scarcity in three districts in 1905 and in one in 1908, but this was not sufficient to affect materially the number of births or deaths. There were epidemics of cholera in the years 1906 to 1908, but otherwise the public health was good. In every year the number of births reported considerably exceeded the deaths. There an extensive emigration (mostly temporary) from the southern districts to Ceylon and from the north of the Presidency to Burma. There is also a growing demand for Madras labour in the Malay States. Until the birthplace statistics of these places have been compiled it will be impossible to gauge accurately the real rate of growth.

North-West Frontier Province.—Though sparsely inhabited, the area at present fit for cultivation had for the most part been taken up previous to 1901. There has been very little increase during the decade in the total cropped area, but the proportion of it which is irrigated has risen from 25 to 30 per cent. On the whole the harvests have been good, but they were poor in the first year of the decade and again in 1907, when prices of food grains rose to a high level. Communications by road and railway have been much improved. The public health has been fairly good. The registration of vital statistics is not complete, but so far as they go, the figures indicate a considerable excess of births over deaths.

Punjab.—In the first two years of the decade the crops were bad. The Delhi division and the Kangra district suffered most in 1901-02 and the Rohtak and Hissar districts in the year following. Since then, save only in 1907-08, the agricultural conditions have been uniformly favourable. There has been a large extension of irrigation in the canal colonies, the total length of canals and distributaries having been increased by 618 miles; and both here and in the dry western districts there has been a marked increase in the area under cultivation. Prices of food grains and cotton have risen. The decade has thus been one of considerable agricultural prosperity. Trade also has been good; and there has been a great improvement in railway communications, over a thousand miles of new line having been constructed On the other hand, except in the dry western districts, the state of the public health has been deplorable. Plague has been present throughout the decade, and has been responsible in all for about two million deaths, of which nearly one-third occurred in 1907. Since that year it has been far less virulent. Heavy as has been the mortality from plague, it has been barely half that from fevers. Malaria has been terribly prevalent, especially in the irrigated tracts in the eastern and central districts. It was worst in 1908 and in the first three years of the decade. The vital statistics indicate a net decrease of about 2½ per cent. in the natural population of the Province.

United Provinces.—The first four years were a period of returning prosperity after the famines of 1897 and 1900. Then bad crops in 1905, followed by a poor rabi in 1906, led to famine in Bundelkhand and the south of the Agra Division. Prosperity was restored by a good kharif and rabi, but in 1907 the monsoon failed entirely in August, causing a severe famine, which continued until a good kharif was harvested in 1908. From that time to the present, conditions have everywhere been favourable. Prices of food grains were unusually high during the last five years. There has been a good demand for labour, even in famine years, and wages have generally been high. The emigration to Calcutta and other industrial centres is considerable. The area under cultivation is almost stationary, but the irrigated area is increasing, and the aggregate length of canals has been increased by about 14 per cent. The decade has been marked by general industrial development; the outstanding features are the rapid growth of the cotton industry on the one side and the equally rapid decline of indigo on the other. Considerable additions have been made to the railways and metalled roads. The state of the public health, which was moderately good in the early years of the decade, has since gone from bad to worse. Plague accounted in all for about one and-a-half million deaths. The mortality from malaria was even more serious; and in 1908 alone, nearly two million deaths from fever were recorded.

Table A.

Total population and variation since 1881.

The population returned at previous Censuses has been corrected, as far as possible, in order to allow for subsequent interprovincial transfers. The largest changes are those necessitated by the partition of Bengal. The population of Manipur State (Total 284,465—males 139,632, females 144,833) which was included under the head British territory in 1901, has now been included under the head Native States. The tribal areas in the North-West Frontier Province have also been shown under the latter head. Sikkim, which in 1901 was classed under Bengal States, is now shown separately.

The areas newly included within the scope of the enumeration are noted below :—

Population of principal towns and variation since 1891.

In some towns such as Nagpur, Gaya and Indore, where plague was prevalent at the time of the Census, many of the inhabitants were absent from their homes and the population shown in this table is far less than it would otherwise have been. A fresh enumeration will be effected in some of these towns later on, when the plague has disappeared.

1. The examination is held annually at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on the first Monday in June. The examination will be conducted, either at the College, or by an Accountant-General (including Government Examiner of Railway Accounts and Examiner of Accounts, Lower Ganges Bridge Project), in Bengal, Eastern Bengal and Assam and Burma only. The examination will be ipso facto vitiated, if it be not held (begun and completed) on the dates fixed; but the officer who will conduct the examination may make his own arrangements, in regard to the place and hour of examination, with the candidates.

Candidates will not be examined in any of the Calcutta offices.

A candidate already in permanent Government employ* may be allowed to compete in the examination, even if he is more than 25 years of age, and may be appointed to an accountantship if he passes it; but if he is not already in pensionable service, he will be eligible only for appointment to the non-pensionable establishment on State Railways.

* This term includes employment under Local Boards and foreign bodies, if such is pensionable by the British Government.

2. The candidate should apply to an Accountant-General not later than 30 days previous to the date fixed for the examination, and obtain his consent to conduct the examination, if examination at the College is not convenient. The application must bear the address of the candidate, must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 10 and the following certificates and registration form duly filled in and must be forwarded by him, not direct to the Principal, but through the Accountant-General.

Certificates may be submitted in original, or true copies attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch, but none will be returned:—

(1) Certificate of good character signed by applicant's immediate official superior, or by the instructor under whom he has been educated, or by some other superior under whom he may have been brought up or employed, or to whom he may be well known. (This certificate must have special reference to the two years immediately preceding the application.)

(2) Certificate of age, baptismal or of birth (not required, if the candidate is already in permanent Government employ).

(3) Certificate that the application is in the candidate's hand-writing.

(4) Registration statement containing the following information:—

(a) Name in full.
(b) Father's name.
(c) Nationality or class, i.e., European, Eurasian or Indian, of candidate; and, if Indian, caste or tribe.
(d) Date of birth.
(e) Place of birth.
(f) Present address.
(g) Examinations passed.
(h) Thumb mark of candidate, left hand, to be made in the presence of a responsible person who knows candidate.
(k) Signature and address of above-mentioned witness.

NOTE.—A candidate already in Government service should, in like manner, submit his application, through his immediate official superior, to an Accountant-General (including Government Examiner of Railway Accounts and Examiner of Accounts Lower Ganges Bridge Project) qualified to hold the particular examination, and should state whether he desires to be examined at the office of the Examiner of Accounts concerned or at the College.

It will rest with the Accountant-General, to whom the candidate submits his application, to decide, on a consideration of the certificates submitted, whether the candidate should be allowed to appear for the examination, or whether his application should be rejected. The Accountant-General will then forward to the Principal for registration the names of the accepted candidates, together with their registration statements, which should be signed by the Accountant-General. The registration statements should be carefully preserved by the Principal. The names of these candidates should be entered in a statement showing their ages and their addresses, and also showing where each candidate is to be examined, whether at the College or at the office of the Accountant-General. This statement, together with the fees, should be transmitted to the Principal not later than 15 days after the dates fixed in paragraph 2 for the submission of applications of candidates.

3. Examination papers that are issued for examination need not be returned.

4. Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who has failed in an examination, and presents himself for examination on a subsequent occasion, must undergo the full examination and furnish fresh fee and certificates.

5. If from any cause a candidate fails to appear for the examination, the fee paid will not be refunded.

6. It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that in making appointments preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the Department.

7. Passed candidates should apply, not to the Principal of the College, nor to the Comptroller-General, but direct to the Accountant-General or Government Examiner of Railway Accounts in the province or railway under whom they may desire to be employed.

8. The Civil Engineering College acts solely as an examining body in reference to admission to the 4th grade of Accountants, Public Works Department.

9. Candidates for the 4th grade Accountantship examination, who are not Government servants and over 25 years of age, are allowed to appear at the examination at the Sibpur College centre only, but, even if successful, they are debarred from employment in the service of Government, and their names will be excluded from the list of passed candidates which is furnished to the Comptroller and Auditor-General.

10. Candidates over 25 years of age should apply in writing to the Principal of the Civil Engineering College not later than 30 days previous to the examination; the application to be accompanied by the fee of rupees ten and the Registration statement prescribed in Rule 2 (4).

A. DUPRÉ DENNING,

Superintendent of Industries and Inspector of Technical Institutions, Bengal.

The 13th March 1911.

EDUCATION DEPARTMENT, BENGAL.

NOTIFICATION.

REFERENCE is invited to the syllabus of studies for standards III to VI published with Government Resolution No. 109-T.G., dated 20th April 1909.

2. As the course in Arithmetic prescribes the use of English figures throughout the main syllabus, intending authors of text-books were advised by public notification (vide Calcutta Gazette of 20th and 27th March 1910) to provide a table in the beginning of their books, giving the vernacular equivalents of the English numerals 0, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9.

3. It was explained that the provision of such a table was necessary in consideration of the possibility that the employment of English figures in the main Arithmetic syllabus, which will be applicable to all classes of schools, High, Middle and Upper Primary, might otherwise constitute a difficulty in purely vernacular schools.

4. It was at the same time pointed out that the vernacular notation should be used in the additional Subhankari syallabus to be taught in Middle Vernacular and Upper Primary schools.

5. It is not the intention to supersede the use of vernacular figures and symbols in Middle Vernacular and Upper Primary schools and there should be no difficulty in substituting, with the help of the table referred to above, the vernacular equivalents of the English figures employed in the Arithmetic text-books in purely vernacular schools.

6. English figures are only intended to be used in standards III to VI of Middle English and High schools, as the bulk of the pupils in these schools are understood to be preparing for classes I to IV of a High school in which English will be the medium of instruction, the object being to familiarise the pupils with the use of English figures from as early a stage as possible.

Bills introduced in the Bengal Legislative Council, Reports of Select Committees presented to that Council, and Bills published under Rule 34.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

THE following Bill was introduced in the Bengal Legislative Council on the 1st April, 1911, and is hereby published, together with a Statement of Objects and Reasons:—

THE CHOTA NAGPUR ENCUMBERED ESTATES (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1911.

further to amend the Chota Nagpur Encumbered Estates Act, 1876. VI of 1876.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Chota Nagpur Encumbered Estates Act, 1876;

And whereas the previous sanction of the Governor General has been obtained, under section 5 of the Indian Councils Act, 1892, to the passing of this Act; 55 & 56 Vict., c. 14.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title. 1. This Act may be called the Chota Nagpur Encumbered Estates (Amendment) Act, 1911.

Insertion of new section 2B in Act VI of 1876. 2. After section 2A of the Chota Nagpur Encumbered Estates Act, 1876, the following shall be inserted, namely:— VI of 1876.

"2B. At any time after the receipt of an application under section 2 from or in the case of any holder, the Commissioner may, by order, prohibit the sale of the immovable property of such holder, or any portion thereof, in execution of any decree or order of any Civil or Revenue Court, until the passing of final orders on such application, either rejecting it or vesting the property in a manager."

Power of Commissioner to prohibit sale of immovable property.

Amendment of section 12. 3. In the concluding paragraph of section 12 of the said Act, after the words "the publication of the order mentioned in section 2" the words "or the making of the order (if any) mentioned in section 2B" shall be inserted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to empower the Commissioner of the Chota Nagpur Division to prohibit the sale of immovable property, in execution of any decree or order of a Civil or Revenue Court, when an application has been made for an order vesting the property in a Manager under the Chota Nagpur Encumbered Estates Act, 1876 (VI of 1876). Section 3 of that Act prevents sales when such a vesting order has been published; and it is desirable that similar protection should be given during the period between the filing of an application and its final disposal.

2. The Commissioner already has, under section 208 of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, 1908 (Bengal Act VI of 1908), power to prohibit the sale of tenures in execution of decrees for rent; and, until the new Code of Civil Procedure (Act V of 1908) came into force, he had power, under a notification dated the 13th June, 1882 [issued under clause 2 of section 327 of the former Code of Civil Procedure (Act XIV of 1882), and published at page 501 of Part I of the Calcutta Gazette of the 14th June, 1882], to forbid the sale of any estate or part thereof in execution of a decree of a Civil Court. Clause 2 of the Bill, therefore, in so far as it relates to decrees or orders of Revenue Courts, merely gives the Commissioner a power under the Chota Nagpur Encumbered Estates Act which he already has under the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, and, in so far as it relates to decrees or orders of Civil Courts, merely restores the law which was in force in Chota Nagpur up to the end of the year 1908.

3. Clause 3 of the Bill introduces an amendment in section 12 of the Chota Nagpur Encumbered Estates Act, 1876, which is consequential upon the amendment proposed in clause 2.

The ordinary business of the Council was then proceeded with as follows:—

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

TEMPORARY PROMOTIONS IN THE PROVINCIAL CIVIL SERVICE.

The Hon'ble MAULVI SAIYID MUHAMMAD FAKHR-UD-DIN asked:—

I.—(a) Is it or is it not a fact that the members of the Indian Civil Service and the Police Service (Superintendents of Police) enjoy the privilege of temporary promotions to the next higher grade during the absence, on leave, of officers in those services?

(b) Are similar privileges extended to the members of the Provincial Service, both Executive and Judicial?

(c) If not, will the Government be pleased to state the reasons?

The Hon'ble MR. STEVENSON-MOORE replied :—

(a) "The answer is in the affirmative.

(b) & (c) The system of temporary grade promotion exists in the case of the Indian Civil Service and the superior Police Service for special reasons which are connected with the evolution of the conditions of those services and are not applicable to any Provincial service. Prior to 1868 when a member of the Indian Civil Service went on furlough (other than furlough on medical certificate) he vacated his appointment altogether and substantive promotion was given in his place. As a result of this system it was found that there was a tendency for officers to postpone their leave until their health broke down and they were compelled to take leave on medical certificate. This condition of things was not only unfair to the officers, but was detrimental to efficiency, since it is a condition of efficiency in a service recruited in Europe that officers should be in a position to enjoy leave in Europe to a reasonable degree. Accordingly in 1868 the system was changed, and an officer on furlough was allowed to retain a lien on his grade appointment. As a partial compensation for the loss of the substantive promotion which he had previously enjoyed, a locum tenens was given an allowance, now known as officiating allowance. The change resulted in a reduction in the pay of officers on duty taken as a whole, and this reduction was calculated as covering the cost of the increased furlough allowances. Similar considerations also operate in the case of the Imperial Police Service. On the other hand, they have no application to services recruited mainly in India, such as the Provincial Services (Executive and Judicial).

These services were never organised on a system of substantive promotion in furlough vacancies. All the Provincial services—Executive, Judicial, Police and Educational—are on the same footing in this respect. The system of officiating grade promotion is complicated and consequently expensive to work, and even were the necessity to arise in the future of devising means for improving the financial position of the Provincial services, Government would be unlikely to adopt this difficult and indirect method."

ALLEGED MISCONDUCT OF A RAILWAY OFFICIAL.

The Hon'ble SIR BIJAY CHAND MAHTAB, K.C.I.E., Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, asked :—

11.—(a) Has the attention of Government been drawn to the Railway incident at Buktiarpur (reported by the Amrita Bazar Patrika of the 9th instant) about the violence committed on the 4th instant by a Junior Engineer of the East Indian Railway against the orderly of the Hon'ble Khan Bahadur Maulvi Sarfaraz Husain Khan while travelling in a first class compartment in charge of his master's properties ?

(b) If so, will the Government be pleased to state whether any steps have been taken to prevent the recurrence of such incidents in future, and whether the conduct of the Sub-Inspector of Police, in connection with the case, has been taken notice of ?

The Hon'ble MR. STEVENSON-MOORE replied :—

(a) "The attention of Government has been drawn to the alleged incident. A complaint was lodged before the Sub-divisional Magistrate, Barh, charging Mr. Speechly, a Junior Engineer, under section 336, Indian Penal Code (doing any act so rashly or negligently as to endanger human life or the personal safety of others). That complaint has been dismissed and entered as 'mistake of fact.' Government will now call for a report on the case, and, pending its receipt, is not prepared to say anything as to the accuracy of the newspaper account, which appeared when the case was under judicial investigation.

(b) Since the incident has been under judicial investigation, no such action has been taken by Government."

CONFERRING OF POWERS OF ASSISTANT COLLECTOR ON RETIRED MEMBERS OF THE PROVINCIAL SERVICE AND ON LAND-OWNERS.

The Hon'ble SIR BIJAY CHAND MAHTAB, K.C.I.E., Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, asked :—

III.—Has the Government any intention of adopting in this Province the practice of the United Provinces' Government of conferring the powers of an Assistant Collector on retired members of the Provincial Service (Judicial and Executive) and on land-owners?

The Hon'ble MR. STEVENSON-MOORE replied :—

"Government has no information regarding the practice in question, but is making inquiries."

CASE OF MAHBUB ALUM, SUB-INSPECTOR OF POLICE.

The Hon'ble MR. SAIYID WASI AHMAD asked :—

IV.—(a) Will the Government be pleased to state the circumstances under which one Mahbub Alum, a Police Sub-Inspector, employed in the district of Bhagalpur, resigned his service on the 4th June 1909?

(b) Is it true that, in spite of the Civil Surgeon's certificate recommending him for leave, he was, while suffering from fever, ordered to do his work by the Superintendent of Police, and under forced circumstances had no alternative but to resign?

(c) Is the Government inclined to reconsider his case?

The Hon'ble MR. STEVENSON-MOORE replied :—

(a) & (b) "Maulvi Mahbub Alum was appointed a probationary Sub-Inspector of Police on 29th May, 1908. A year later, it is reported, he had failed both at Thana and Court work, and it had been found necessary to attach him to the Reserve as a disciplinary measure. After about three months in the Reserve he applied for one month's privilege leave on account of ill-health due to dysentery. The Civil Surgeon was asked for an opinion, and reported that while the officer was not strong, he was making much of his illness, and that his dysentery was not so severe as to necessitate leave. The Superintendent of Police thereupon made a reference to the Deputy Inspector-General, requesting that Maulvi Mahbub Alum might either be transferred or discharged. Before orders were passed on this report, Maulvi Mahbub Alum submitted an application requesting either that he might be given one month's leave in anticipation of sanction or that his resignation might be accepted. On this application, his resignation was accepted. It is not the case that the Civil Surgeon recommended him for leave, nor does it appear that he was ordered to work while suffering from fever, and no such allegation is made in the memorial which he submitted praying for a reconsideration of the orders accepting his resignation.

(c) The answer is in the negative."

CIRCULATION OF THE BIHAR GAZETTE.

The Hon'ble BABU BAL KRISHNA SAHAY asked :—

V.—Will the Government be pleased to state—

(a) how many copies of the Bihar Gazette are distributed free, and to whom? and

(b) how many copies are subscribed to?

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER replied:—

(a) "A statement is laid on the table.

(b) There are no subscribers to the Gazette."

SUBSTITUTION OF THE DEVANAGARI FOR THE KAITHI CHARACTER IN THE BIHAR GAZETTE.

The Hon'ble BABU BAL KRISHNA SAHAY asked :—

VI.—(a) Will the Government be pleased to inquire from the authorities and subscribers concerned whether the publication of the Bihar Gazette in the Devanagari character is preferred by them and the general public to the Kaithi character, in which the said Gazette is at present published ?

(b) Is the Government aware that the Hindi-knowing public, who are able to give any opinion on legal or administrative matters, prefer the Devanagari to the Kaithi character, and find the former easier to read than the latter ?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to consider the desirability of publishing all Bills and Laws in the Bihar Gazette in the Devanagari character ?

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER replied :—

(a), (b) & (c) "The question suggests the desirability of substituting the Devanagari for the Kaithi character in the printing of the Bihar Gazette. Government are not aware of any general wish for such a change, and it is not proposed to take action to that effect."

BIHAR GRIEVANCES.

The Hon'ble BABU BAL KRISHNA SAHAY asked :—

VII.—(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the article headed "Our wants", published in the Bihari of Bankipore, dated the 3rd March, 1911 ?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether they are taking any steps to remove the grievances mentioned in the said article on the following matters, namely :—

(i) the suggestion that His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor shall spend three to four months every year in Patna, to be in immediate touch with the people of Bihar,

(ii) to open an M. A. class in the Patna College, (iii) to give to the Patna College a Professor of Philosophy and Logic ?

The Hon'ble MR. STEVENSON-MOORE replied to Question VII (a) and (b) (i) as follows :—

VII.—(a) "The answer is in the affirmative.

(b) (i) The policy of Government in this matter is well known. Both Sir Andrew Fraser and Sir Edward Baker have stated that while it will be the practice for the Lieutenant-Governor to spend some time each year in Patna, the suggestion that he should make a prolonged stay of three or four months is impracticable."

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING replied to Question VII (b) (ii), (iii) as follows :—

VII.—(b) (ii) "The Patna College is not affiliated up to the M.A. standard. In order to obtain such affiliation, an increase to the College staff would be necessary, but this is not at present practicable. The object desired by the Hon'ble Member could also be secured by the appointment of University lecturers for the College. Proposals for the appointment of such lecturers are under consideration.

(b) (iii) Instruction in Logic is at present given in the Patna College. Philosophy was formerly a subject in the curriculum, but was exchanged for Political Economy and Political Philosophy on the receipt of a representation to the effect that there was no demand for the teaching of Philosophy."

IRRIGATION IN CHOTA NAGPUR.

The Hon'ble BABU BAL KRISHNA SAHAY asked :—

VIII.—Will the Government be pleased to state—

(a) what was the result of the investigation about irrigation in Chota Nagpur made by Babu Sarada Sunder Paul some time ago,

(b) whether there is any such scheme under the consideration of the Government, and

(c) if so, when it is likely to be taken in hand ?

The Hon'ble MR. BUTLER replied :—

(a) "It is suggested that the Hon'ble Member should refer to the reply given to a somewhat similar question asked by the Hon'ble Babu Kalipada Ghosh at the meeting of the Bengal Legislative Council on the 25th January, 1908. Since that date three of the most promising irrigation schemes in the Chota Nagpur Division have been investigated by Babu Sarada Sunder Paul. The investigations show that the probable revenue to be derived from these schemes would barely cover the maintenance charges.

(b) & (c) The reply is in the negative."

AMENDMENT OF THE CHOTA NAGPUR TENANCY ACT 1908 (BEN. ACT VI OF 1908).

The Hon'ble BABU BAL KRISHNA SAHAY asked :—

IX.—Will the Government be pleased to state whether any amendment of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act is in contemplation ?

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING replied :—

"The answer is in the negative."

RETIREMENT OF MR. TWEEDIE, MANAGER OF THE NARHAN COURT OF WARDS, DARBHANGA, AND APPOINTMENT OF HIS SUCCESSOR.

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD asked :—

X.—(a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether Mr. Tweedie, the present Manager of the Narhan Court of Wards in the district of Darbhanga is going to retire ?

(b) If so, when ?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the Ranee, the present proprietress of the estate, has been requested by the Collector of Darbhanga to allow a suitable pension to Mr. Tweedie ?

(d) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the Ranee has expressed her wishes to the Collector of the district and the Commissioner of the Division to the effect that she would be willing to allow Mr. Tweedie a pension of Rs. 200 a month, provided any Bihari Sub-Deputy Collector is appointed to succeed him on Rs. 400 a month, to be made up as follows :—Rs. 300 out of Rs. 500, the present pay of Mr. Tweedie, and Rs. 100 from the savings to be effected by curtailing any avoidable item of expenditure ?

(e) If so, will the Government be pleased to state whether it intends to give effect to the said wishes of the Ranee ?

(f) If not, will the Government be pleased to state its reasons ?

(g) Will the Government be pleased to state whether there is anything which stands in its way in the present case in giving effect to its policy as laid down in the Bengal Wards Manual, to the effect that ordinarily Deputy Collectors and Sub-Deputy Collectors should be appointed managers of estates under the Court of Wards ?

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING replied :—

(a) ' The answer is in the affirmative.

(b) It is understood that Mr. Tweedie will retire as soon as his successor is appointed

(c) & (d) The local officers are in correspondence both with the proprietress and with the Board on the subject of the grant of a pension to Mr Tweedie and of the appointment of his successor. Final arrangements have not yet been made

(e), (f) & (g) Government have not yet received the final recommendations of the Board of Revenue with reference to the appointment of Mr. Tweedie's successor. When these recommendations are received, due attention will be paid both to the wishes of the Ranee and to the provisions of the Bengal Wards Manual so far as these considerations are consistent with the interests of the estate."

EXTENSION OF THE BENGAL LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT ACT OF 1885 (BEN. ACT III OF 1885) TO THE SONTHAL PARGANAS, AND PARTICIPATION OF THAT DISTRICT IN THE ELECTION OF A MEMBER OF THE BENGAL LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL.

The Hon'ble RAI SHIBA SHANKAR SAHAY BAHADUR asked:—

XI.—Will it please the Government to say whether it is in contemplation either—

(1) to extend at a near future date the provisions of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act of 1885 to the district of the Sonthal Parganas, or

(2) to order arrangements to be made under which that district may, like other districts of the Province, participate in the election of a Member of the Bengal Legislative Council under the Reformed Scheme?

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER replied to Question No. XI (1) as follows:—

XI—(1) "The answer is in the negative."

The Hon'ble MR. STEVENSON-MOORE replied to Question No. XI (2) as follows:—

XI.—(2) "The principle which governs the arrangement of constituencies for the Bengal Legislative Council is not territorial but communal; its object is to secure representation of communities and interests. In the exercise of this principle the scheme provides four electoral organisations—District Boards, Municipal Commissioners, Landholders and Muhammadans. In all but the first of these the inhabitants of the Sonthal Parganas participate. It is not in contemplation to order any further arrangements to be made for the representation of the inhabitants of the district."

INTRODUCTION OF THE ELECTIVE SYSTEM IN THE LOCAL BOARDS OF BEHAR.

Hon'ble RAI SHIBA SHANKAR SAHAY BAHADUR asked:—

XII.—Will it please the Government to say whether any, and, if so, what steps have been taken by them to introduce the elective system in the Local Boards of those districts of Bihar in which the Members of such Boards have hitherto been all nominated by the Government?

The Hon'ble MR. WHEELER replied:—

"Inquiry is being made as to the desirability of introducing the elective system in the case of those Local Boards in the Patna, Tirhut and Bhagalpur Divisions, the members of which are at present nominated."

ALLEGED BRIBERY AND EXTORTION BY THE POLICE.

The Hon'ble Mr. Golam Hossain Cassim Ariff, in the absence of the Hon'ble DR. ABDULLAH-AL-MAMUN SUHRAWARDY, asked:—.

XIII.—(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to an article in the Bengalee of 21st March, headed "A case for inquiry"?

(b) Is it true that a complaint in writing, charging the police with bribery and extortion, was laid before the District Magistrate?

(c) If so, will the Government be pleased to state whether any inquiry has been held on that complaint?

(d) If so, who held the inquiry and what was his finding?

The Hon'ble MR. STEVENSON-MOORE replied:—

(a) "The answer is in the affirmative.

(b) "The letter which is printed in the article referred to above states that formal complaints charging the police with bribery and extortion were made to the District Magistrate and, further, suggests that they were of a nature which called for judicial inquiry, and that they were ignored by the district authorities. That statement and those suggestions are untrue. It is, however, true that certain informal petitions of the purport indicated were forwarded to the District Magistrate by post.

(c) "An inquiry has been held on the complaints referred to.

(d) "Since the petitions referred to were not complaints under the Criminal Procedure Code, the inquiries made were of a departmental character. They were conducted under the orders of the District Magistrate by various officers, among others the District Superintendent of Police, the Sub-divisional Officer, Kishanganj, and the Deputy Superintendent of Police, Kishanganj. On the reports of these inquiries the District Magistrate came to the finding that the complaints were baseless and had been made in the interests of certain suspected receivers of stolen property in order to obstruct the Police who were then engaged in working out a confession which was believed to implicate them, and that no further action was required."

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION IN GOVERNMENT SCHOOLS.

The Hon'ble BABU KIRTANAND SINHA asked:—

XIV.—(a) Is the Government aware that in the final Educational Code, United Provinces of Agra and Oudh, 1910 (paragraph 74), the following provisions have been made for the imparting of religious instruction to the boys in the Government schools?

"Religious instruction may be imparted in Government English schools subject to the following conditions:—

(i) The Head Master should set apart two half hours in the week for the religious instruction by a single instructor to boys whose parents wish them to receive it; provided that the parents can agree to the appointment of such an instructor and there is a class-room in the school available for the purpose.

(ii) The question of charging fees for religious instruction is left entirely to the community desiring it.

(iii) The religious instructor will keep a register of attendance open to inspection by the Head Master, and may report for punishment boys who play the truant.

(iv) The community will conduct all examinations in religious knowledge. The results may be communicated by the Head Master and may be read out by him at the annual prize-giving when any prize which the community may propose to award for proficiency in religious knowledge will be awarded by a representative of that community. Otherwise the Head Master will have no concern whatever with the progress in the religious knowledge of any scholar.

(v) No Head Master on the school establishment may be engaged as a religious instructor.

(vi) The community concerned will be responsible for making arrangements which will be agreeable to the general public.

(vii) It is optional with the parents to have the religious instruction given to the children. Any parent desirous of having a boy instructed in religion will signify his wish in writing to the Head Master, who will then give permission to the boy to attend the classes."

(b) Will the Government be pleased to state whether there are any arrangements or provisions for imparting religious education to the students in any part of this Province?

(c) If not, will the Government be pleased to state whether it intends to consider the desirability of introducing provisions, like those in force in the United Provinces, in the schools and colleges in this Province, both Government and Private institutions?

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING replied :—

(a) "Government are aware of the provisions to which the Hon'ble Member refers.

(b) Government have taken no steps to provide that religious instruction shall be imparted to students in any part of the Province. Government have not, however, issued any instructions which preclude the authorities of private schools or colleges from providing religious instruction in the institutions which they control. The authorities of unaided institutions are free to take such action in this regard as they think proper. In aided institutions religious instruction may be provided so long as it is not allowed to interfere with the ordinary school or college courses and attendance is not made compulsory in the case of pupils whose parents or guardians do not desire that they should attend.

(c) Government are prepared to consider the desirability of introducing provisions like those in force in the United Provinces, in the schools and colleges in this Province. There is not at present anything to prevent private institutions from providing for the religious instruction of their pupils."

THE RING-GAME PLAY AND HARI SINGH.

The Hon'ble RAI BAIKUNTHA NATH SEN BAHADUR asked :—

XV.—(a) Has the attention of the Government been drawn to the article in the Indian Daily News of the 11th November, 1910, headed "Outlaws in Calcutta," and the article in the same paper of the 14th November, 1910, headed "What Mr. Duke said," in connection with the Ring-game play carried on by one Hari Singh?

(b) Has it come to the notice of the Government that, in spite of the ruling of the Hon'ble High Court that the Ring-game play carried on by Hari Singh did not come within the Gambling Act, he was unsucessfully prosecuted by the Police on several occasions?

(c) Is it a fact that the Commissioner of Police does not allow the said Ring game to be played in Calcutta or its suburbs by the said Hari Singh, though others are allowed to do so without any interference by the Police?

The Hon'ble MR STEVENSON-MOORE replied :—

(a) "The answer is in the affirmative.

(b) Since the ruling of the High Court, Hari Singh has been twice prosecuted under the Gambling Act. The first prosecution was instituted under the orders, not of the Commissioner of Police, but of the District Magistrate, 24-Parganas. On the District Magistrate coming to know that the game was the same as that described in the High Court judgment, he ordered the prosecution to be withdrawn, and this was accordingly done. The second case was instituted by the Commissioner of Police, who was of opinion that the game in respect of which he ordered prosecution differed from that described in the High Court's judgment, and was consequently not covered by that judgment. The trying Magistrate, however, did not accept this view.

(c) The answer is in the negative. Proceedings were instituted against other persons, also for playing the Ring-game, as it led on several occasions to breaches of the peace and violent assaults. The case of Hari Singh was brought to the notice of Government some time ago, and no action is now being taken by the Commissioner of Police against him in respect of the Ring-game."

BENGAL BUDGET FOR 1911-12.

The Hon'ble Mr. Duke presented the Budget of the Government of Bengal for the year 1911-12.

He said :—

"Sir, I beg to present the Budget of the Government of Bengal for 1911-12.

"The Budget has been sanctioned by the Government of India with the same figures which were sent up by this Government, and it differs in no material respect from the Budget as discussed in this Council on the last occasion.

"I therefore propose to say nothing further on the subject at present I understand, Sir, that you will fix the date for its further discussion."

THE CHOTA NAGPUR ENCUMBERED ESTATES (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1911.

The Hon'ble Mr. Slacke moved for leave to introduce a Bill further to amend the Chota Nagpur Encumbered Estates Act, 1876.

He said :—

"Sir,—I move for leave to introduce a Bill to amend the Chota Nagpur Encumbered Estates Act, 1876 (VI of 1876). When a landed proprietor applies for leave to have his estate brought under the protection of that Act, some time has to elapse before final orders can be passed on his application. Hon'ble Members will recognize the necessity of having such an estate protected from sale under a decree of a Civil or Revenue Court during the period when the application for bringing the estate under the Encumbered Estates Act is being considered; since, if this were not possible, the objects of the Act could easily be frustrated.

"Up to the time when the new Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (Act V of 1908) came into force, the Commissioner of Chota Nagpur had, in virtue of a notification dated the 13th June, 1882, issued under clause 2 of section 327 of the former Code of Civil Procedure (Act XIV of 1882), power to grant such protection in respect of sales under Civil Court decrees, pending the passing of final orders on the landlord's application to have his property brought under the Encumbered Estates Act.

"The passing of the new Code of Civil Procedure rendered that notification invalid, and no provision exists in the new Code under which a similar notification could be issued.

"Legislation is therefore necessary to restore to the Commissioner the powers he had in this respect prior to the passing of the new Code of Civil Procedure.

"As regards decrees of Revenue Courts, the Commissioner has already, under section 206 of the Chota Nagpur Tenancy Act, 1908 (Ben. Act VI of 1908), power to prohibit the sale of tenures in execution of decrees for rent, and the Bill I desire to introduce proposes to give such power of prohibition to the Commissioner for the purposes of the Encumbered Estates Act in respect of any decree of a Revenue Court against the applicant, for in Chota Nagpur, as in Orissa, cases dealing with arrears of rent are dealt with by the Revenue Courts."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. Slacke introduced the Bill and moved that it be read in Council.

The motion was put and agreed to, and the Secretary accordingly read the title of the Bill.

THE CALCUTTA IMPROVEMENT BILL, 1911.

The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas moved that the preliminary Report and the further Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to provide for the improvement and expansion of Calcutta be taken into consideration.

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari moved that the consideration of the Bill be postponed till the July session of the Council.

He said:—"Sir, I beg to move for the postponement of the consideration of the Bill till the July session of the Council, as there has not been sufficient time to consider the report of the Select Committee on the amended Bill. The Select Committee had thirty-four sittings, and, on the 4th March, the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas presented a preliminary report. This was an unusual departure, and the Hon'ble Member in charge explained that the Select Committee had introduced several important changes, and, pending determination of certain questions of taxation that had been referred to the Government of India, for which the rest of the report waited, it was considered better that the results of the labours of the Select Committee so far should be submitted to the Council and that the public should be given an opportunity of studying and criticising them. In view of the importance, complexity and extent of the Bill, as well as its far-reaching consequences, this was unquestionably a wise and proper step; but considering the diversity and importance of the changes introduced by the Select Committee, we feel that there has not been time and opportunity enough afforded for public criticism. This is no time to review the diversified, prolonged and interesting stages through which the Bill passed before introduction, to which the Hon'ble Mr. Stephenson shortly referred in introducing the Bill. But, when after the lapse of these long years, the Bill emanated seemingly full fledged, like the classic child of the Eastern fable, whose timely birth was delayed owing to the flight across of a monster bird, thirty-four days of arduous operation was necessary before it could be framed into shape. But the shape that such an operation resulted in is passed recognition. The Bill is in many important respects not the same as the one on which public criticism was invited and obtained. There have been important changes, in principle as well as in detail, in arrangement as well as in wording, and a careful study of the amended Bill discloses fresh points upon which it would be necessary and desirable to have further changes. Those who have made themselves responsible for the five hundred and forty-eight amendments on the Agenda—some of them no doubt misconceived owing to the hurry in which they had to be prepared, and others covering the same ground—have approached their work in no light or obstructive a mood or without a due sense of the serious responsibility of the situation. A pressing sense of duty has compelled them to undertake this task, and, if they had more time to consider and confer, much of the ground would be cleared and monstrosities with suspicious family resemblance would disappear. This is one of the most important Bills that have come before the expanded Council—in fact the most important that has come before it so far, or is likely to come for some time. Hurry would really be much less economical than considered deliberation, if we are to avoid repeated condemnations and disapproval at the bar of public opinion and our Law Courts, such as are constantly attendant on some of our other Acts that were passed in a hurry in spite of protest. In the matter of such condemnation it will be no help that the framers of the present Bill, as well as its amenders in the Select Committee, have worked hard to let the High Court have as little as possible to do with the administration of the law when passed. I cannot too much deprecate this trend of the amendments which forcibly illustrate the extent and importance of the changes by the Select Committee. For my present purpose, I shall not stay to inquire into the numerous changes regarding the constitution and the powers of the Board of Trustees and the Tribunal that is to control the acquisition and the valuation under the Act and the procedure, though they are sufficiently far reaching and important to have called for and caused a long pause. The deletion of the appeal sections, modified and circumscribed as they were in the original Bill, would be about sufficient in aid of my present motion. The long-standing and long cherished statutory right of appeal to the High Court was taken away on the model of the Bombay panic measure which had to be legalised years later by a Validating Act. This validation was necessary in consequence of a case in the Bombay High Court years after the passing of the Bombay Act, but years also before the final publication of the Bill before us. In that case Sir Lawrence Jenkins, then at the head of the Bombay High Court, expressed a doubt as to whether the Provincial Legislature could give a modified right of appeal to the High Court from a newly-created institution—the Tribunal—which was at once more than, yet less than, a Court. With great respect for the authority from which it emanated, I have more than doubts whether such a pronouncement in that case, which was for an injunction against possession of certain lands being taken, would be viewed as anything more than an obiter—an obiter no doubt that the Hon'ble Mr. Erle Richards accepted and gave effect to in the shape of the Validating Act. But both the obiter and the Validating Act were before the framers of the Bill, and, with full notice thereof, they published the Bill (with the modified appeal sections that are now condemned and deleted) on which basis public criticism was invited and obtained. But that is not all. These proposals for modified appeal came up for opinion before the High Court, which has got back Sir Lawrence for its head, and His Lordship and colleagues could not very well be supposed to be oblivious of his own pronouncement. And yet the High Court not only does not object to the retention of the modified rights of appeal allowed by the original Bill, but makes other recommendations connected with appeals, namely, that an appeal above Rs. 5,000 should be allowed subject to the limitations of section 100 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (Act V of 1908), and that where the President of the Tribunal refuses to grant the necessary certificate for basing an appeal, the High Court under certain circumstances may itself grant such a certificate. And when this considered opinion of the High Court came before the Select Committee, instead of providing—in view of the Bombay case to which I believe attention was drawn—that the Tribunal shall be a court within the meaning of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894 (I of 1894), and merely shall not be deemed to be so, and instead of doing away with the objections for modification of section 54 of the Land Acquisition Act, the Select Committee cuts the Gordian knot by making the award of the Tribunal final, as if the Tribunal is an arbitration court, though the claimant is no willing party to such arbitration, and it merely makes section 54 of the Land Acquisition Act, which is the Appeal section, wholly inapplicable to the Improvement Act. This, I say, is revolutionising and not changing the Bill, and what has taken the Select Committee thus much labour to achieve cannot possibly be assimilated and criticised by the lay public, unaccustomed to such measures and methods. Putting it at the lowest, the whole situation is more than doubtful, upon which careful and considered legal opinion is necessary, for what the local Legislature cannot give in a modified form it ought not lightly to take away even if it can.

"We are incidentally promised the security of some sort of an appeal in a casual remark in the report of the Select Committee—the likely gift of the Imperial Government; we do not know what view the Imperial Government, which is finding so much of the wherewithal, or the Imperial Legislature will be inclined to take of the situation. But we legislating here have a right to know as to how the appeal provisions are going to ultimately shape themselves in order to judge and decide as to how the attendant and incidental sections should be framed and worked. This Council would probably take one view of things if there is an appeal and another if there is none. Contingent legislation like that suggested would be alike objectionable and undesirable.

"For these and many more reasons that could be multiplied, I beg to suggest a short postponement. None in this room or out of it can be more anxious for speedy improvement of the plague spots of Calcutta than myself. In connection with the delay in proceeding with the measure of Improvement, I have often drawn the attention of this Council to the untoward results of hanging it up, for we live and suffer right in the midst of neighbourhoods which all foul epidemics, modern and ancient, visit first, infest the longest and leave the last, and in which even the pettiest of local improvements, after being solemnly passed and notified, were stayed because of the approaching Improvement scheme. Anxious as we are for expedition, we must see that the scheme proceeds on just working lines, to secure which I firmly believe more mature consideration of the amended Bill is necessary.

"I repudiate with all the emphasis that I can command the idea that the amendments of which notice has been given are intended to wreck the Bill in class interest or to overawe the Government. It is a foul calumny upon Your Honour's Councillors which they have never done anything to deserve, and also Your Honour's Government and Secretariat which are strong and resourceful enough to be able to deal with double as many amendments in half the time if there be need. But, not only is there no such need, but there is no justification for hurry under the circumstances. I, therefore, expectantly appeal for an opportunity for harmonising this motley of many shades and shreds into suitable texture and tint that will stand the test of time. We are not legislating for a period or a generation, but for many such, that will be saddled and burdened more than we know or they will be able to afford, if sufficient and scrupulous care be not now bestowed."

The Hon'ble THE PRESIDENT said :—

"The motion of which the Hon'ble Member gave notice several days ago has received the careful consideration of Government, and the conclusion which my colleagues and myself have arrived at is that it is one which we ought to accept.

"Whether such a postponement is really required on the merits is, perhaps, open to doubt; for though the alterations introduced in the original Bill by the Select Committee are certainly somewhat numerous, they are not really difficult of comprehension; and one would have thought that any person who had attentively studied the Bill as first introduced would not experience much difficulty in mastering them, within the period of approximately one month that has elapsed since the Committee's first report was published.

"We have, however, been influenced by the fact that a strong body of public opinion undoubtedly exists which asks for further time for consideration of the Bill. In large measure this, no doubt, emanates from the land-owning classes, who are apprehensive that their interests will be adversely affected by the measure. I am not prepared to affirm, however, that the feeling is confined to these classes only. This morning I received a memorial signed by four important public bodies in Calcutta, of which only one could be regarded as being specially representative of the land-owning classes—the British Indian Association. In any case, the extent of public feeling which asks for an adjournment is of such a character that it would not be right to ignore it or to attempt to override it.

"We have, therefore, decided to accept the Hon'ble Member's motion and to agree to the consideration of the Bill being adjourned till the rains session of Council. This course is not without its drawbacks, to which we are alive. It may be hoped that in the interval that will now be allowed to elapse the somewhat exaggerated apprehensions which now seem to be entertained in some quarters will have had time to die down; and that when the Bill eventually comes up for discussion, all parties will be prepared to approach it in a calm and reasonable spirit, with a full appreciation of the far-reaching benefits which, we hope, it will confer on the people of Calcutta."

The motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI said:—

"If it is permissible, Sir, on behalf of the community, I desire to convey to Your Honour the most heartfelt gratitude of the community for your considerate action. We do not care what happens to the Bill so long as it is properly considered."

THE PRESIDENT said:—

"I am obliged to the Hon'ble Member for his expression of acknowledgment of what the Government has done. I propose that the discussion of the Budget be held on Wednesday next, if that is convenient to Hon'ble Members. We will now take up the discussion of the Resolution of which the Hon'ble Mr. Saiyid Wasi Ahmed has given notice, and to which the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Sankar Sahay, Bahadur, proposes to move an amendment. A time-limit of one hour has been fixed for the discussion of this Resolution, and I would remind Hon'ble Members that, under rule 12 of the rules for the discussion of matters of general public interest, no speech shall exceed 15 minutes in duration."

RESOLUTION UNDER THE RULES FOR THE DISCUSSION OF MATTERS OF GENERAL PUBLIC INTEREST.

Under rule 23 of the rules for the discussion of matters of general public interest, the President assigned a time-limit of one hour for the discussion of the Resolution and amendment standing in the names of the Hon'ble Mr. Saiyid Wasi Ahmad and the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur.

The Hon'ble Mr. Saiyid Wasi Ahmad then moved the following Resolution standing in his name:—

This Council recommends to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council that it is desirable, in the interests of the administration of criminal justice in the Sonthal Parganas, that the attention of Magistrates exercising jurisdiction within that district should be drawn to section 340 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, so that, when an accused person wishes to be defended by a pleader, he should, as a matter of right, be allowed to be so defended.

He said:—

"Your Honour,—The resolution that I have the honour to move refers to a district which, if I mistake not, is not much widely talked of and is very little known to the outside public. I would, therefore, very shortly, place before Your Honour and the Council its extent and constitution. The Sonthal Parganas is a large and important district in the Bhagalpur Division, and has five subdivisions besides the Sadar or Dumka Subdivision, which is the headquarters of the district, viz., (1) Deoghar, (2) Rajmahal, (3) Godda, (4) Pakaur and (5) Jamtara. The head of the district is styled 'Deputy Commissioner,' and the district is commonly known as a non-regulation district. It is administered by special enactments and regulations known as the Sonthal Parganas Regulations. The High Court of Judicature at Fort William having little or no jurisdiction over the district, except in cases which I shall allude to subsequently in my speech, the Divisional Commissioner exercises the functions of the High Court. There is one peculiar anomaly which I would like to mention here, i.e., that the Deputy Commissioner is both a District Magistrate and a District Judge, and a Sessions Judge to boot, in certain matters, namely, for the purpose of hearing criminal appeals and motions; whereas there is a separate Sessions Judge for trying Sessions cases. As at present arranged, the District and Sessions Judge of Birbhum is also the Sessions Judge of the Sonthal Parganas only for holding Sessions at Dumka, the headquarters of the district. Criminal motions and appeals against orders passed by all classes of Magistrates are therefore heard by the Deputy Commissioner in his capacity both as a District Magistrate and a Sessions Judge. The Subordinate Magistrates in the Sonthal Parganas also exercise jurisdiction both in civil and criminal matters, the Subdivisional Officers exercising the functions of Subordinate Judges.

"The Commissioner of the Division exercises the functions of the High Court so far as the district is concerned, except in reference to proceedings against European British subjects or persons jointly charged with European British subjects, and except in reference to proceedings against other persons so far as sections 374 and 379 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (Act V of 1898) are concerned, in the case of the submission of a sentence of death for confirmation, of the postponement and commutation of a sentence of death passed on a pregnant woman (section 382, Code of Criminal Procedure), of appeal from, or a revision of sentence of death (Chapters XXXI and XXXII, Code of Criminal Procedure) and of an appeal from an original or appellate order of acquittal (section 417, Code of Criminal Procedure). He also exercises the functions of the High Court in civil matters where the valuation of the suit does not exceed one thousand rupees.

"Now, the reason that led me to bring forward this motion before Your Honour and the Council is the present unsatisfactory and undesirable manner in which the Magistrates in the Sonthal Parganas deal with applications presented on behalf of accused persons to be allowed to be defended by pleaders. Section 340 of the Code of Criminal Procedure lays down that 'every person accused before any Criminal Court may of right be defended by a pleader.' 'Pleader,' again, has been defined by section 4, clause (r) of the same Code, and, with reference to any proceedings in any Court the term means 'a pleader authorized under any law for the time being in force to practise in such Court, and includes (1) an advocate, a vakil and an attorney of a High Court so authorised and (2) any mukhtar or other person appointed with the permission of the Court to act in such proceeding.' 'The law for the time being in force' as mentioned in the above definition is the Legal Practitioners Act, 1879 (XVIII of 1879), as amended by Acts IX of 1884, XI of 1896, and I of 1908. This Legal Practitioners Act has unfortunately not been extended to the Sonthal Parganas, and therefore a pleader as defined in the Code of Criminal Procedure has no legal status in the district. He cannot under the circumstances appear before any Criminal Court in the district, unless he is specially permitted to do so, and an accused cannot as of right engage him to get himself defended.

"Under Regulations III of 1872 and II of 1886, and by subsequent notifications thereunder (vide Bengal Government letter No. 5581J., dated 13th December, 1895), the entire provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure are in force in the district, subject to certain modifications enumerated in Chapter II of Regulation V of 1893, by one of which the jurisdiction of the High Court is restricted to certain proceedings, which I have already stated in the earlier part of my speech. Primâ facie, therefore, it would appear that section 340 of the Code of Criminal Procedure has got the same significance in the Sonthal Parganas as in Regulation districts. But, Sir, in practice we find it otherwise.

"The procedure adopted in the case of an accused person is that if he wishes to be defended by a pleader, he has to apply to the Magistrate to be so defended, and it rests with the Magistrate to allow or disallow the application. If the application is disallowed, the accused has two alternatives—either to go undefended or to secure a copy of the Magistrate's order, come to Bhagalpur, engage a pleader, and through him move the Commissioner against such order. I may mention here that an accused coming up to the Commissioner for such redress is seldom disappointed, and in almost all cases the Commissioner upsets such orders of the Magistrate. But Your Honour will agree with me that the procedure is unnecessarily inconvenient, harassing and expensive. And often it so happens that, by the time an accused secures an order from the Commissioner and engages a pleader to defend himself, half the case is finished. The ground on which such a procedure is adopted has already been stated by me before, viz., that the Legal Practitioners Act is not in force in the Sonthal Parganas. But though the Legal Practitioners Act is not in force, we find that by virtue of some law or procedure, a pleader is entitled to practise in criminal cases in which European British subjects are concerned as accused and defend them. This, I find, was decided so far back as 1883 by a Resolution of the Government of Bengal, Judicial Department, which is as follows:—

'Read a petition, dated the 5th July, 1883, from Babu Apurbha Krishen Pal, a pleader, in which he appeals against the orders of the Deputy Commissioner, Sonthal Parganas, which have been upheld on appeal by the Commissioner of Bhagalpur, deciding that he, the petitioner, is only entitled in the district of the Sonthal Parganas, to practise (1) in criminal cases in which European British subjects are concerned as accused, and (2) in Civil and Revenue cases in which the subject-matter is over Rs. 1,000.

'The petitioner prays that he may be allowed to practise ordinarily as a pleader in the district of the Sonthal Parganas without any restriction whatever.

'Read also a letter, No. 160J., dated the 18th September, 1883, from the Commissioner of Bhagalpur, and enclosure, reporting on the above petition.

'ORDER.—Ordered that the petitioner be informed that the Lieutenant-Governor supports the views of the Commissioner, both on the grounds of public policy, in a district like the Sonthal Parganas, and upon the wording of the present Code in force there. Mr. Rivers Thomson, therefore, declines to interfere in the matter.'

"This procedure restricts the employment of licensed lawyers to defend accused persons other than European British subjects, and virtually limits the operation of section 340 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. I do not for a moment contend that this procedure is illegal, but to my mind it is unfair, unjust and inequitable, and unnecessarily emphasises a distinction, and the sooner it is effaced the better for the good government of the country. In spite of the fact that the Legal Practitioners Act is not in vogue in the district, there is nothing illegal if the Magistrates there were to use section 340, Code of Criminal Procedure, in the same sense in which it is done in the Regulation districts, by allowing licensed lawyers to defend accused persons if they so desire, and thus remove all causes of hardship and inconvenience.

"I would not like to tax the patience of Your Honour and this Council by quoting instances, and the number is legion, in which there have been failures of justice on account of the accused not being allowed to be defended by a pleader, and of those in which people have gone up to the Commissioner for redress. I may, however, content myself with giving one or two instances. The other day, Your Honour, there was a case before Mr. Streatfeild, our late Commissioner, which came up to him on revision. In this case the accused, who was a son of a Panda of Deoghar, applied for permission to engage a pleader to defend himself. The permission was refused by Mr. Sunder, the Subdivisional Officer, and he was tried without getting any legal help. In the course of the trial the Subdivisional Officer admitted evidence as to the bad character of the accused, though such evidence in this case was absolutely irrelevant and inadmissible under the provisions of section 54 of the Evidence Act. The accused was convicted, and evidence which should not have been recorded at all was used against him. I refer to this case not as a typical instance, but as one that comes uppermost in my mind as being of recent occurrence. To my mind it is but natural that Magistrates exercising such plenary powers, as they do in the Sonthal Parganas, stand fully in need of the assistance of lawyers in trying cases; for we sometimes find that they display too fine a sense of appreciation of law and rulings in their judgment. Only in December last, in a case tried by a Deputy Magistrate of Dumka under section 209 of the Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), we find that in the judgment the Deputy Magistrate says of a ruling reported in 12 W. R. that, though it is a case bearing on the point before him, yet it was an old case and might have been over-ruled, and it is thus that he gives a go-by to a decision of their Lordships the Judges of the Calcutta High Court. Strangely enough, when the matter came up on appeal before the Deputy Commissioner, that officer in his judgment tried to differentiate the ruling in 12 W. R. from the case before him, but all the same supported the observation of the Deputy Magistrate that it might have been over-ruled, by giving an example from his personal experience to the effect that, in another case before him, one pleader appearing for one party quoted a ruling which the pleader appearing for the other side pointed out had been over-ruled in a subsequent case. Surely Magistrates who show such scanty respect to decisions of the High Court can hardly be expected to adhere strictly to law and procedure when there is no lawyer to draw their attention to them.

"I have no desire, as I stated before, to convince Your Honour and this Council by referring to a number of cases that have come within my experience during the last 14 years of my practice at Bhagalpur. I feel convinced that for a proposal like the one I have before this Council, it is not at all necessary for me to advance many arguments for its acceptance.

"Your Honour, the Sonthalis are fully alive to the concessions given them by the first proviso in section 2 of Act XXXVII of 1885 as amended by Act X of 1857 and Regulation No. V of 1893 in which it is laid down:—

> 'All civil suits in which the matter in dispute shall exceed the value of one thousand rupees shall be tried and determined according to the general Laws and Regulations in the same manner as if this Act had not been passed.'

"And so it comes to this, that a man in the Sonthal Parganas can by right prosecute or defend his rights and title in Civil Courts through a pleader if the value of his suit exceed Rs. 1,000, but he cannot as of right get himself so defended if he is an accused in a criminal case, regardless of the charge or charges against him. Evidently, property in the Sonthal Parganas is more valuable than life and liberty.

"Your Honour my resolution suggests and recommends that this state of affairs in the Sonthal Parganas should no longer be allowed to exist, and that early steps should be taken to remedy a long-felt grievance of the inhabitants of this important district. Time has now come, and the Sonthal Parganas has sufficiently advanced, not to allow even one man there to feel that justice is not done to him in respect of his life and liberty."

The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur moved that the foregoing Resolution be considered in the following form :—

This Council recommends to the Lieutenant-Governor in Council that it is desirable, in the interest of criminal justice in the Sonthal Parganas, that when an accused person, whether he be a European British Subject or not, wishes to be defended by an Advocate, Vakil or Attorney enrolled by a High Court, or by a pleader authorised under the Legal Practitioners Act, 1879, by the Calcutta High Court to practise in the Courts subordinate to it, he should, as a matter of right, be allowed to be so defended.

He said :—

"Sir, the district of the Sonthal Parganas having been removed from the operation of the general laws and regulations by Act XXXVII of 1855 is governed under clause 2 of the said Act by special officers appointed by, and subject to, the direction and control of Your Honour. No general law or regulation passed by any authority howsoever high can have force in this district unless it is specially extended thereto by Your Honour. There is no appeal, no reference to any higher authority in any case whatsoever. In other words, Your Honour is the sole, highest and final authority, so far as the administration of this district is concerned. Such being the case, the people of this district naturally claim at Your Honour's hands more special considerations than the inhabitants of any other part of the Province under your charge.

"Unfortunately, Sir, the people of this district are suffering from many disadvantages and have many real grievances. One of them, with which we are concerned to-day, is that accused persons, who are Indians, are, in some cases at least, denied the right of being defended by professional lawyers—a right, Sir, which is never denied, I believe, to any other subject of the Crown, except perhaps under very extraordinary circumstances.

"Sir, the position in this district is that, whereas in proceedings under the Code of Criminal Procedure against European British subjects, the accused person can of right be defended by professional lawyers, such as advocates, vakils, attorneys of the Calcutta High Court and pleaders authorised to practise in the courts subordinate to it, the Indian British subjects have no such right under the rules in force there.

"The reason for this anomaly is that, where Europeans are concerned as accused persons, the final appeal lies to the Calcutta High Court, and the courts of the Sonthal Parganas with regard to such cases are subordinate to that Court. Therefore by virtue of the Legal Practitioners Act, which is in force in all courts subordinate to the High Court, the professional lawyers, such as I have enumerated above, have a right to appear on behalf of an accused person who engages them.

"But in those cases where the accused persons are Indians, except with regard to the cases committed to the Sessions, the final appeal lies to the Commissioner of the Bhagalpur Division who exercises all the powers of the High Court referred to in the Code of Criminal Procedure. The Calcutta High Court, not having jurisdiction, the Legal Practitioners Act is not applicable, and there is no provision under which the Commissioner of the Bhagalpur Division, like the Calcutta High Court, can enrol legal practitioners to practise in his courts and in the courts subordinate to him. The result is that in this district, while professional lawyers have a right to appear on behalf of an European accused person, they have no such right where Indians are concerned, except on obtaining special permission given in each case by the court under section 4, clause (r), sub clause (2) of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Under the law this permission has to be given by the court which hears the case. In practice, however, I understand this permission is given or refused by the Sub-divisional Officer, which is technically illegal. But this is a minor matter. The main point is that under the rules in force there, the permission in each and every case is necessary before a legal practitioner can appear on behalf of an Indian accused person. This permission is sometimes refused. The refusal of such permission causes considerable annoyance, harassment and expense to the party, and this has been amply and abundantly dealt with by my Hon'ble friend. But what I most respectfully, though emphatically, beg to submit is that, apart from the inconvenience, annoyance and expense to the party, as a question of principle, the engagement of a professional man depending on the sweet will of the presiding officer of a muffassil court is objectionable on other grounds. It has a demoralising effect both on the presiding officer and on the legal practitioner appearing before him on his sufferance. It is neither fair to the presiding officer nor to the professional man concerned. It is unfair to the presiding officer, in that it gives rise to most unfavourable criticism when permission is refused. It is unfair to the legal practitioner, in that insinuations may be made that he cannot fearlessly and faithfully discharge his duties to his clients—a thing so necessary in a legal practitioner, when his very introduction into the case is due to the favour of the presiding officer and subject to his sanction. The sooner this practice, therefore, is done away with, the better for all parties concerned.

"Even the Hon'ble Judges of the High Court do not exercise the right of sanctioning the engagement of a legal practitioner in each case, and of giving preference to one particular practitioner over another. They frame rules for enrolment, and any legal practitioner satisfying the requirements of those rules is enrolled and has a right to appear in every case in which he may be engaged, without any special sanction of the Hon'ble Judges. In Regulation districts, strictly speaking, that class of legal practitioners known as mukhtars cannot appear without special orders of the court, but, as a matter of practice, such sanction is presumed to be given in all cases without exception and they do not depend on the sanction of the presiding officer for their engagement.

"Sir, the aim and object of the resolution moved by my hon'ble friend is that, where an Indian accused person wishes to be defended by a professional man, he should, as a matter of right, be allowed to be so defended, and that the choice of his lawyer may not in any way directly or indirectly be influenced by the presiding officer of the Court, and that there is no reason why an Indian British subject of this district should be denied the privilege which is allowed to every British subject, European or Indian, under Your Honour's Government.

"To this extent, I fully and cordially support the object which my Hon'ble friend has in view. I beg, however, to point out that the resolution of my Hon'ble friend is vague and defective and, if accepted, will not go far enough to attain his end.

"In the first place, I do not think there is any meaning in drawing the attention of the Magistrates in the Sonthal Parganas to section 340 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, as the resolution proposes to do. The wording of the resolution clearly leads one to think that such Magistrates have been acting contrary to section 340, and that by drawing their attention to it, our object will be attained. My Hon'ble friend has himself pointed out that the action of these Magistrates is not illegal. If so, what is the object in drawing their attention to this section? The action of the Magistrates is, strictly speaking, not illegal. Their answer is—"You have no doubt a right to be defended by a 'pleader.' But, properly speaking, we have no 'pleaders' in this district for, as we are not subordinate to the Calcutta High Court, we refuse to recognize any pleader licensed by that authority, and there is no rule under which professional men can be licensed by any authority in the Sonthal Parganas like the Calcutta High Court. Therefore, though you have a right to be defended by a 'pleador' there being no 'pleader' here you must go undefended." The fact is that the rules are defective, and our complaint is not so much with regard to the operation of the rules as with regard to the rules themselves, which lead to most unjust and unsatisfactory results and which have to be set right.

"The next defect in the resolution of my Hon'ble friend is that he has not defined the word 'pleader' in the resolution. He does not say what he means by the word 'pleader.' If the word 'pleader' therein has the same meaning attached to it, as in the Code of Criminal Procedure, and as interpreted by the Magistrates, then we do not advance the cause of these accused persons a bit, and the object of the resolution will be frustrated. I have, therefore, in my amendment made the matter clear. If my amendment is accepted, the Indian accused persons in the Sonthal Parganas will have the right to be defended by exactly the same class of professional lawyers as the accused persons in other parts of the Province and as the European accused persons in the Sonthal Parganas are defended. I venture to think that there is no justification in treating them in a different way. Therefore, Sir, on behalf of the Indian accused persons of this district of the Sonthal Parganas—Sonthals and Dikus (i.e., not Sonthals) alike, I most earnestly appeal to Your Honour for redress, and I appeal to my hon'ble colleagues of this Council, both official and non-official, to join me in this appeal to Your Honour, and I feel, Sir, that I do not appeal in vain.

The Hon'ble MR. BOMPAS said :—

"Sir, I have been asked, as a former Deputy Commissioner of the Sonthal Parganas, and one who is therefore acquainted with the local circumstances of that district, to explain to the Council what is the actual practice prevailing there in regard to the employment of pleaders in criminal cases and the circumstances which have led to that practice being adopted.

"I would begin by saying that I am glad that the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Sankar Sahay Bahadur has moved his amendment, because I must take strong exception to the terms of the original motion. That motion runs to the effect that the attention of magistrates in the Sonthal Parganas should be drawn to section 340 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. The magistrates in that district exercise jurisdiction in courts established by law and are drawn from the same services as magistrates who exercise jurisdiction in other districts. They have probably been transferred from courts outside that district to the courts within it. I myself, before I was Deputy Commissioner of the Sonthal Parganas, was for a year District and Sessions Judge of Birbhum. In both capacities, I exercised criminal appellate powers. I think that the Hon'ble Member would scarcely consider it becoming to move that the attention of the Sessions Judge of Birbhum should be drawn to the Code of Criminal Procedure and I fail to see why it should be more fitting to do so in the case of an officer of equal rank in the Sonthal Parganas. But, in fact, in his speech he has taken the sting out of any thing that might be implied in his motion, by the admission that the procedure followed in the Sonthal Parganas is strictly legal in view of the fact that the Legal Practitioners Act is not in force in that district. That is the real gist of the question, and that is the difficulty which is met by the amendment of the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Sankar Sahay Bahadur.

"The administration of the Sonthal Parganas is different from that of the rest of Bengal, and the origin of that difference lies in the history of the district. The district was formerly a tract of jungly land lying between Bhagalpur and Birbhum. During the first half of the 19th century that jungle was rapidly cleared and occupied, mainly by Sonthals. The whole of the northern portion of that tract was administered from Bhagalpur. The ordinary courts exercised jurisdiction and the ordinary laws and regulations were in force. As is too often the case in backward districts and among a backward people, those laws and regulations were abused, the procedure of the courts was abused, and the result was a feeling of great discontent among the aboriginal inhabitants. Rapacious underlings of Government, avaricious mahajans and oppressive landlords combined to oppress the people. The result was that, in June 1855, a body of 10,000 Sonthals assembled in the Barhait valley in the Damin-i-Koh and rose in rebellion. They declared war against all mahajans, zamindars and rich Bengalis. They defeated the Hill Rangers who marched from Bhagalpur to deal with them, and they proceeded to loot and murder. It was not till the end of the year that 8,000 regular troops succeeded in suppressing the rebellion. As a result of the rising and of the discontent which led to it, the administration of the district was reformed. The tract which now form Sonthal Parganas were taken over from the districts of Bhagalpur and Birbhum, and formed into a separate district and removed from the jurisdiction of the ordinary law courts. The ordinary regulations and laws ceased to have effect, and a paternal system of Government was introduced, under which it was desired that the people and the hakims should come into personal touch, and justice should be administered in a paternal way without the intervention of legal practitioners. The system worked well for several years. In 1863, a legal ruling was obtained to the effect that the Regulation barring the operation of the ordinary law, could only have a retrospective effect. Laws passed after 1855 were therefore held to be in force, among others the Rent Law and the Code of Civil Procedure. The enforcement of the ordinary laws in regard to rent and debt led to gross evils. They were followed by discontent, and in 1871 a further rising of the Sonthals was feared. They began to assemble in numbers, and the Bengali inhabitants of the district prepared to fly. Again a reform of the administration had to take place. Regulation III of 1872 was passed. The operation of the ordinary law was again barred, and, among other things, the right of practising within the district which had begun to be exercised again was withdrawn from legal practitioners. From that time to this, with certain modifications, that system has been observed. Such is the origin of the peculiar administration of the Sonthal Parganas.

"The present position as regards the employment of pleaders in criminal cases is as follows. As we have already had explained to us, the pleader used in the ordinary sense, a pleader enrolled in one of the courts subordinate to the High Court of Calcutta and authorised to practise under the Legal Practitioners Act, has no legal existence in the Sonthal Parganas. He has as little or as much right to practise as a pleader there as a pleader enrolled in the Bombay or in the Madras High Court. There is no law in force there which gives a legal status to any similar class of legal practitioners. Whenever any one, therefore, is permitted to appear in a criminal case, he appears as a person specially authorized under the second branch of the definition contained in clause 4(r) of the Code of Criminal Procedure. In actual practice, in cases in which the Crown prosecutes in criminal cases, in which the Court Inspector appears on behalf of the Crown, it is obviously fair that the accused should have legal assistance, and in such cases an application on behalf of a legal practitioner to represent the accused is never refused. I say never, because that is the practice. I am not prepared to say that no individual magistrate in a moment of aberration or unwisdom has ever refused such permission. The practice of the district is that, in cases in which the Crown prosecutes, no obstacle is put in the way of the accused being represented. In complaint cases, and in criminal cases between parties of less importance, where the complainant bears the cost of the prosecution, a discretion is exercised. Very often such cases are really civil disputes. Very often they are trivial disputes between two villagers, which can best be decided by a magistrate acquainted with the people, who calls the parties before him, hears them in the presence of their fellow villagers, and generally has small difficulty in finding out exactly what has happened. It is not always to the advantage of the administration of justice that pleaders should be engaged in such cases. The question of how far it is advisable that pleaders should be engaged in all cases may be approached from two sides—from the point of view of the potential pleader and from the point of view of the potential criminal or, rather, of the potential litigant. When I was in the Sonthal Parganas, gentlemen frequently came to me and asked for permission to practise in the district as pleaders, they pointed out that they were unable to make a living in the district in which they were at the moment and that the Sonthal Parganas appeared to present a virgin field for their abilities and the prospect of a handsome income. That no doubt was perfectly justifiable from their point of view, but it does not follow that it was in the public interest that these gentlemen should earn a livelihood at the expense of the people of the Sonthal Parganas. To regard law courts as established for the purpose of maintaining pleaders in comfort is to transpose cause and effect. From my own experience, there are plentiful arguments to be found to show that the people are not always so anxious to secure the expensive service of legal practitioners as perhaps the latter themselves would think. In civil appeals where points of law were involved, I have frequently urged the parties to engage legal practitioners in order that I might be saved considerable trouble, and, in two cases out of three, they preferred to leave the matter to the unaided decision of the Deputy Commissioner. Any system may be abused. The system under which the conduct of cases is left to the sole discretion of legal practitioners may also perhaps be abused, but there are many independent authorities, such as missionaries and European zamindars residing in the Sonthal Parganas, who bear testimony to the general satisfactory working of the law courts in the district.

"We hear much now-a-days of a movement in favour of discouraging excessive and ruinous litigation. At every conference people are urged to return to the ancient system of having their disputes settled by the old village panchayats. The object of the Sonthal Parganas system is to attain many of the advantages of the old panchayat system. There will be no cheap and speedy justice at the hands of a panchayat if lawyers are paid Rs. 100 or Rs. 1,000 a day to argue the cases.

"Whatever changes may be made in the future the system cannot be said to be the outcome of perversity or of prejudice against any class of the popuation, but it is the result of a bonâ fide effort made by experienced administrators to bring cheap and speedy justice to the door of the cultivating classes."

The HON'BLE MAULVI FAKHR-UD-DIN said:—

"Sir, the Resolution and the amendment which have been ably moved and elaborately discussed by the Hon'ble Movers of the original resolution and the amendment do not require any further elucidation, and are such as should be accepted by Your Honour and this Council without any support.

"However, in order to keep up the formality, it is highly desirable to offer my hearty support, though I am afraid I may not be able to add anything to what has already been said by the Hon'ble Movers of the original motion or the amendment.

"I may, however, seek the indulgence of Your Honour's permission to submit one thing, viz., that in pleading for the extension of the application of the provisions of the Legal Practitioners' Act to the court of justice in the Sonthal Parganas, I am not at all actuated by a feeling akin to a professional leaning which, at times, any member of the profession may be unconsciously or even consciously led to entertain, but purely by a sense of humane consideration for all classes of His Imperial Majesty's subjects whether residing in the hearts of the City of Palaces or in thick jungles and mountain passes within this vast Peninsula.

"Whatever may be the misconceived views and notions about the usefulness of the existing Bar in India, i.e., when you look upon it from a particular standpoint of a certain class of Indian politicians and administrators, I can safely assert that with all its shortcomings, assumed or otherwise, through the agency of our profession many an innocent life has been saved from awful ends.

"In short, without enlarging upon the point in connection with the subject-matter before the Council, it can be justifiably contended that, but for the unestimable blessings and advantages of this agency, the litigants in general might have been led to doubt in the fair fame of the absolutely impartial justice which we are all receiving in His Majesty's Courts of Justice in this country.

"It may well be inquired, therefore, why the poor inhabitants of the Sonthal Parganas have been virtually denied the right of availing themselves, as of right, of this agency. It is a virtual denial, for the non-application of the provisions of the Legal Practitioners' Act to the Court, or rather to the Bar there, is tantamount to that.

"The Hon'ble Mover, I think, is perfectly right in pointing out that under Regulations III of 1872 and II of 1866, and by notification contained in the Bengal Government letter No. 5581J., dated the 13th December, 1895, the entire provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure are in force in the district of the Sonthal Parganas, and the definition of the word 'pleader', as given in the Code itself, read together with section 340 of the said Code, makes it very clear that an accused has a right to be defended by a pleader in the district of the Sonthal Parganas as well. But the Legal Practitioners Act, 1879 (XVIII of 1879), which is presumably referred to in the definition of the word 'pleader' in the Code of Criminal Procedure, has not been extended to the Sonthal Parganas, and hence a pleader has got no legal status in that district, and he, as a matter of right, cannot appear in any Criminal Court in the district.

"Sir, the services of a pleader are required to help the cause of justice, and a few instances quoted by my friend the Hon'ble Mover would tend to convince Your Honour and this Council how the rulings of the Highest Tribunal have been set at naught by the Magistrates of the district in the Sonthal Parganas, and what grave injustice has been done to the accused on account of either ignorance of law and rulings or incorrect appreciations thereof by the Magistrates concerned.

"No doubt the Magistrates have been vested with discretionary power in the matter of granting permission to the accused to engage a pleader to defend him, but Your Honour has heard in how many cases such discretions have been improperly exercised. We know that, in case of improper exercise of discretion by the Magistrate, the accused has a right to go up to the Commissioner of Bhagalpur with a view to secure the permission for the engagement of a pleader after getting the order of the Magistrate set aside. This may be easy in conception, but in practice it is very difficult.

"Sir, look to the inconvenience, trouble, expense and harassment to which an accused is likely to be subjected in securing the reversal of the order of the Magistrate refusing to grant permission to the accused to engage a pleader, and, after all, Your Honour and this Council have yet to consider as to how many of them are in the position of moving the Commissioner in such matters.

"It was no doubt in the interest of public policy that the Legal Practitioners Act was not extended to the Sonthal Parganas, but the time for such a policy has gone. Are the residents of that district still so backward or such savages or uncivilised as to receive punishment without being heard? Does it look fair and equitable that in the same district European British subjects have got the privilege of getting themselves defended by pleaders, and that even Indians if tried along with European British subjects have that privilege extended to them, but that the same privilege is refused to an Indian British subject if he happens to be the only unfortunate accused. A question legitimately arises as to how it is that, when the provisions of the Legal Practitioners Act have not been extended to the Sonthal Parganas, European British subjects have a right to engage pleaders to defend them, and why the same right is refused to an Indian British subject? It is difficult to understand this anomaly; the Government may be in a position to explain the reasons for such a distinction and how and when and under what circumstances this privilege was given to the European British subject. Would it not be an act of bare justice to endeavour to remove such invidious distinctions, which only tend to emphasize the popular impression that the scale of justice is not held even between Europeans and Indians.

"As regards the public policy, a question arises, what is the underlying principle of such a policy as to pass sentence upon an accused without giving him an opportunity of proper representation of his innocence? The accused may be a brute, may be most uncivilized, but the policy of our benign Government is to do even-handed justice to each and all. The more uncultured people they are, the greater is the need of legal assistance to such people, as without such assistance it is impossible for them either to show the falsity of the charge laid against them or to prove their innocence. Sir, if justice has to be administered according to laws of the land, it is fair that attention of the Tribunal should be drawn to such laws in the light of interpretations put by different High Courts. And who is expected to do that? Can you expect such things from the accused himself? Certainly not. This can only be done by lawyers. To refuse permission to the accused to defend himself by a pleader means to refuse justice to him. It means an arbitrary order of conviction or acquittal without any reference to law, rule or procedure.

"There is another anomaly which has yet to be explained. If the property of a certain value exceeding Rs. 1,000, belonging to a person resident of the district of the Sonthal Parganas is at stake, he has a right to engage a pleader to protect his civil rights whether he is plaintiff or defendant. But if the life and liberty of the same man, however wealthy he may be, is at stake, he has no right to engage a pleader to defend himself without the permission of the Magistrate. It appears to me that the life and liberty of a person in the Sonthal Parganas, however rich and wealthy he may be, has a value equivalent to less than rupees one thousand, for otherwise it is hard to find any explanation for such an anomalous position.

"With these few words, I strongly and whole-heartedly support the motion. To me it appears that the original motion and the amendment are one and the same; the amendment has made the motion more explicit and clear. It is all the same whether the original motion or the amendment be accepted."

The Hon'ble MR. DAS said:—

"Your Honour,—It was not at all my intention to speak on this resolution, but after having heard the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas, I feel it my duty to say a few words. He has very clearly put in a very lucid speech the history of the system which now exists in the Sonthal Parganas, and no doubt anybody who studies that system would come to the conclusion that the system is one which found justification in the past history of the tract. The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas has also put before the Council two sides of the question—one is the Pleader's point of view of the question, and the other is the Administration point of view. Certainly no person—not I, at any rate—should advocate any proposal under which a number of pleaders or lawyers should be let loose on the illiterate and ignorant people of the Sonthal Parganas to fleece them. But at the same time, the resolution does not aim at letting loose the pleaders on the ignorant people, but the resolution is worded so as to leave us in no doubt as to the intention of the hon'ble mover. The resolution proposes that when an accused person wishes to be defended, he should be given an opportunity to secure the services of lawyers. The last two years' Budgets in this Council have shown that the services of lawyers are very valuable even in the Metropolis of the British Empire. I have read of a case where the Magistrate trying a case in the Sonthal Parganas came to a very curious legal conclusion. A person against whom a case was proceeding died, and his son was arraigned for his father's offences. The Magistrate held that if the son inherited his father's property, why should he not also be punished for an offence committed by the father? That was probably a very sensible view to the trying Magistrate. It is not difficult for us to conceive that some Deputy Magistrate would adopt such an interpretation of the law. I submit that the greatest benefit we enjoy under British rule is Justice, and the foundation of the British Empire rests on our appreciation of British Courts of Justice. In certain cases where justice is miscarried owing to the ignorance of the persons entrusted with the administration of justice, it is a discredit to the Administration. The question before the Council is that accused persons in the Sonthal Parganas should be given an opportunity of defending themselves by pleaders if they so wish, not to allow pleaders to fleece the ignorant people. Having that in view, I submit that the resolution ought to be accepted by the Council."

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE said :—

"Sir, I have observed that the Hon'ble mover and supporters of the resolution, although they have given a very lucid and detailed explanation of the judicial system which prevails in the Sonthal Parganas, and of the regulations which are in force, have, in fact, avoided any reference to the circumstances which have occasioned that district to be administered under a different system to the rest of the province, or any explanation of the reasons why the inhabitants labour under what they consider to be disabilities as compared with those of other districts. The reasons have been very sufficiently explained in the history of the district by the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas, who has relieved me from going particularly into the matter. Briefly, the state of the case may be summarised by saying that it was found impossible for the Sonthal aboriginal population to live under the same polity and judicial system as their more advanced neighbours, since they had neither the intelligence, education, nor any of the mental qualities necessary to defend their interests when they were called in question, and, therefore, they were being gradually expropriated from their ancestral lands and reduced to a condition of serfdom. This once produced a bloody rebellion accompanied by serious massacres and horrible atrocities which it required much display of military force to put down. Even then the lesson was only partially learnt. The nature and personnel of the administration was changed, but the legal system was not effectively changed. The Hon'ble Mr. Bompas has explained how, by degrees, the old Bengal system began to creep back, and how again after 16 years another rebellion was very narrowly averted. Gentlemen, this matter may seem to be ancient history, which has little application to the present day, since for the last 40 years the Sonthal Parganas have enjoyed peace and prosperity and have made great progress. Of course it is open to argument that in such circumstances the administration may be altered, made more progressive, and brought more into line with the rest of the province, but lessons such as we have in the history of the district are not to be lightly put aside, and it is clearly also open to us to argue that the peace and contentment of the district are very greatly due to the simple patriarchal system under which it has been administered. It perhaps would be hopeless to try to convince lawyers that there can be too much law or too many legal practitioners, but still it is a curious circumstance that in the present day, in parts of the country very different to the Sonthal Parganas, the increase of litigation and the ruin which it works are being constantly referred to. It is one of the favourite subjects of the public press, and various systems and schemes for reducing the amount of litigation, by a wider resort to private arbitration, are constantly being discussed and advocated. When that seems to be the tendency of the day, we should naturally hesitate before we take steps to promote the increase of litigation in the Sonthal Parganas. Now it may be said that the limited scope of the resolution can hardly have much effect in increasing litigation. It would, however, have some effect, and from one point of view, I may say at once, from my own point of view, the amendment of the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur is more objectionable than the original resolution, for what it really amounts to is this;—it proposes the introduction of the Legal Practitioners Act which has hitherto been excluded from the Sonthal Parganas, and even something more than that, for according to it, so far as regards criminal cases, every sort of practitioner who is authorized under the Legal Practitioners Act or enrolled in a High Court, would be able to practise in this particular district. Act XVIII of 1879. Act XVIII of 1879.

"The liberty of practice would be greater than even in the courts of the ordinary districts, for there the pleader has not only to have the authority of the High Court to practise, but has also to enroll himself in the courts of the district. The amending resolution would, in fact, open the way to the unrestricted practice of every kind of legal practitioners in the Sonthal Parganas. Now, it is of importance that the number of authorised legal practitioners there should not be increased to such an extent that they must, in order to procure a living, themselves foment litigation and stimulate its increase. At present there is a fair number of persons authorised to practise as pleaders in the Sonthal Parganas, but the numbers are watched, and they have never been allowed to reach the point where any excessive degree of competition is likely to prevail. The principal objection which I have to the resolution is that it would be difficult to admit it and at the same time to exercise any control over the number of persons practising in the courts. What actually happens in the Sonthal Parganas is, as you have been told by the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas, that in all cases conducted by the police, no obstacle is put in the way of the accused being represented, and in a great majority of complaint cases, the same is the case. An examination of the figures shows that in upwards of three-fourths of the cases in which the accused desired to be represented by pleaders, permission was granted, and generally, where it has been refused by the lower courts, the superior courts have shown extreme consideration in granting permission. To go beyond that point and insist that in all cases pleaders should be permitted, is another matter. As long as pleaders are limited, it may not be always possible for both parties to be represented, and the general principle has been that, when the parties are persons of the same class and both desire it, the privilege should be granted, but that it should not be allowed when it is to result in a man of superior position making it impossible for an aborigine to obtain justice and that is what practically must be the case if the party who is already the wealthier and the more intelligent is defended by a pleader and the opposite party is not. It would be impossible, therefore, for Government to concede that pleaders or legal practitioners of all classes should be freely admitted without check to practise in the Sonthal Parganas.

"So long as that is impossible, it is impossible to lay down that the discretion which is now vested by law in the officers of the Sonthal Parganas should be entirely done away with and that pleaders should appear without reference to them.

"Government, however, recognise that the Sonthal Parganas system is not necessarily unalterable. With the advance of civilisation and education, it may have to be modified. The conditions are not the same in all parts of the district; they are not the same in parts of Rajmahal and Deoghur as in the wilder subdivisions, but in the Damin-i-koh and in a very great part of the district they are still exceedingly primitive and the same watchfulness is as necessary now as it was 40 years ago. The length to which the Government are willing to go in the present case,—and I trust it will be recognised that it is a considerable concession,—is that what we have been told is the practice will now be made a rule or instruction binding upon the officers, namely, in all cases in which the Government are the prosecuting party the accused shall have a right to be represented by an approved pleader if he so desires; while in complaint cases, that is to say, in all cases where the task of prosecuting falls on the complainant, the accused may be defended by an approved pleader, that is by a pleader who has been approved for practice in the Sonthal Parganas, unless the Subdivisional Officer considers, for special reasons to be recorded in writing, that he should not be so allowed. It will be observed that this is a very substantial reduction of the unfettered discretion which has hitherto been allowed to the officers. If the presiding officer of the court considers that the accused should not have the advantage of appearing by pleader, the onus will now be put on him to record his reasons, instead of its being put on the party to show cause by way of appeal why the concession should be permitted. Thus far Government are prepared to go by means of executive instructions, and I think it ought to be recognised that this is as far as it is possible to go in meeting the views which have been put forward by the supporters of the resolution."

The Hon'ble Mr. Saiyid Wasi Ahmad then withdrew his resolution in favour of the amendment moved by the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur.

The PRESIDENT said :—

"Will the Hon'ble Mr. Wasi Ahmad and the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur, after hearing from the Hon'ble Mr. Duke the extent to which Government are prepared to meet the object of the resolutions which have been moved, be prepared to accept that and to regard their resolutions as withdrawn ?"

The Hon'ble MR. SAIYID WASI AHMAD said :—

"Sir, I accept the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay's amendment, but the improvement proposed by the Government does not exactly meet the case that we have put before the Council. It seems to me, Sir, that there is a notion that we want to make the Sonthal Parganas a happy hunting ground for hungry lawyers. It is unfortunate that none but lawyers in this Council have tried to move or support this resolution. It would have been better if some of the zamindars had come forward to our rescue. But, as we are always dealing with such cases, we thought that justice demanded that this resolution should be brought before Your Honour, and I think that it would be making again an invidious distinction if the proposal as stated by the Hon'ble Mr. Duke is given effect to. I am glad that the Hon'ble Mr. Bompas had something to say in connection with this resolution, but it seems to me that an accused ought to be allowed, on principle, to defend himself, if he so desires, and that no other suggestion, of any sort whatever, can be accepted by any one among us. I find that a distinction has been made between Crown cases and cases of complaints, on the suggestion of the Hon'ble Mr. Duke. In the former case, the accused would be allowed to defend himself by a pleader, but I am afraid, Sir, that when a private person who happens to be a rich man, chooses to prosecute or persecute another person, it would be unjust and unfair not to allow that person to be defended by pleaders.

The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu said :—

"Your Honour,

I beg to ask whether the Hon'ble Mover is replying to the Hon'ble Mr. Duke, or is he speaking further on his motion, as there are some other Hon'ble Members who also wish to speak."

The President said :—I regret to say that the time limit for the discussion of the resolution has expired. I am afraid there is no probability of any other Hon'ble Members being able to speak. It is only as a matter of concession that I have allowed the Hon'ble Member to go on.

The Hon'ble MR. SAIYID WASI AHMAD said :—

"I am very anxious about the time-limit. I was very anxiously looking at the clock—and although the Hon'ble Members who replied occupied half the allotted time-limit—I must express myself with a very few words more, though we are a quarter of an hour more than the expected time. I fully appreciate the amendment of my hon'ble friend that an accused person should be defended by any class of lawyers if he so desires. I am afraid, Sir, that we cannot accept the suggestion of the Hon'ble Mr. Duke, and I would certainly, in the circumstances, ask for a division on my resolution, accepting the amendment of my hon'ble friend, Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur."

The amendment being put to the vote, a division was taken, with the following result :—

Provision as to ventilation by fans in certain factories.

(3) All fencing must be constantly maintained in an efficient state while the parts required to be fenced are in motion or use, except where they are under repair or are under examination in connection with repair or are necessarily exposed for the purpose of cleaning or lubricating or for altering the gearing or arrangements of the parts of the machinery.

(4) Such provisions as may be prescribed shall be made for the protection from danger of persons employed in attending to the machinery or boilers of any factory.

Prohibition of employment of women and children where cotton-openers are at work.

20. No woman or child shall be employed in the part of a factory for pressing cotton in which a cotton-opener is at work :

Proivded that, if the feed-end of a cotton-opener is in a room separated from the delivery end by a partition extending from the floor to the roof, women and children may be employed in the room in which the feed-end is situated.

CHAPTER IV.

(c) that any class of factories not specified in Part B of Schedule II supplies the public with articles of prime necessity which must be made or supplied every day, or

(d) that in any class of factories the work performed, by the exigencies of the trade or by its nature, cannot be carried on except at stated seasons, or at times dependent on the irregular action of natural forces, the Local Government may, subject to the control of the Governor General in Council, by notification in the local official Gazette, exempt,—

The examination will be conducted, either at the College, or by an Accountant-General (including Government Examiner of Railway Accounts and Examiner of Accounts, Lower Ganges Bridge Project), in Bengal, Eastern Bengal and Assam and Burma only. The examination will be ipso facto vitiated, if it be not held (begun and completed) on the dates fixed; but the officer who will conduct the examination may make his own arrangements, in regard to the place and hour of examination, with the candidates.

Candidates will not be examined in any of the Calcutta offices.

A candidate already in permanent Government employ* may be allowed to compete in the examination, even if he is more than 25 years of age, and may be appointed to an accountantship if he passes it; but if he is not already in pensionable service, he will be eligible only for appointment to the non-pensionable establishment on State Railways.

* This term includes employment under Local Boards and foreign bodies, if such is pensionable by the British Government.

2. The candidate should apply to an Accountant-General not later than 30 days previous to the date fixed for the examination, and obtain his consent to conduct the examination, if examination at the College is not convenient. The application must bear the address of the candidate, must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 10 and the following certificates and registration form duly filled in and must be forwarded by him, not direct to the Principal, but through the Accountant-General.

Certificates may be submitted in original, or true copies attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch; but none will be returned:—

(1) Certificate of good character signed by applicant's immediate official superior, or by the instructor under whom he has been educated, or by some other superior under whom he may have been brought up or employed, or to whom he may be well known. (This certificate must have special reference to the two years immediately preceding the application.)

It will rest with the Accountant-General, to whom the candidate submits his application, to decide, on a consideration of the certificates submitted, whether the candidate should be allowed to appear for the examination, or whether his application should be rejected. The Accountant-General will then forward to the Principal for registration the names of the accepted candidates, together with their registration statements, which should be signed by the Accountant-General. The registration statements should be carefully preserved by the Principal. The names of these candidates should be entered in a statement showing their ages and their addresses, and also showing where each candidate is to be examined, whether at the College or at the office of the Accountant-General. This statement, together with the fees, should be transmitted to the Principal not later than 15 days after the dates fixed in paragraph 2 for the submission of applications of candidates.

3. Examination papers that are issued for examination need not be returned.

4. Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who has failed in an examination, and presents himself for examination on a subsequent occasion, must undergo the full examination and furnish fresh fee and certificates.

Inspector of European Schools, Bengal.

EDUCATION DEPARTMENT, BENGAL.

NOTIFICATION.

REFERENCE is invited to the syllabus of studies for standards III to VI published with Government Resolution No. 109-T.G., dated 20th April 1909.

2. As the course in Arithmetic prescribes the use of English figures throughout the main syllabus, intending authors of text-books were advised by public notification (vide Calcutta Gazette of 20th and 27th March 1910) to provide a table in the beginning of their books, giving the vernacular equivalents of the English numerals 0, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9.

3. It was explained that the provision of such a table was necessary in consideration of the possibility that the employment of English figures in the main Arithmetic syllabus, which will be applicable to all classes of schools, High, Middle and Upper Primary, might otherwise constitute a difficulty in purely vernacular schools.

4. It was at the same time pointed out that the vernacular notation should be used in the additional Subhankari syallabus to be taught in Middle Vernacular and Upper Primary schools.

5. It is not the intention to supersede the use of vernacular figures and symbols in Middle Vernacular and Upper Primary schools and there should be no difficulty in substituting, with the help of the table referred to above, the vernacular equivalents of the English figures employed in the Arithmetic text-books in purely vernacular schools.

6. English figures are only intended to be used in standards III to VI of Middle English and High schools, as the bulk of the pupils in these schools are understood to be preparing for classes I to IV of a High school in which English will be the medium of instruction, the object being to familiarise the pupils with the use of English figures from as early a stage as possible.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

PRIMARY AND MAKTAB EDUCATION.

The Hon'ble MR. SAIYID WASI AHMAD asked:—

I.—Will the Government be pleased to state the amount spent by each of the District Boards and Municipalities in the Patna, Bhagalpur, Tirhut and Chota Nagpur Divisions on Primary education during the last three years, and what percentage of the whole was spent on Maktab education?

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING replied:—

I.—"Government are not in a position to supply the comparative statistics of expenditure on maktab and other primary education asked for by the Hon'ble Member. It may be pointed out, however, that until the recent revision of the Local Self-Government Act, District Boards, although they were entitled to aid Muhammadan schools following the ordinary courses of vernacular instruction, were not entitled to aid maktabs, i.e., Koran schools."

The Hon'ble MR. SAIYID WASI AHMAD asked:—

II.—Will the Government be pleased to state—

(a) what was the maktab grant from the Provincial revenues to each of the districts of the Patna, Tirhut and Bhagalpur and Chota Nagpur Divisions during the years 1908-09, 1909-10, 1910-11 and 1911-12, and

(b) whether such grants were sufficient to meet the requirements of the maktabs following the Departmental Syllabus?

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING replied:—

II.—(a) "The particulars desired with regard to the aid granted from Provincial revenues to maktabs in each of the districts of the Patna, Tirhut, Bhagalpur and Chota Nagpur Divisions during the year 1908-09 to 1910-11 are set forth, in so far as they are at present available, in the statement which is laid on the table. The distribution of the maktab grant for the years 1911-12 has not yet been determined.

(b) Government have no definite information as to whether the grants are insufficient"

The Hon'ble MR. SAIYID WASI AHMAD asked :—

III.—(a) Do all maktabs in the Bhagalpur and Tirhut Divisions follow the Departmental Syllabus?

(b) What grants-in-aid are they allowed by Government?

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING replied :—

III.—(a) "The answer is in the negative.

(b) The rates for grants-in aid to maktabs, following the departmental syllabus, are as laid down in Mr Earle's letter of the 10th June, 1908, to which the Hon'ble Member has referred in his questions. The actual amount of the total grant-in-aid is given in the statement laid on the table."

The Hon'ble MR. SAIYID WASI AHMAD asked :—

IV.—Will the Government be pleased to call for a statement from each of the Educational Divisions of Bengal, showing the number of maktabs in each of them and the amount required for aiding them on the scale laid down in paragraph 52 of the Hon'ble Mr Earle's letter No. 246—T, of the 10th June, 1908, to the address of the Government?

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING replied :—

IV.—"Government have already in the last financial year called for statements from each of the educational divisions of Bengal showing the number of maktabs in each of them, and the amount required for aiding them on the scale to which the Hon'ble Member refers. The amount, as elicited from these reports, is Rs. 51,908 Provision has been made to the extent of Rs 45,000, and endeavour will be made to bring the provision up to the required total, if possible."

The Hon'ble MR. SAIYID WASI AHMAD asked :—

V.—Will the Government be pleased to refer to paragraph 44 of the Hon'ble Mr. Earle's letter mentioned above, and state—

(a) how far the recommendations made therein, respecting the appointment of Inspecting Maulvies, have been given effect to, and

(b) whether it is intended to give one such officer during the next financial year to each of the districts of Monghyr and Purnea?

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING replied :—

V.—(a) & (b) "Owing to the financial situation it has not been found practicable to give effect to the recommendations made on the subject of the appointment of additional Inspecting Maulvies. It is not intended to appoint an Inspecting Maulvi to each of the districts of Monghyr and Purnea during 1911-12."

The Hon'ble MR SAIYID WASI AHMAD asked :—

VI.—Will the Government be pleased to refer to paragraphs 37, 38 and 39 of the Hon'ble Mr. Earle's letter mentioned above, and state—

(a) how many applications for Government grant were received from Madrassas in the Bhagalpur Division during the year 1911-12, and

(b) how they have been disposed of?

The Hon'ble MR. CUMMING replied :—

VI.—(a) & (b) "Two Madrassas in the Bhagalpur Division, viz., the Madrassa Anjuman Hemayet Islam, Monghyr, and the Madrassa Anjuman Islamia at Kissenganj, applied for Government assistance in 1910-11. In the case of the former correspondence is still proceeding. It is proposed to aid the latter with effect from the 1st April, 1911."

THE COURT OF SMALL CAUSES, CALCUTTA.

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI asked:—

VII.—(a) Has the attention of the Government been called to complaints in the Press and outside the Press about the congested state of business in the Calcutta Court of Small Causes ?

(b) Would it please the Government to state whether and how far such complaints are well founded ?

(c) Is it a fact that such congestion affects work both in the Courts and in the offices, and that the congestion exists mostly in the 5th Court, and that there is considerable congestion in the 3rd and 4th Courts ?

(d) Would the Government be pleased to state the reasons of such congestion ?

The Hon'ble MR. CHAPMAN replied :—

VII.—(a), (b) & (c) "The Government are aware that complaints are being made about the congested state of business in the Calcutta Court of Small Causes and that there is in fact some congestion in the 3rd, 4th and 5th Courts.

(d) The congestion does not appear to be due to any actual increase in the volume of business for disposal. The Government are not prepared at present to state any opinion as to the reasons for the congestion, but it is believed that the pending file will shortly be reduced to normal proportions."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI asked:—

VIII.—(a) Has the Government received any representation or suggestion for strengthening the Ministerial Department of the Court, by the appointment of a Deputy Registrar or otherwise ?

(b) If so, when and by whom was such representation or suggestion made, and what steps have been taken for giving effect to the same ?

(c) If no steps have been taken, would the Government be pleased to state the reason of such omission, and whether it proposes to take any steps for strengthening the Ministerial Department of the Court, and, if so, when ?

The HON'BLE MR. CHAPMAN replied:—

VIII.—(a) & (b) "An application for the appointment of a Deputy Registrar was made in 1908 by the Chief Judge; the Government did not accede to the application, mainly upon financial grounds. No other representation or suggestion for strengthening the Ministerial Department of the Court has been received.

(c) Should the Judge move again for the appointment of a Deputy Registrar, the proposal will be carefully reconsidered."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI asked:—

IX.—Would the Government be pleased to consider the necessity of appointing an additional Judge for relieving the congestion in the Court?

The Hon'ble MR. CHAPMAN replied :—

IX.—"No application has been made for the appointment of an Additional Judge, and there does not appear to have been any increase in the volume of business for disposal to justify such an appointment."

The Hon'ble BABU DEBA PRASAD SARBADHIKARI asked :—

X.—Would the Government be pleased to furnish a statement showing—

(a) the income derived from the Calcutta Court of Small Causes during the last five years,

(b) the expenditure on account of the said Court during the same period, and

(c) the number of cases instituted and disposed of during the same period, and the number of cases now pending?

The Hon'ble MR. CHAPMAN replied :—

X.—"The statement asked for is placed upon the table."

THE BENGAL BUDGET FOR 1911-12.

The PRESIDENT said :—

"The next business, gentlemen, is the discussion of the Budget, and, I think, it will be convenient if the non-official Hon'ble Members will speak first and then the Members on behalf of Government will make their replies. The time-limit has been fixed at 15 minutes except in the case of the Finance Member."

The Hon'ble BABU BRAJA KISHOR PRASAD said :—

"Your Honour,—I wish to make only a few observations on the Budget and those in connection with the policy of the Government with respect to the educational needs of Bihar. When, at the final discussion of the Budget last year, most of us from Bihar pointed out the step-motherly treatment meted out to our Province in the matter of the Government grants-in-aid to our colleges and that in spite of the fact that more than one-half of the total revenues raised in the Lower Provinces is contributed by Bihar, the Hon'ble Mr. Küchler, in defending the action and attitude of the Government, took up the position that the standard of comparison between Bihar and Bengal proper should not be the areas or the populations of, or the amount of revenues raised in, the two tracts of the country, but the number of University students in the two parts of the Province. In other words, the true test of comparison, according to him, should be the demand for University education in the two parts of the Province. And, I believe, I succeeded in showing the other day how the help of this standard is invoked only when Bihar Colleges are concerned; for we find that though in Chota Nagpur the demand for University education is not even half of that in Bihar, yet, while all the private colleges in Bihar taken together get little or nothing, the Hazaribagh College gets Rs. 12,000 a year as Government grant-in-aid, even from the very year in which it was affiliated as a first-grade college. This year, when, at the preliminary discussion of the Budget, I moved a resolution requesting the Government to allot Rs. 14,000 for strengthening the tutorial staff of the Government and zilla high English schools in Bihar, and Rs. 24,000 for assisting the public high English schools at the head-quarters of the subdivisions in the districts of Bihar, the Hon'ble Director of Public Instruction met me with the reply that it would be obviously unfair to apply to the improvement of Bihar schools money which was not at the same time forthcoming to effect a general improvement in the standard of secondary education throughout the Province. We fail to understand the logic of the Director of Public Instruction. The matter is simple enough. The people of Bihar do stand in urgent need of help to their schools, while circumstances in Bengal proper do not make any such necessity for improvement in Bengal schools felt by the people. On account of the paucity of high English schools in a Bihar district, the University regulations fixing the number of students for each class operate with great hardship on the Biharis. The resources of the existing schools do not permit the opening of the required number of sections in each class, and boys are refused admission. I believe nothing of this sort is felt in Bengal proper, where a sufficient number of well equipped high English schools meet the necessities of the situation. Under such circumstances, is it fair for the Government to refuse our request to increase the number of teachers in the zilla schools of Bihar? The Hon'ble Mr. Küchler says it would be unfair to take any steps to improve the Bihar schools without at the same time taking some measures with regard to the other schools in the Province. But is it fair, Sir, to raise lots of revenues from a people and not to attend properly to their educational needs and requirements? And is it fair, Sir, to spend the revenues raised in one part of the Province, with existing crying educational needs, to the purposes of another part, whose necessities are not so great. Strange seems to us to be the idea of fairness set up by the Director of Public Instruction. And I am sure the Government does not endorse any such idea. The relation of a Government to its subject is parental, and, like good parents, it is the duty of good Governments to pay more attention to the needs and necessities of a younger and weaker community of people than to that of a stronger one which may be strong enough to stand unaided. The special facilities afforded in everything, including educational matters, to our Muhammadan brethren, clearly prove the solicitude of the Government for the improvement of backward communities. Bihar, in comparison with Bengal, seems to be similarly circumstanced, and, therefore, needs special treatment in matters of educational grants. Mr Pope, a great educationist, who was for a considerable time Inspector of Schools, Bihar Circle, and was well acquainted with its needs, strongly advocated the adoption of a separate policy for the educational affairs of Bihar. In his annual report of 1885-86 he said: 'I would specially and strongly call attention to the necessity of not including Bihar with Bengal in matters of educational policy. They need separate treatment; what suits the one will not suit the other. I ask in the interest of education in Bihar that in all conferences and committees that may sit to deal with education, education in Bihar may be duly and specially represented; also that the grant-in-aid allotment be considerably increased, in order that the Biharis may have the same advantages with their Bengalee brethren'. Another authority on Bihar educational affairs, viz., the late Dr C. R. Wilson, Principal of the Patna College, advocated a similar policy for Bihar in 1899-1900. And we have the living authority in our hon'ble colleague, the Member for the University, who very properly said the other day: 'Bihar has a special feature as regards school education; there is not a sufficient number of private schools such as one meets with in Bengal, and, therefore, some preferential treatment is necessary with regard to the schools there.'

"I, therefore, earnestly hope that the Government will be able to give this subject its serious consideration, and do the needful in the matter.

"The other point, which I had a mind to touch, is the Government grants-in-aid to our colleges. But, as on this matter, we have, at least as far as the Tirhut College is concerned, the pledge and the assurance given by the Director of Public Instruction that the matter is engaging the attention of the Government, I need not say anything about it.

"The last matter to which I want to refer is the need of a Professor of Philosophy for our Patna College. When this matter was brought up before the Council the other day by the Hon'ble Babu Bal Krishna Sahay, the Director of Public Instruction was pleased to observe that though, under the scheme initiated by Mr. Earle for strengthening the staff of the various colleges, a Professorship of Philosophy was sanctioned for the Patna College, yet on a subsequent representation made to him that Philosophy was an extremely unpopular subject, it was decided to appoint a Professor of Political Economy and Political Philosophy, and that in a matter of that kind he had to be guided by the people on the spot. Since this pronouncement of the Director of Public Instruction, a very able article on the subject containing facts and figures has appeared in the Biharee of the 31st March, 1911, under the heading 'Philosophy and Patna College'. I invite the attention of the Hon'ble Mr. Küchler to it. It appears in the light of the figures quoted therein that the theory of the people on the spot propounded by the Director of Public Instruction is altogether baseless. I cannot do better, Sir, than to quote a small paragraph from the said article, which runs thus:—

'Let us see whether there is any truth in the report so solemnly submitted by the "man on the spot" to Mr. Küchler about the unpopularity of Philosophy with the students. At the outset, we confess we are not endowed with the power of reading the hearts of the students, the ex-students, and the would-be students, as the "man on the spot" appears to be, but we shall base our conclusions on figures kindly supplied, at our special request, by the Principal of the Patna College. Taking the average of the four years from 1903-04 to 1906-07, we find that there were 59 students reading Philosophy in the B. A. classes (in each year). Even in the year 1907-08, the year preceding the disaffiliation of the Patna College in Philosophy, we find there were some 31 students of Philosophy in the 4th year class alone, and yet we are told on the authority of the "man on the spot" that Philosophy was an extremely unpopular subject.'

"Sir, we, therefore, hope that the Government will take some steps to give us a Professor of Philosophy for our Patna College."

The PRESIDENT said:—

"The Hon'ble Babu Kirtanand Sinha's speech has been circulated to all Members of Council, it may therefore be taken as read if the Hon'ble Member agrees.

The following speech was accordingly taken as read:—

"YOUR HONOUR,—The Draft Financial Statement has been supplied to the Hon'ble Members three days earlier than was done on previous years, and it cannot be said that the non-official Members did not take full advantage of the opportunity thus afforded to them. I think much good has come out of those discussions which followed the introduction of the Financial Statement, and which the moving, seconding, supporting and opposing involved. Some of my colleagues have also secured promises for their favourite projects. I think they have to rest content with that for the present, and to-day we have only to contemplate the budget as a whole and pass benedictions on the various items without in any way changing their character or strength. I hope and trust that greater weight will henceforth be attached to the discussions on the Financial Statement, and that the draft will be circulated earlier, to give greater opportunity to the Members to digest all the facts and figures and make suggestions and alterations by moving resolutions on different items. It is quite clear from the discussions of the 13th March last that, while many Members were able to secure the support of the Government on the main points of their motion, they tumbled on the question of ways and means, and the position was fully appreciated by His Honour the President, who has promised to consider in the course of the year whether it is not possible to devise some means to give greater facility to the Members for the purpose of picking out items in which reduction can possibly be made. The question is full of difficulties, yet of very great importance to the non-official Members who, after labouring hard on a subject, have to give it up because they cannot indicate the item in which the reduction can be made. I think, if fuller details are given beforehand and if fuller information is made available, the Members may be able to find out means to provide for their projects. But such as it is, the privilege of moving resolutions with a view to modify the different items of expenses in the budget is of little practical value.

"Turning now to the budget which, as I have already remarked, has come out of the ordeal in its original purity, one is surprised to find the enhanced expenditure under the head "Courts of Law", and I regret very much the circumstances which have forced Government to apply such a large amount of the public money to such a class of expenditure. But I fully recognise the necessity for this item of expenditure, and I sincerely hope that this state of things will have a speedy ending.

"I do not grudge the provision of Rs. 50,000 for raising the scale of Government Pleader's retaining fees. On the contrary, I quite doubt whether the provision is quite adequate. If the Government Pleaders were paid for each opinion or each item of work that they do for the Government in cases in the same manner as we, private individuals, have to pay to them, then I believe a much larger provision would be necessary. A distinguished Government Pleader was once heard remarking that if he was to calculate the approximate value of the opinions that he had to give in Government cases with the monthly retainer he got, it would come up to nearly one pice an opinion! And on principle I would like to suggest that their relations with the Government should in no way differ from their relations with their private clients.

"The most pleasing item in the budget is the munificent grant that we have got from the Imperial Government towards Education, though the value of the gift is a little lessened by the fact that it is hedged in by some conditions and limitations, and it will, as was remarked by Mr. Küchler, find immediate expression mainly in bricks and mortar.

"In this connection, I beg to express my satisfaction on the acceptance of the resolution of my friend, Mr. Dip Narayan Singh, for the appointment of a committee to frame definite proposals for the disposal of the special grant. Though the personnel of the committee has been left entirely in the hands of the Government, we have the assurance of His Honour that the public will be allowed a fairly large voice in the committee. I hope Bihar will be adequately represented on the committee, and her claims to a fair share will be carefully considered and given effect to.

"I regret that the distribution under the Technical and Industrial head should be confined to Sibpur College equipment alone. Last year I had taken your Honour's permission to point out the necessity of multiplying the number of technical and industrial schools in Bihar, and I beg to repeat the same, and to observe further therewith that there should be a Central Industrial and Technical School at each divisional centre of Bihar, viz., Bankipore, Bhagalpur and Muzaffarpur. A conference was held last month at Muzaffarpur at the instance of Mr. Greer, the Commissioner of Tirhut, who, I am glad to acknowledge, has taken a very keen interest in the educational improvement of his division, especially in connection with the Bhumihar Brahman College. The Inspector of Schools, and the Inspector of Technical Schools and the leading gentlemen of the town were invited to consider the steps that should be taken to establish a Technical and Industrial School and a workshop there. I hope their labours will bear good fruit, and that similar schools will be founded at Bhagalpur and other centres. I believe the Government makes a small grant of five thousand rupees to the Bengal Association for Scientific and Industrial Education. I wish that that grant were larger than it is, for no public money is better spent, and, at the same time, I wish to press for the consideration of the Government the claims of the similar Association of Bihar to an even more liberal contribution, considering the backwardness of education in that province.

"Another pleasing feature of the budget is the condition attached to the Imperial grant of rupees one lakh and sixty thousand to the University of Calcutta: while in the preceding year Rs. 80,000 only was set apart for grants-in-aid to affiliated colleges, this year one lakh and ten thousand has been given for the purpose. Bihar colleges, I hope, will have a substantial share of this grant, as their need is far greater than that of the Bengal colleges. My friend, the Hon'ble Babu Braja Kishor Prasad, has been dinning into our ears, in season and out of season, in this Council, the deplorable condition of the Bhumihar Brahman College at Muzaffarpur. This college deserves kind treatment at the hands of the Government. The newly-formed Tirhut Division—once the seat of Sanskrit learning and the home of so many Sanskrit scholars and jurists, such as Yagyabalka and Vachaspati—is very backward to-day in education. In fact, the whole of Bihar is distinctly backward in the matter of education, and Tirhut or Mithila is perhaps the most backward of all Bihar. We are, therefore, beholden to the Hon'ble Mr. Filgate, who has supported the Hon'ble Babu Braja Kishor Prasad and urged that the Bhumihar Brahman College should be put on a sound financial basis, while the local officials and the people have done what they could, and it is now time and the turn of the Government, and I hope the Government will not grudge its support to a really useful institution.

"I find there is an undesirable increase in the revenue from country-spirits in the Bihar districts. Though the public revenue is benefited by this increase of the habit of drinking—the worst weakness of the human race—every well-wisher of the country cannot but view this state of things with a shudder. Drink brings with it theft, murder and other crimes against the society, and the evil ought to be checked with a firm hand even at the sacrifice of public revenue.

"I am sorry our friend, the Hon'ble Mr. Dip Narayan Singh, had to withdraw his resolution about a grant of Rs. 74,000 to the municipality of Bhagalpur for the improvement of the water-supply in the Bhagalpur town. The water-works in Bhagalpur are exercising the ingenuity of capable men—much more, I think, of the Chairman of the Bhagalpur Municipality, who is our colleague in this Council. He must be passing many anxious days and sleepless nights in the dry season, when the Jamuna silts up and the Ganges recedes far away from the place where the water-works are located. The municipality has to concentrate all its energies and apply a good portion of its income to keep the water-supply to the town in a good condition, but still there is no adequate supply. If we were to go through the whole history of the water-works at Bhagalpur, a pathetic tale of continued fight against odds would be unfolded. Once there was a stoppage of water-supply for about fifteen days, and the result was a terrible outbreak of cholera such as had never happened in the town before. I think the time is come when the water-supply of the town of Bhagalpur should form a question for the Government to consider. Lots of proposals from local officials and experts are forthcoming, yet without the helping hands of the Government no suggestion can be given effect to. We can well understand the reticence of the Chairman of the municipality in this Council, though I do not doubt that if any advance is made towards the consideration of the ways and means to put the water-works on a permanent basis, our friend would be only too glad to co-operate in the matter.

"I will now conclude, as I do not want to take up the time of the Council, and beg to support the budget with these few remarks of mine."

The Hon'ble RAI SHIBA SHANKAR SAHAY BAHADUR said :—

"Your Honour, last year I and a few other Bihar Members had the honour of bringing to your notice what we considered to have been a defect in the Rules for election of Members to the Finance Committee. We are deeply grateful to Your Honour for the sympathetic response that you made at the time, and for the prompt measures that you have since taken in so revising and modifying the Rules as to remove the defect and redress the grievance.

"I hope I shall not be called ungrateful or hard to please, if after the great concession made I have still to point out certain unsatisfactory circumstances connected with the Finance Committee and its powers. When I was elected to the Committee as one of its non-official Members, I could not help feeling as the Hon'ble Mr. Apcar said in his last year's Budget speech he felt on a similar occasion, and I regret to state that I have been disillusioned like him. The Finance Committee has proved a veritable Armida Palace; we enter it proud of the honour, proud at the prospect of making ourselves useful, but a slight experience certainly sobers us down, and we tell a different tale as we come out. I hope for better days when the Members of the Finance Committee will have better and more useful work to do.

"Sir, the Finance Committee could not sit this year at the appointed time, because there was an unforeseen delay in getting the sanction of the Imperial Government. It met after the Revised Financial Statement had already been prepared. Under the Rules, the functions of the Finance Committee are confined to the consideration and revision of the Draft Financial Statement, and it is after considering the proposals of the Finance Committee that the Revised Financial Statement can be prepared. This year the Revised Financial Statement was made without such consideration, and the so-called Finance Committee met only after it had, strictly speaking, become functus officio. We are, however, thankful to the Finance Member for having consulted us as regards certain items of the Statement.

"The Rules of the Finance Committee exclude from its consideration (1) all normal expenditure of administration, including normal instances of increase, (2) all cases of new expenditure which is not considerable and which has been fixed at a sum of five thousand rupees or less, and (3) all cases of new obligatory expenditure of over rupees five thousand. So that a very small segment of the circle of expenditure comes within the purview of the Committee. This jurisdiction of the Finance Committee, which is certainly very much restricted in its limits, has been filed down this year to almost a geometrical point by the schedule of new schemes costing more than rupees five thousand, given at the end of the Financial Statement, having been entered as obligatory. In the last year's Financial Statement, the schedule of new schemes costing over rupees five thousand attached to the Financial Statement, was not shown as such, and, I suppose, it was not obligatory. Then, I find that many items of new expenditure are not included in the said schedule which one would think contained all items of new expenditure. Take for instance Rs. 3,00,000 for Delhi Durbar; Rs. 19,000 for additional grant to non-official members; Rs. 23,000 for Temporary establishment in the Secretariat Record Room shown at page 14 of the Financial Statement; New Mill Engine at Buxar costing Rs. 9,000 at page 15 of the Statement, and so forth. They are new expenditure and should be shown as such. It does not matter if they were of an obligatory character. My object in making this observation is to draw the attention of the Finance Member to the fact that, if the Draft Financial Statement is prepared strictly according to Rule 5 and according to the headings given in the Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler's lucid speech in Council on the 28th January, 1910, it will be a great improvement.

"Speaking of the Finances and the Finance Committee, I cannot but congratulate the Finance Member on the satisfactory character of the Financial outlook of the province as disclosed in the closing balance of Rs. 85,77,000, as against 70 lakhs of the last year. It is a substantial progress in the right direction, and I hope it will be steadily kept up and improved in future.

"Sir, I now pass on to an agreeable feature of the Financial Statement of this year, viz., the new relation in which the province financially stands to the Imperial Government as the result of the alterations of the terms of the Provincial Financial settlement made by the Government of India.

"The Provincial settlement came into operation in the year 1906 with a fixed assignment by the Imperial Government to meet the Provincial deficit. The Financial outlook of the province was becoming gloomier and gloomier till, to quote Sir Fleetwood Wilson, Bengal bordered on the verge of bankruptcy. It was time therefore, that change was effected, and a change fraught with important and far-reaching consequences has taken place. For a portion of the fixed assignment have been substituted larger shares of growing revenues. The benefit accruing in the present year, however, gives but a feeble idea of the magnitude of the boon conferred upon the province by the new arrangement. It serves but to open up the avenues of future possibilities.

"The second interesting item in the Financial Statement is the amount set apart for education. The greatness of a Government is tested by the amount it spends upon the education of its subjects. In the light of the above, it is a pleasure to note how the amount spent on education in the province has been growing more and more steadily from the year 1906-07. Last year it was Rs. 59,17,000, this year it is Rs. 70,26,000, and the figures exclude the expenditure by the District Boards and that upon educational buildings constructed and maintained by the Public Works Department. The apportionment of the grant to the various items is just and satisfactory. Equally important is the special grant for Sanitation. It was time that the Sanitation question in Bengal was taken up and grappled with, in serious earnestness. The figures published in the papers of the last Census disclose a reduction of population in some of the districts, that is truly alarming. Malaria in West Bengal and Plague in Bihar are chiefly responsible for it. We hope to see that vigorous steps are taken for successfully fighting these enemies.

"Sir, the last point that I have to touch upon, is the allotment of Rs. 3,00,000 for the Royal Visit. I wish it were more; I wish we could, without in any way interfering with the welfare of the Province, set apart a much larger sum of money to testify in a fitting manner to the feelings of loyalty and gratitude that fill the heart of every Indian at the prospect of His Majesty's visit."

"It is a matter of congratulation that the Provincial revenues have been strong and well managed enough to leave us able to meet more than our normal requirements, and even to indulge in stray superfluities, repetition of which may have to be watchfully guarded against. This is due to the well-organized continuity of financial administration, the lack of which I deplored on past occasions, and the ensurance of which I ventured to predict and hope for under the firm, statesmanlike and sympathetic control of a Ruler who knows Bengal and Bengal finances as well as Indian finances, and could recover our lost caste in the Indian Secretariat. During such a regime we hoped that a more equitable revised settlement with the province would take place, and our hopes have not been belied. It is not given to us under the rules to criticise the policy or details of the settlement that leaves us better to the extent of the by no means negligible sum of seven lakhs and a half a year. But it may be given to us to hope that other provincial grumblers will some day succeed in getting the question reopened so that a little more may fall in our way. I am doubtful about the expediency of immediate and individual grumbling, lest worse should befall us. And the despatches on the subject published a day or two ago do not induce a change of this opinion.

"Members of the Council have had opportunities of tendering their heart-felt thanks to the Government of India for their timely and generous aid of education and sanitation. It is our bounden duty to repeat and emphasize expressions of our sincere gratitude, and it is no less our duty and pleasure to associate Your Honour's name in this connection. There must be genuine and widespread gratitude that the many causes, for which we have been pleading and struggling for the past few years, are receiving steady and substantial help. The manning and equipment of the Government colleges, the strengthening of private colleges, better hostel accommodation for our college and school students, and larger expenditure on sanitation, have been fruitful Budget themes under the old and the new rules, and all these matters will receive more or less attention during this year and the next, and I have no doubt the next and the next again. If this little and nothing more was all that we could claim as a result of our labours, I would take strong exception to the notion gaining abroad that we are a glorified debating society that might profitably invest our time and energies otherwise. In connection with the debate on the revised Financial Statement, I discounted the immediate profitableness of a study of the fly-on-the-wheel order, and I did not stay to calculate the turns of the mighty administration wheels in which non-official criticisms and ventilation—I refuse to call it agitation—may to some extent have assisted. The notion I refer to has, however, since been further gaining ground, and a little of the study of the kind I indicate may not be wholly useless. Dr. P. C. Roy has, after long years of patient waiting, been promoted to the Indian Educational Service, according to the newspaper reports, and if, in the matter of expediting that promotion persistent, non-official criticism has in the least contributed, our energies have not been wholly spent in vain. To Dr. Roy, long enlisted in the World's Educational Service, this promotion when it comes, if it has not yet come, may not mean much, well nigh at the close of his career in the service of Government. But to others who are sure to follow him—and the Budget provision of the year certainly indicates that three more of his deserving colleagues will soon be allowed to join him in the superior service—it will mean a great deal. The principle once accepted, the Secretary of State may refrain from making direct appointments to a certain extent in England, and may allow Your Honour's Government to reward arduous services of the members of the Provincial Service whose names must be before Your Honour's Government. In the same way, we may claim, with some pardonable pride, credit for the part we have been allowed to take in connection with the betterment of the Provincial, Judicial and Executive Services, the Medical service,—both as regards Assistant Surgeon and the Hospital Assistant grades—the improvement of the lot of ministerial officers of our Courts, and particularly the strengthening of the ministerial staff of the Original Side of the High Court, just sanctioned. And if these results have been achieved during the past three years much more must have preceded, which I have not had the time and opportunity to look up. I may also refer to some negative results. Non-official opposition was directed to the undue development of Fraserganj, the expansion of the Golden Crown fisheries, and the precipitate sale of Jorabagan thana in view of the purchase of the Duff's College for police purposes. The Budget before us shows the wisdom of non-official opposition in every one of these cases, though, having regard to the explanations then pressed, such opposition had to give way more or less. These are failures, no less pregnant with result than success. True, we have not been able to achieve all that we wanted to achieve. But I for one am not prepared to sacrifice the essentially oriental virtue of gratitude for small mercies.

"But even if less was achieved, we would be bound to go on all the same—we who, by accepting office as Your Honour's Councillors, are pledged to give the Reformed Constitution a loyal trial. And, if better results are to emanate, we must justify ourselves, for we, like that Constitution, are also on our trial. It is the duty of every one of us to do whatever work comes our way, as if ours was the last word on the subject, which, if absolutely given effect to, would not imperil the Constitution or the Government. We are much in the position of the young rowers in a recent picture paper,—whom the artist makes strain every muscle rowing the boat, fast attached to a buoy, that moves not an inch, for they are earning their entry into the much coveted University Eight, and their blades are all perforated oak. We would have ourselves to blame, to a certain extent, if all our Budget proposals were to come to grief for want of care and forethought. In saying so I do not conceal from myself the severe handicap attaching to all our efforts, to which we have often had to draw attention. But we have had our reward. Your Honour generously recognized our difficulties, and was pleased to say towards the close of the last Financial debate that it was not all our own fault that, for want of detailed and timely information, we could not pick out suitable counterbalancing items. I was unfortunately alone among the Calcutta non-official Members when this—the best of the assets of that day's debate—was realized, for others more mindful of their health had left us to ourselves and sought the snugness of their cheery homes that stormy evening. Of course, Your Honour took care to warn us that even with timely and detailed information at our disposal, we should find it difficult to pick out items that the Government could assent to being left out, so carefully is the whole Budget prepared in advance. But I do not despair. If we are not regarded as wanton obstructionists deliberately bent on wrecking schemes, timely and friendly association with the departments in which we happen to take particular interest may benefit by our criticism before the Budget attains its cast-iron rigidity. For, after all, a friendly outside view of things may now and again help in taking even departmental orthodoxies out of their groove, and, in this view of things, small Departmental Committees of the kind that I roughly indicate for these purposes, may be of better use in framing the Budget than an omnibus Finance Committee that has little opportunity and less time to go into the whole question effectively.

"What good such Committees can do will be best illustrated by the labours of those that Your Honour was pleased to appoint for considering the allotments of the Imperial Educational grants. Much of the misapprehension and doubt have been removed, and seemingly unpalatable measures have been readily accepted on either side, which long debates and paper fights would hardly have achieved. I do not regret the differences of opinion that exist among the non-official members themselves, which accounts for much of their discomfiture, for I would not welcome the premature appearance of the caucuses and the whips. We are not here to embarrass the Government as some unfortunately think, but to help it in the best of our light, and that we can best do by speaking out our mind straight from the shoulder, unmindful of the fate of the particular motion before the Council in which we may consider ourselves interested. It is for the responsible Government to take note of our opinion and such information as we can give, and it would not be our fault if they fail to avail of them.

"We want the Heads of the Departments, in which any one of us happens to take any particular interest, to recognize that we are not their natural enemies who have to be kept at arm's length at any cost—sometimes at the expense of rudimentary courtesy—but that we are real friends, for the promotion of the interest of their departments is what we aim at, and this we could at times better press and advocate than they themselves.

"Having regard to his and our good luck, my quarrel is this year the least with the Hon'ble Mr. Küchler, at least for the present, and he has my entire and active sympathy in the uphill work he has before him in rectifying many of the blunders and much of the neglect of the past, and in the ordering of the forces under the new and more trying conditions. Though I am in the fullest sympathy with well-meaning endeavours for the promotion of primary education, we must recognize our limitations, and little good could it do to try to erect model primary school-houses in all possible and impossible parts of the country, when you have not resources enough even to build up the walls to their full height which you have to leave unroofed and crowned with creepers. It is no fancy picture that I am painting, for the enterprising archæologist will come across such monumental trophies, only a few years old, and which, like Mr. Pickwick, he must not mistake as world-old because of the plentiful coating of greenery. The order, or shall I call it the natural order, of our educational advance must, for a long while to come, be, what the Hon'ble Mr. Küchler judiciously named last year, viz., College and University, secondary and primary, entailing and involving filtration downwards all along the line. We have a remarkable lack of means as well as of men. The training up of a body of capable teachers, who will have sufficient inducement to take to teaching bonâ fide as a life profession, must be our first care. Once we achieve this and are given enough money, progress of primary education would be a matter of course. Before aiming at the 'logically possible' let us be sure of the 'reasonably probable'. Under other conditions you will never advance primary education as you wish to do, but will effectively starve and strangle the other branches of education—I shall not call them the upper branches. You have to hasten slowly most of all on educational lines, for a repetition of the fads and blunders of the past will hopelessly injure all education for a good long time to come, and the educationist of the future has carefully and constantly to keep this in mind. Not all, but enough for the present, has been done for College and University education by way of giving it a fair start on new lines, and we have a right to look to private assistance, which is slowly and steadily forthcoming. Our next and anxious attention must, therefore, be now turned to secondary education, for without strengthening the schools on the right lines you will never strengthen your colleges or your primary schools. The strength of the middle link would be real strength of the chain, and we are thankful that Government is recognising this and trying to add to that strength. Good, well organised, well-disciplined schools on the model of the great public schools of England, where the nation is really built, is every day felt as a desideratum, for want of which the whole of our educational system and, I must say, alas, our social polity, is weakened. And though these schools cannot be wholly or in all cases removed from the Metropolis, or the larger cities, they have a better place in central, healthy, yet easily accessible places, free from objectionable surroundings and influences, where the better order of the residential system may have a real chance. There are already some in existence, and others of a less pretentious order are coming to the fore, and, for a long time to come, the soundest educational investments will be these schools, whether Government or private. After a few years of this new order of things in our colleges, the University as well as the primary schools will be found to wear a different aspect, very much for the better, and judicious generosity to responsible organizations will lighten the work of Government. The superior inspecting machinery has been completed, the regrading of the subordinate agency has this year been provided for, and the school work proper may now be well taken in hand and in thorough right earnest. Now that provision has been made, I have no doubt that the strengthening of the college staffs will be expeditiously carried out on correct lines, that the proposed transfer from the Provincial to the Indian Service will be effected, and that the vacancies in the Provincial Service and the Subordinate Service to which I felt compelled to draw attention by my recent questions, will be filled up, so far as they may be, till the Government of India give its sanction to the larger and long-pending scheme for the amelioration of the condition of our educational officers. Mr. Kuchler's will be no bed of roses—without thorns—for if much has been given unto him much more will be expected. His is specially the department in which has to be realized the high ideal, of which the public have been effectively reminded during the past few days, that it is the duty of all rulers to make each generation better than the preceding one, physically, intellectually and morally, and to leave it better and happier than they found it. In this arduous task, which proper education can alone lighten, the Government may rely on the active sympathy and support of all our colleagues that take an interest in education—and who does not?

"I shall not bring up again King Charles' Head—Law and the Provincial Executive and Judicial Services—for it has been rolled about a good deal of late. I am content with the assurances given, and I am confident our suggestions will be duly considered and given effect to whenever possible. I would, however, draw attention to the answer of the Hon'ble Mr. Jenkins in the Imperial Council to the question of the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu, which would make one think that the Supreme Government would not be above reconsidering matters if another representation were to be made. But whether the initiative was to be taken by Your Honour's Government or the High Court, it would be hardly within the competence of this Council to indicate. Regarding the improvement of the Courts of the Calcutta Honorary Magistrates, I have made further inquiries since the Financial Statement was presented, and believe that some temporary rooms could be inexpensively placed on the roof of the one-storied building to the west of the main building and a connecting bridge may be provided. And closer and stricter supervision of office work and a slight additional cost, would make the deputation of the necessary court clerks to more Honorary Courts possible. Congestion in the offices and the court of the Calcutta Court of Small Causes has been complained of, and, as we heard in answer to my question this morning, this complaint is well founded. We are glad to hear that Government is prepared to consider the question of suitable relief. Real improvement would, however, be impossible unless substantial assistance, both in the judicial and ministerial sides, be provided. While unable to appreciate the correctness or efficacy of discussion of these matters in open Court between the Bench and the Bar, I would remind the Council of the possibilities of Honorary Civil Benches to which I referred in the course of the Financial debate, in connection with the strengthening of the Courts of Honorary Magistrates. Congestion in the work of the offices of the Original Side of the High Court, which will be still greater if the Court has to be further expanded, as stated in some circles, has long been a matter of complaint and been brought to the notice of this Council. The foundling, now more than three years' old, that no one would own for a while and that went through the successive orthodox stages of lofty philosophical apathy, active ridicule and partial sympathy, is after all to be recognised and cared for. A sum of Rs. 23,000 has been provided for strengthening these offices, which may barely meet present requirements, but will soon be inadequate. And in order to get full value out of this bare accommodation, it is of the greatest importance that the whole should be found at once, and not by instalments, as is believed to be contemplated. Outside guard has been provided at an equal cost under a capable and tactful Superintendent, who is making the Court wear a different look. But the security of inside strength is no less necessary, and in this we are thankful to have made a beginning. The Hon'ble Mr. Chapman had practically no reply to give me with regard to the Advocate-General's extra fees in Original Side cases, and this, as well as the possibility and desirability of reducing counsels' and pleaders' fees all round, without impairing efficiency or thoroughness of service, may well be pressed on the attention of Government again.

"The next items of Budget allotments to which I would draw the attention of the Council will be the Medical, in regard to which also there is cause for much gratitude which must be suitably expressed. The status of the Civil Medical Assistants has been placed on a suitable basis, and provision has been made for improving the Assistant Surgeon's branch of the service, which it is hoped will be further improved by larger opening from its ranks to the Civil Surgeon's ranks. The pending appointments to selected Chairs in the Medical College from their ranks or the ranks of non-official practitioners, will be watched with anxiety, and the first erroneous step will jeopardise the ultimate success of the movement. In April last, we were told, with reference to my suggestion that retrospective effect might be given to reorganisation of the services of Civil Assistant Surgeons and Civil Medical Assistants, that the change will be introduced from the date of the orders approving it, which were expected early.

"One other year has gone by, and the Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler, in reply to my question in February last, was pleased to say that the question of the improvement of our Assistant Surgeons is still awaiting the orders of the Government of India and the Secretary of State. When all this delay has occurred, I would once more respectfully ask that retrospective effect to the suggestion for reorganisation would not be too much to ask for, and that the final settlement of the question should be expedited as much as possible. With regard to the question of allowances and periodical departmental examination, there seems to be no reason why the treatment of demonstrators in the Medical College should be differentiated from that of teachers in Medical schools. The demonstrators have no hospital work which is to their disadvantage, particularly as regards private practice, which teachers are allowed to take. But they do no less practical and scientific work, and it is to be remembered that while third grade officers are to be found in the ranks of teachers, second grade officers are often deputed to act as demonstrators Ever since assumption of your high office Your Honour has taken the greatest possible interest in our hospital work, and the latest addition to our hospital accommodation in the Medical College compound, which Her Excellency Lady Hardinge opened the other day on Your Honour's invitation, is an ample demonstration of the anxiety of the Government to make up for past deficiency. One other direction in which anxiety is agreeably visible is Your Honour's desire to make the best of and fully utilize the growing non-official medical talent of the country, which, it is refreshing to observe, has excited no official jealousy. The heads of the Medical Departments of the Government of India and of Your Honour's Government are in active sympathy with these aspirations, and it is encouraging to find that Your Honour has taken the first step towards full utilization of those talents in the service of a well-equipped, up to-date and central non-official Medical institution, by the appointment of a representative Committee to investigate the matter. It is a matter of still greater encouragement that most of the scattered stray forces have agreed to combine in aid of this noble common cause, and it is to be hoped that a self-abrogating public spirit will bring in the outstanding forces and thus make some semblance of central control possible without friction. The memorial in honour of our late lamented Sovereign will take the hightly acceptable shape of relief of suffering humanity, towards which Your Honour's Government has agreed to make a handsome contribution. I miss the Budget allotment in this excellent cause, but I am sure that it is somewhere provided, and that should the non-official Medical institutions or the larger majority of them combine in the course of the year, it will be possible to give the central institution help, so that much and long-needed supplemental medical education of the right type may be easily available, and, together with it, adequate and reasonable control of the medical profession.

"I should like to make one passing observation with regard to some increased figures on the credit side, namely, those under fines and Excise revenues which have caused us no little anxiety. That condign punishment, whether in the shape of fines or otherwise, should be unhesitatingly inflicted whenever and wherever necessary, is a proposition that no sane man should for one moment dispute. Law and order must be maintained at any cost, both in the interest of the Government and the governed, but it makes us anxious that fines and realizations on account of punitive police are on the rise. I should like to see the Regular Police better strengthened, for which no one seems to have a good word now-a-days, for upon the success of the direct appointments to the higher posts, made for the purpose of raising the tone of the service, depends the future of the force.

"The cautious and considerate clemency of Government as demonstrated in the Khulna Gang Case on Saturday last, is an object-lesson of anxious interest, and it is sincerely and devoutly to be hoped that this departure will be amply justified and bear the best of fruits, and that the saving of costs and trouble, upon which unnecessary stress was laid, are not its strongest features and best recommendations.

"While unavoidable evils must be taxed by way of keeping them down, it is never sound policy to aim at making them sources of revenue, that one would not desire to see continued longer and to a greater extent than can be helped. And in this view of things one cannot but regret the rise in the Excise revenue, though the Hon'ble Mr. Macpherson, to whom we bade a regretful good-bye the other day and whose place has been taken by our good old friend, the Hon'ble Mr. Greer, whom we are glad to welcome back to Calcutta, was no doubt guarded in his appreciation of this rise. This however, makes us no less anxious.

"Dealing with the serious state of affairs which the Budget reveals regarding the expansion of the revenue from Excise, one is obliged to ask oneself and the Government as to when this constant increase is to stop. We are told that improved methods of Excise administration, and the prosperity of the people, are responsible for these figures. When, then, may the Excise administration be regarded as really and finally efficient?

"Year after year we hear this stereotyped explanation, and it must be somewhat of an unwelcome reflection on those who have administered this department in the past to attribute better results now, to faulty administration in the past. And what is the test of efficiency? Is it not the fact that year after year this department is expected to show an increase in revenue? On a previous occasion, quotations (chapter and verse) were forthcoming, to the effect that certain Excise officials deplored a falling-off of revenue in some of the backward parts of the country. For 1910-11 it was estimated that Rs 1,70,52,000 would be realized by this department. This year in the revised estimate Rs. 1,81,00,000 is put down as the larger figure which the department is expected to realize, and we are supposed to express satisfaction at this.

"The British Chancellor of the Exchequer, in introducing his revised budget figures, expressed his pleasure that his estimate of the yield from the increased whisky tax was £800,000 less than he has estimated.

"I am afraid, judging from past experience, that no such pleasure will await the Member in charge of the Budget of this Province next year.

"When it is realized that a sum rapidly approaching two crores a year comes into the coffers of Government through the liquor and drug shops of the Province, it is surely time to ask what steps can be taken to check the growth of this drink and drug habit, for it would be a pity indeed if people's prosperity was to take, even partially, this questionable channel of exhaustion.

"When this Council recently passed the new Excise Act, (Bengal Act V of 1909) it was claimed and expected that it would strengthen the hands of the Administration, and no doubt it has improved the machinery for collecting the revenue.

"But it must be admitted that, so long as the auction system is maintained, there is no likelihood of real improvement from a true civic standpoint of view. What happened in Calcutta at the last licensing settlement? Practically every shop was settled at a higher rate than at the preceding settlement.

"This means that every license-holder must somehow or other increase his sales.

"How then can active steps be effectively taken to check questionable methods of liquor-selling, when the licensee has to make out a much larger amount to pay month by month by any means that he can think of.

"What steps have been taken to restrict the consumption of liquor and drugs this year? One liquor shop was closed in Calcutta, 19 tari-shops and three country-liquor shops in the whole of Bengal.

"In Bombay, during the Holi festival all the liquor shops were closed at 7 o'clock, and one may be pardoned for asking why similar action could not be taken in Calcutta.

"The scenes in certain quarters of the city witnessed this year, would not have been possible if the earlier closing of the liquor shops had been enforced, though possibly there might have been in the future a slight Excise deficit."

"Exception was taken, in connection with the Financial Statement, to my proposal for reduction of the charges due to amalgamation of the Salt and the Excise Departments. Though the same Commissioner administers the two departments, that by itself does not appear to be entire justification of the amalgamation, particularly as it may lead to confusion. The Salt revenue is what may be called 'Imperial', while the Excise revenue is purely Provincial, and there does not seem to be much connection or affinity between the two, though one would like to take Excise explanations with considerable grains of salt. Nor has any need for the amalgamation been indicated.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay, whose genial personality yet powerful presence, I regret, we shall soon lose for a few months, did not last year quite like my reflection that it was no very illuminating explanation of the falling off of Registration revenue to say 'that the reason for decrease is chiefly a decrease in the number of registrations effected.' He said 'stagnation in trade would scarcely affect stamp duties and registration fees'. This year we are told that 'the decrease of registration receipts is attributed to the falling off in the number of registrations owing to the good harvests of the preceding year.' There must be some mistake somewhere, in one or other of the explanations, for both can hardly be correct. Last year the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay said that the question I raised was an interesting and complicated one, and that, to clearly explain all the reasons for the decrease and increase, would entail a very searching inquiry. I do not know whether such an inquiry has been held or not. Last year the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay told us that it is probable that the decrease in the number of transactions during a period of stagnation of trade would directly lessen the stamp revenue, while a period of scarcity, when the cultivator is driven to mortgage his holding, would necessarily increase the number of registrations and the amount of the registration fees. In saying so he overlooked the fact that most registrations meant also revenue in stamps. The estimate for the year 1910-11 was based on the actuals for 1909-10; and even though the explanation then offered did not appear to the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay to be exhaustive, 'it would be very unwise', he said, 'to estimate for a large revenue'. I did not desire to put him a problem of mere academic or economic interest, but it has an intensely practical aspect, and I myself have not been able to answer the problem satisfactorily. Though the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay questioned the wisdom of estimating for a large revenue, his modified expectations have been belied, and we are told this year that the falling off of registration receipts, which was due the previous year to scarcity, is due to prosperity the next year. Regarding the falling off of the stamp revenue this year, we are told that the lesser figures are due to the non-realization of the expectations by the Government of India of large increase from increased new taxation. The problem is, therefore, farther from solution than ever, and is not a mere academic puzzle. It has to be carefully handled in the interest of practical finance.

"I would finally refer to the provision for three lakhs of rupees in connection with the Coronation Durbar. There is nothing in the Budget to indicate whether it will be for expenditure in the Province or on account of the expenses of the Province at Delhi. The latter, we take it, would be all Imperial charges, and all who have the honour of an invitation to Delhi will be treated as Imperial guests. If, however, my reading of this item be mistaken and the three lakhs are to cover the expenses of the Province at Delhi, the Province will have nothing in the Budget to give a good account of itself with here, and this omission has to be rectified in time. We cannot possibly agree with those who have taken upon themselves to say that this provision is extravagant. As was forcibly emphasized at the city's demonstration on Wednesday last, over which Your Honour fittingly presided, the occasion will be unique, historic and unsurpassed. But, not only the city, but the Province, will have to rise to the unparalleled height of the occasion when the crowned Monarch of one-fourth of the human race visits his faithful subjects for মহতীদেবতার্থে বা নর রূপেণ তিষ্ঠতি who must have a fitting ovation. A few thousand rupees provided under the head 'Political' for extra Durbar presents will never furnish the requisite ways and means.

"I am more than near my time-limit; an attenuated budget debate and an expansive budget balance ought, I supose, to be intordependent on one another; but we take no note of time but by its loss. And this reminds me that we are already dealing with the third Budget of Your Honour's regime. That short time has been unconscionably lengthened by public troubles and private troubles, in which Your Honour has our best sympathy, but which Your Honour has alike manfully refused to let tinge your regime."

The Hon'ble Rai Baikuntha Nath Sen Bahadur said:—"May it please Your Honour,—According to the rules of this Council the Budget is to be accepted and no modification at this stage are possible. Privilege has ostensibly been given to the Members of this Council by permitting them to move resolutions at the time when the Revised Estimate is placed before the Council. Several Members of this Council moved resolutions in the exercise of that privilege, but I have to express my deep regret that this privilege is one of semblance only and not of substance. No resolution moved by a non-official Member, however just it might be, can be accepted by the Council unless Goverment chooses. Discussion on the occasion of the Budget is more or less of an academical nature, though it is expected that some good results may follow by the curtailment of some sub heads on expenditure and a certain amount of money may be saved and devoted to other and more useful purposes. It may, also, to a certain extent, influence Your Honour in the preparation of the next year's budget.

"In addressing Your Honour on this occasion, I shall bear in mind what happened last year on this very occasion, when Your Honour was pleased to refrain from enforcing rigidly the rules of relevancy but was pleased to accord a certain amount of latitude to Members, with a warning that the procedure observed on that occasion would not be considered as precedent for the future. We are in duty bound to give effect to Your Honour's pronouncement, and I shall therefore confine my observations with regard to certain items in the Budget on the Receipt and Expenditure sides, and also to certain omissions.

"Your Honour's Government is to be congratulated for the modifications which have been approved by the Government of India in the terms of the financial settlement with the province with effect from the 1st April, 1911, though I beg respectfully to submit that the settlement does not come up to our expectations. My humble submission is that the financial relations between the Government of India and the Bengal Government ought to be based on a different and juster principle. It is gratifying to find that, by the last settlement with the Government of India, there have been secured additions to the growing revenues of the province under Excise and Forest. We have also cause to be grateful to the Government of India for the fixed recurring grant of Rs. 7,48,000 annually.

"As regards the revenue from Excise, to which reference has been made by the Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari, I have a few remarks to make. I deem it my duty to submit one matter for Your Honour's careful consideration. The Bengal Government share in the Excise revenue has been raised from one-half to three-fourths. In the Budget I find under the head 'Excise' that the actuals in 1909-10 amounted to Rs. 1,67,92,558, while the figures in the first eleven months of 1910-11 show an increase of Rs. 10,20,000 over the actuals of the corresponding period of the preceding year. The revised estimate for 1910-11 has, therefore, been passed for Rs. 1,78,00,000, and, allowing for a progressive increase of three lakhs, the estimate for 1911-12 has been placed at Rs. 1,81,00,000. The provincial share amounts in 1910-11 (one-half) to Rs 89,00,000, and in 1911-12 (three-fourths) to Rs. 1,35,75,000. I also find amongst the remarks that increase in the revised estimate is due to the better settlements and increased consumption of country spirits. In view of the fact that there would naturally be an inclination on the part of Government to see further growth of revenue from Excise, I am afraid not much respect would be shown to the acknowledged principle that maximum of revenue should be sought with minimum of consumption. Temperance should not be sacrificed at the shrine of revenue. Instructions are, therefore, necessary for the guidance of the department for minimising consumption, of course safeguarding the growth of revenue at the same time. I venture to suggest that instructions ought to be issued for securing decrease in the number of shops for the sale of spirituous liquors, ganja, etc., and that if the auction system is done away with when a settlement is made, it will minimise consumption. I also venture to suggest that with regard to the manufacturing of spirits in distilleries greater care should be taken for limiting their quantity, temperature and strength and for enhancing the rate of duty. If this course be adopted with the growth of revenue, larger consumption will be appreciably checked.

"We ought to express our gratitude to the Government of India for the additional assignment of Rs. 35,23,000 from the Imperial revenues. This sum includes a special contribution of Rs. 24,50,000 for expenditure on Education, and of Rs. 10,00,000 on Sanitation. We do not know on what terms, if any, the grants have been sanctioned. In the Budget, however, under head 'Education,' we find an increase of less than fifteen lakhs over the Revised Estimate. The whole grant has not, therefore, been provided for, and this requires some explanation.

"As regards the grant for the improvement of sanitation, mention is made in paragraph 60 of the Budget that Rs. 11,46,000 have been provided for grants to municipalities and other local funds, of which one of the items is a lump provision of Rs. 9,50,000 for grants for works of sanitary improvement, etc. Besides this, under head '24—Medical,' sub-head 'Sanitation and Vaccination,' provision has been made for Rs. 2,61,000. Information regarding some details is desirable. It would give us satisfaction to learn whether the Government has in contemplation any definite scheme for sanitary improvement, and, if so, any explanatory remarks as to how the money has been provided for, will be welcome. Special attention should be given to the supply of drinking water, and for this purpose the district boards and municipalities should be financially strengthened. In this connection, I draw attention to the fact that the last census shows that there has been a decrease of one lakh in the population in the districts of Nadia and Jessore.

"Ample provision has been made for expenditure under head '19 A—Courts of Law,' and sub-heads 'Legal Remembrancer and High Court Pleaders' and 'Mufassal Establishment.' It is be hoped that the amount provided will not be spent. Services of Government law officers should be utilised, and a moderate fee allowed.

"I have nothing to say against the increase of the retaining fee of Government pleaders and Public Prosecutors. On the contrary, I should consider it an act of justice to a class of Government officers who are under-remunerated. In this connection, I feel bound to congratulate Government on the action taken in regard to the Khulna Gang Case. Extreme clemency has been shown to the accused who made confessions and who have been discharged after eight months' detention. The policy adopted by the Government, I feel sure, will have the desired effect, and those who entertain anarchist ideas will be induced to develop loyal ideas, and disloyalty will be checked. This bold step taken by the Government has done away with the necessity of a protracted trial by the Special Tribunal and it has effected a saving of a large amount of money.

"Rupees 85,97,000 have been provided for the Police. It is to be hoped that expenditure under different sub-heads will be curtailed without affecting efficiency, and thus a saving will be effected for the benefit of general administration.

"There is sufficient room for curtailment of expenditure in the Criminal Intelligence Department. The popular belief is that large sums of money have been spent by subordinate officers who have practically to render no accounts. A large number of items of expenditure being of a confidential nature, publicity cannot be given to them. The public cannot, therefore, be blamed if they believe in the existence of extravagance and leakage. I do not for a moment imagine that superior officers do not exercise a proper check, but I do submit that some of the subordinate officers take advantage of their practically secure position.

"No provision has been made in the Budget for the improvement of the pay and prospects of the members of the Provincial Service. While the Revised Financial Statement was before the Council, I moved a resolution on the subject, but it was lost. I deem it proper to refer to this matter, in the expectation that the case of these officers will be dealt with in a manner satisfactory to them in the near future. I know repetition does not strengthen arguments. But repetition of appeals and entreaties may furnish grounds to Your Honour for reconsidering their case.

"No provision also has been made in the Budget for expenditure that may be incurred by the separation of Judicial and Executive functions. There ought to be no further delay in the introduction of the system, even if it be in a tentative way. I am sure the Government will be put to inconvenience if savings be made from some items of expenditure. But further delay is undesirable and unjustifiable.

"Now that the Khulna Gang Case has come to an end, the expenditure budgeted for, for the conduct of the case before the Special Tribunal, will not have to be incurred, and this saving under the head '19A—Law Courts' may be profitably utilized for this purpose.

"This reformed Council is now entering into its second year of existence. The past year's experience has shown that the relations between the Members, officials and non-officials, Hindus and Muhammadans, Biharis and Bengalis, have been all of a cordial character, and the treatment they have received from the Hon'ble President has been one of indulgent kindness.

"The visit of their Majesties the King-Emperor and the Queen-Empress and the Durbar at Delhi, will be an unique occasion in the history of India, and will give rise to an unfeigned joy throughout the Empire. Their Majesties' visit to Calcutta will be hailed with special joy by His Majesty's subjects under Your Honour's administration. I feel confident that a real and genuine display of loyalty and devotion to the Throne will be a prominent feature in all the demonstrations. This visit will be the beginning of a new era, and the germs of disloyalty and disaffection, which are now in a moribund condition, will disappear entirely, and peace and loyalty and devotion to the Throne will prevail throughout the Empire. The provision of three lakhs of rupees for the Delhi Durbar will undoubtedly meet with general approbation. But we should be glad to learn as to how this money for the Royal visit is going to be spent."

The President said:—

"The Hon'ble MAHARAJ KUMAR of Tikari's speech has been circulated to all Members of Council, and he suggests that it may be taken as read."

The following speech was accordingly taken as read:—

"YOUR HONOUR, I wish to congratulate the Hon'ble Mr. Duke on the satisfactory nature of the Budget that he has presented to the Council.

"The Budget debates in the present Council, though a great improvement on what the Budget debates in the old Councils used to be, have yet very much the nature of mere academic disquisition. This year it seems to have been specially so, partly because the Finance Committee was invited to discuss the Financial Statement at so late a stage and on such very minor points, and partly because the Government could not see their way to accept any of the important resolutions moved by the non-official Members. One can understand and appreciate the reasons that led to the meeting of the Finance Committee at a late stage, but those reasons do not seem sufficient for the Committee when once invited not being given sufficient time or subject-matter for discussion. That Government must have had sufficient reason for following the procedure that was actually adopted one can well understand, possessing as we do in Your Honour a ruler who is in an entire accord with the spirit of the new institution. I point out what seem to me defects that will no doubt be remedied when the next occasion arises.

"High Court.—The Calcutta High Court costs Your Honour's Government a very large sum of money, and expenditure under this head seems likely to keep increasing. The advantage of the High Court, however, is not confined to these provinces alone. The Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam shares these benefits of this institution. May I request Your Honour to so arrange matters with the Government of India that the new Province may bear a due proportion of this large expenditure and give some relief to the resources of Your Honour's Government already so largely burdened with its own expenditure. I would urge this matter on Your Honour's attention, as the present number of Judges seems hardly able to meet the demands of the public, owing to the increase of work by the formation of Special Tribunals to try political offences. In this connection, Your Honour, I beg to point out that the present arrangement of Benches in the High Court puts the Patna Division to great hardship.

"In connection with the great expense incurred in maintaining the High Court establishment, I wish to draw Your Honour's attention to the cognate question of lawyer's fees. Is it possible for the Government to so arrange matters that Crown lawyers, instead of receiving the enormous fees they now charge, should be obtained on some fixed and reasonable salaries? In view of the fact that lawyers of great eminence and ability are always available to act as Chief Justices and puisne Judges on comparatively speaking moderate salaries, Crown Counsel might probably be obtained on similar terms. If this were done, the Government would act in a manner that would not only lessen the cost of their own legal work, but would also give relief to the general public who have to obtain the services of eminent legal gentlemen for their own private business. It is remarkable that one of the legal journals suggested only a little while ago that the remuneration of the lawyer's services ought not at the outside to be much above the maximum remuneration payable to the head of the Judiciary.

"Provincial Settlement.—I beg to offer Your Honour's Government my respectful congratulations on the favourable terms of the new provincial settlement. The new settlement, judging from the speeches of the Hon'ble Sir Guy Fleetwood Wilson and the Hon'ble Mr. Meston in the Imperial Council, is going to be of a permanent nature. Your Honour's Government will now be free from the minute control that used to be exercised over provincial expenditure by the Imperial Government. Having a freer hand and permanent resources, Your Honour's Government will be able effectually to deal with the difficulties of the province.

"Imperial Government Grant.—The Imperial Government, with its usual foresight, has placed large sums at the disposal of Your Honour's Government for sanitation and education. May I venture to offer Your Honour's Government my respectful congratulations on this unexpected good fortune? May I urge the claims of the Province of Bihar to share in the Imperial bounty? Bengal is looked upon as an advanced Province largely because of the great spread of education; while we in Bihar are backwards because of our comparative shortcoming under this head. May I urge upon Your Honour's attention that this disparity should not be allowed to last much longer, and that a substantial portion of the Imperial grant for education be applied to the needs of Bihar?

"Our highly educated compatriots of Bengal have made all India ring with the fame of their Province for insanitariness, while Bihar has justly until recent years been looked upon as one of the healthiest parts of the Empire. But, in spite of its ancient fame for salubrious climate, things have altered very much in recent years in Bihar, and now plague and malaria have found such a foothold among us that it seems difficult to eradicate them. May I press upon Your Honour's attention the necessity of appointing a Commission to inquire into the reasons of this grave change. This Commission might also suggest means for remedying the present evil.

"King-Emperor's visit.—All India rejoices at the prospect of the King's visit to this country, and I wish to convey the thanks of the zamindars whom I have the honour to represent for the initiative taken in this matter by Your Honour personally by presiding over the Town Hall meeting last Wednesday. No efforts should be left untried to give their Imperial Majesties a welcome befitting the enthusiastic loyalty that exists all over India. In this connection I wish to emphasize that there is no community more genuinely and enthusiastically loyal than the zamindars of Bihar. In the demonstrations that are to be arranged to celebrate the occasion, I trust the zamindar community will be given the place that is their due in view of the large stakes they have in the country and the loyal support they have always given to the Government."

The Hon'ble BABU HRISHIKESH LAHA said:—

"Your Honour,—The most prominent feature of the Budget is its large opening balance of Rs. 1,23,03,000 and the closing balance of Rs. 85,77,000. But, if we analyse the latter, we find that the prosperity budget is more in name than in reality. True, we have included in it the grant of Rs. 17½ lakhs from the Government of India towards expenditure on Education and Sanitation, but we are so tied down with instructions that we are not free to spend the amount in any way we like, where our requirements are most urgent. The balance consists of 40 lakhs for the Calcutta Improvement Scheme, and 20 lakhs for the prescribed minimum, so that a small amount of a little over 8¼ lakhs only will be left to meet the progressive requirements of our Province. The balance of receipts over expenditure is, however, a happy sign, and the recent change in the terms of the Provincial Financial Settlement will give more stability to our finances by allowing us a free hand in the control and management of our own enlarged resources. The effect would be beneficial on account of the circumspection and carefulness which the new system would necessarily ensure.

"I have now to congratulate Your Honour on the recent constitution of the Executive Council, which will assist Your Honour in the administration of the Province. The selection of my honourable friend, Rai Kisori Lal Goswami Bahadur, as a representative of the Indian community, is really a happy one, and I feel confident he will fully justify your Honour's choice.

"Notwithstanding the cheerful aspect of our present financial position, the addition of Rs. 5,14,000 to the already heavy expenditure upon law-charges throws a shade of gloom upon it, but it cannot be helped. The recrudescence of political crime after a temporary lull is greatly to be deplored, and, in spite of manifest attempts at economy, the increase of law-charges appears to be inevitable.

"It is a matter of sincere congratulation that the proposals of the Ministerial Officers' Salaries Committee have been taken up in right earnest, and that the increased salaries of the ministerial officers will be paid with arrears of 1909-10 and 1910-11. Last year Rs. 1,10,000 was provided for in this direction, and in the ensuing year Rs. 1,35,000; so it will be seen that a considerable sum has been allotted to improve the position of the clerical services. The grievances of the Assistant Surgeons have not been overlooked, and the provision of Rs. 41,000 for the improvement of their pay and position in the present Budget goes to show that their claims have also been considered.

"Sanitation.—The special grant of 5 lakhs for expenditure under this head over and above the usual provision of 4½ lakhs, making in all 9½ lakhs, will, let us hope, be productive of benefit to the Province, especially when we consider the ravages of malaria and other diseases. I hope that every facility will be given to the people for the purchase of quinine, especially in the malaria-stricken areas, so that they may not find it difficult to obtain it when they require it most.

"In the last Budget Rs. 8,90,000 was allotted to the District Boards to increase their resources, but in the present Budget Rs. 9,25,000 has been granted; and though the increase is small when divided between the several District Boards, it will, however, be greatly appreciated by them.

"In the speech on the last Budget Your Honour was pleased to observe that seventeen fresh projects were sanctioned in 1909-10. The public will be glad to know what further projects have been sanctioned in 1910-11. As a member of the Drainage Committee, I know that sanction has been accorded to the improvement of the Nawi and Sunthi rivers in the neighbourhood of Baraset, which is expected to remove the unhealthiness of that area. The drainage of the swampy area under the Magra Hât Drainage project for which sanction had been obtained before, and the conversion of that area into culturable land, which will give employment and profit to thousands of our agriculturists, will remain a standing monument of British generosity. To my interpellation regarding the re-excavation of the Bager khal, I was told in reply that it was not in the contemplation of Government to make any improvement, 'as it does not appear probable that the parties affected would be willing to pay for the cost of such re-excavation.' So far as I am aware it was estimated that the re-excavation would cost 4 lakhs; and if Government be pleased to make a liberal contribution by way of grant, and the District Boards of Nadia and the 24-Parganas pay their quotas for the improvement, the balance could be raised by loan from Government. If this project be taken up under the Bengal Sanitary Drainage Act, there would be no difficulty in providing for payment of interest and Sinking Fund; and as the debt will be paid off in the course of 30 years, the cess that will be levied from the tract will not press hard and be felt as a grievance, considering that the locality will be free from the epidemics of fever and cholera, and that the inhabitants will get a supply of good drinking-water. I beg leave to commend this project to the best consideration of the Government, as it will do an immense amount of good to the people of the affected locality. While on this subject, I may be permitted to inquire why a further provision of Rs. 30,000 has not been made in the present Budget for the water-works of the Hooghly-Chinsurah Municipality, for, if I am not mistaken, Government generously consented to contribute a lakh of rupees towards the cost of the scheme. In 1910-11, Rs. 70,000 was provided for, and, as I understand the work will be taken in hand shortly, there should have been an entry for the balance in the present Budget.

Ben. Act VIII of 1895.

"Education.—It is gratifying to observe that a larger amount has been allotted for primary education than that in the year 1910-11, but it is to be regretted that the Technical and Industrial schools have not received similar consideration, as in the present Budget we find that the allotment under this head is only Rs. 54,000 with a note of 'larger deduction made for probable savings with reference to actuals.' I hope and trust that it will be found possible to spend the entire allotment usefully in the coming year.

"Munsiffs' quarters.—I have to thank the Hon'ble Mr. Duke, for the uniform courtesy with which he considered the various suggestions that we made in the Finance Committee. I thankfully acknowledge that from the original allotment of Rs. 1,75,000 made for the lines for the new company of Military Police to be stationed near Calcutta, he consented to take off Rs. 25,000 and accepted my suggestion to allot Rs. 20,000 out of it for the construction of quarters for Munsiffs who, as a rule, find it difficult in several places to get decent lodgings.

"As no explanation has been given in the Remarks column, I do not understand why Government should incur the not inconsiderable expense of Rs. 1,07,000, in the entry for 'Timber and other produce removed from the forest by consumers and purchasers.' I do not think it is the policy of Government to spend such a large amount for the benefit of consumers and purchasers in order to encourage the sale of timber, and some explanation on this point is necessary."

The President said:—"The Hon'ble MAULVI SAIYID MUHAMMAD FAKHR-UD-DIN'S speech has already been circulated to all members. If the Hon'ble Member does not particularly wish to read out his speech, it may be taken as read."

The Hon'ble Saiyid Muhammad Fakhr-ud-din said:—"I leave it to Your Honour."

The following speech by the Hon'ble MAULVI SAIYID MUHAMMAD FAKHR-UD-DIN was, accordingly, taken as read:—

"YOUR HONOUR,

"Though the rules only permit the making of general observations at the time of final discussion of the Budget, without admitting any resolutions for any alteration or change on any head in the Financial Statement under discussion, yet I am fully confident that the observations made and remarks passed by the Members of the Council are not altogether ignored or left unnoticed. Such remarks are not intended to bring about any substantial change on the main heads of the Budget allotment, but they serve to represent the demands of the people of the Province. Such observations are expected at least to supply material information, in order to be of use in the preparation of the Budget in the next year. Sir, it is only with that idea that I crave Your Honour's permission to pass a few remarks on some important matters.

"Education in Bihar.—Sir, it is admitted on all hands that education plays an important part in the progress and prosperity of the country, and at the same time it cannot be denied that Bihar is yet far behind its sister province Bengal in the matter of education. The reason is not far to seek. In the beginning, unfortunately, Biharees did not think it worth while to avail themselves of western education on account of some ideal prejudices, but, when better counsel prevailed and such prejudices were shaken off, and guardians began to care to educate their children in schools and colleges, they could not find such facilities in the Province of Bihar as are afforded in Bengal.

"There was a time when only one Government college was sufficient to educate the students of Bihar, but time changed, and changed very rapidly. People of Bihar began to feel the necessity of establishing other colleges in the various districts and divisions. Even the people of the Trans-Gangetic part of the province did not lack behind; they started a college at Muzaffarpur. It cannot be reasonably contended for a moment that only one Government college could be at all adequate to satisfy the demands of the rising generation of Bihar. Bihar is really indebted to the founders of the private colleges for their patriotism and public spiritedness. But the question is, are the people alone to take care of themselves, or is the Government bound to afford all possible facilities of education to them? The answer is plain, and we cannot deny that, if the Government would not have extended its helping hand, it would have been difficult, rather, absolutely impossible, under the rigour of the new University rules, to maintain most of these private colleges. But, Sir, with all this, we have yet to complain that the help has not been adequate to meet our requirements and to maintain the private colleges in an efficient condition.

"Bihar National College.—Sir, there has hitherto been a bitter feeling that education has been neglected by Government in Bihar, as comparatively very little money has been allotted to the share of Bihar. But people of Bihar are really grateful to Your Honour for the early step which Your Honour took in visiting the Bihar National College. At the time of Your Honour's visit to that College, Your Honour's appreciation of the needs and wants of Bihar in the matter of education, and Your Honour's promise to take keen interest and give all possible help in the matter of education in future, have not only tended to remove the misgivings from the minds of the people of Bihar, but have given new life and impetus to the general public. Your Honour's visit was not of a formal character, but of a substantial nature. The general grant of Rs. 5,000 for the improvement of that College, and a special grant of

Rs. 2,000 for the purchase of some necessary apparatus for the laboratory of the College, will no doubt go to satisfy the partial needs of that College. But, Sir, we are yet in need of more money in order to place the College in an efficient and satisfactory basis, and, Sir, we can do nothing, unless we receive substantial help from Your Honour's Government.

"I understand that the Bihar National College is the only college in Bihar which has hitherto received help from the maintenance grant up till 1909-10; the grant was limited to Rs. 2,400 annually, but we are much grateful to the Hon'ble the Director of Public Instruction of Bengal for doubling the amount in the year 1910-11, when he was convinced of the needs of that College. I am more grateful to him, as he was able with much difficulty to help the College after the Budget had already been passed.

"The little money collected from subscriptions and college fees, even though supplemented by the maintenance grant of Rs. 400 a month has compelled us to keep the College on a comparatively poor scale. We have not been able to pay adequate compensation to the tutorial staff. I believe, Sir, the pay which the Professors of the Bihar National College get is comparatively too low to expect from them a guarantee of their being permanent, or at least having a reasonably long connection with the College. I am fully convinced that Your Honour will share with my views that constant changes of Professors bring a dead loss to the students and the College.

"We have carried out the suggestion of the Hon'ble the Director of Public Instruction of Bengal in raising the fee of the students of the College, but even this has not enabled us to make any decent increase in the pay of the Professors.

"I agree with the Hon'ble the Director of Public Instruction that the matter of grants-in-aid should not form the subject-matter of Resolutions on the items of Budget, as they come under the details of expenses, and it was on that account that I did not move any resolution for the increase of such a grant to the Bihar National College.

"Moreover, Your Honour has seen the disadvantageous position of the Members in moving the resolutions in connection with the particular items of the Budget. We have not only to press our demands, but we have to suggest a proportionate decrease on some other head. But the shortness of time that we get for the study of the Financial statement placed before us in a cut-and-dry form, cannot possibly allow us to make proper suggestions for the curtailment of expenses under any particular head.

"However, the observations that I have made with regard to the Bihar National College will, I hope, enable the Government and the Hon'ble the Director of Public Instruction of Bengal to realise the importance of the demand in making the distribution of the grants.

"Patna Collegiate School.—Sir, we were sadly disappointed to find an omission in the Financial Statement of an important and long expected item of expenditure for construction of a building for the Patna Collegiate School. Your Honour, and the Hon'ble the Director of Public Instruction of Bengal, are well aware that, since the detachment of the Patna Collegiate School from the Patna College under the new Regulations of the University, the school has been located in a rented house of the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Sharfuddin. It is the residential house of the owner, and it was never built with the idea of converting it into school premises. Though the house is sufficiently large for residential purposes, yet it is insufficient to accommodate any educational institution, where hostel and playground are necessary to form part of the same.

"Last year, questions were put in the Council with a view to ascertain the prospect of any permanent and suitable accommodation. At the time of the final discussion of the Budget, I had the honour to invite the attention of Your Honour's Government and this Council on the subject, and though I had the fullest hope that in the present Budget due provision would be made, but, to the utter misfortune of Bihar, we have yet to wait.

"Sir, I was hitherto under the impression that some scheme was prepared in the time of Sir Andrew Fraser, our late Lieutenant Governor, for acquisition of some land to the east of the Patna College, and that the land was to be utilised for the construction of the premises for the Patna Collegiate School with hostel and playground attached. The acquisition was to serve two-fold purposes—one to give a permanent habitation to the school, and the other to get rid of the densely populated and dirty quarter from the vicinity of the College hostel already existing, and thus to remove not only the needs of the students of the school, but also to make the College hostels healthier. But the answer given to the question put by the Hon'ble Khan Bahadur Maulvi Sarfarez Husain Khan at the last meeting of this Council, indicates that no site has yet been definitely selected for the location of the school.

"Sir, being the Secretary of the Patna Collegiate School Committee, I think I am in a better position to inform Your Honour's Government how urgent and necessary it is to provide a suitable accommodation for the school. The present rented house is no longer sufficient to accommodate all the students desiring to enjoy the hostel accommodation.

"We are indeed very much grateful to the Government of India for giving us a munificient grant of 12 lakhs of rupees to be spent on the head of Education. A Committee of official and non-official Members is to be formed for the purpose of determining how this money has to be spent. Will it be too much to ask that the claim of the Patna Collegiate School should be satisfied out of a portion of the money at the disposal of the Committee. Having regard to the importance of the demand, I have no reason to doubt that the claim of the school will commend itself to Your Honour's Government and the Members of the Committee.

"Tirhut College.—I think, I may be failing in my duty if I do not advocate the cause of the Bhumiar Brahman College at Muzaffarpur. The necessities, and the present condition of that College, were fully explained and thoroughly dealt with by the Hon'ble Babu Braja Kishor Prasad in his speech delivered in connection with certain items of the budget, and it is needless to repeat them here. There can be no two opinions that the College at Muzaffarpur needs, to a large extent, help from Your Honour's Government. However, it has given great satisfaction that the Hon'ble the Director of Public Instruction and Your Honour's Government are ready and willing to accord fullest consideration to the representations of the College authorities. We hope that in the near future the College will be relieved of the difficulties by the extension of the liberal help of Your Honour's Government.

"Courts of Law.—No doubt it is a sad thing to find a tremendously large sum of money budgeted for expenses in Political cases. I do not deny the necessity of such an expense, and for that my own countrymen are to blame. I should have expected the application of such a large sum of money on the head of Education. I sincerely hope that the situation will soon change, that political crimes will fade away and that there will be no occasion to find such sums budgeted in the next year."

The Hon'ble MR. SAIYID WASI AHMAD said:—

"Sir,—'The enlargement of the Legislative Councils and the extension of their functions to the discussions of administrative questions are the widest, most deep-reaching and most substantial features of the scheme which we now put forward.' Upon such pronouncement, emanating as it did from the highest authority in the land, great were the expectations of the elected Members of this enlarged Council. And the different electorates watched with keen eyes and the most attentive minds as to what their representatives were going to do. Apart from other rights and privileges, so graciously conceded to the non-official Members, the greatest and the most cherished one is the right of taking part in the framing of our annual Budgets. The appointment of a Finance Committee each year under the present rules, in which no less than six Members are elected by non-official Members, was considered to be a great privilege. And it was for this reason that Your Honour's attention was particularly drawn, soon after the election of the Members of the Finance Committee, as also during the Budget debates last year, to the fact that no Member from Bihar could be elected under the rules then existing. And we are grateful to Your Honour for giving due consideration to our representations and revising the rules for election of Members of the Finance Committee. Last year, Sir, on account of shortness of time and the most hurried way in which the Budget was placed before the Council for discussion, many non-official Members felt dissatisfied and even aggrieved, if I may be permitted to say so, for not having been able to move any resolution, and thus to fulfil the expectations of their different constituencies The scheme was, however, new and elaborate, and Your Honour had so much to do in launching the first assembly of its kind that we all had to content ourselves with better luck next time.

"This year, Sir, we started with changed rules for the election of non-official Members of the Finance Committee, and with two Bihari Members elected in the Committee we naturally had great expectations. Under rule 7, clause (2), this Committee should have begun its sittings not later than the 20th of January and completed them not later than the 28th of the same month, and under rule 8 the Members should have submitted their report not later than the 28th of January. But we find this Committee sat for the first and perhaps for the last time on the 6th of March. I don't know how far this was legal, and whether the members of the Committee were not functi officio on the 6th of March. Apart from the legal question which I crave leave to bring most prominently before Your Honour, the most unfortunate part of it was that the Members could hardly do anything in the Committee, and if I mistake not, they only sat for deliberation for about 45 minutes. Again, after passing through that stage of the Budget, the same difficulty arose when the Members were asked to send in their resolutions, if any, viz., they hardly got sufficient time to study the Budget in order to frame their suggestions in the shape of resolutions. My object in bringing this forward is that, whatever may be the cause or causes for such unfortunate relaxation of rules and shortness of time allowed to us to send in our resolutions, I trust Your Honour will do something to remedy this grievance of the non-official Members in future.

"It is a matter of sincere satisfaction to us all to see marked improvement under heads 'Education' and 'Sanitation' Education is the crying need of Bihar. And, if I had not the fear of over proving a point, I should have liked to deal with this most important question in detail. But by now all our grievances in this connection have, I venture to think, already been placed before Your Honour, and I invite your particular attention, Sir, towards the improvement of private colleges and schools in Bihar. I also venture to suggest that much has to be done for the maktab education of the Muhammadan boys in Bihar. As to the sanitary improvements, I would specially draw Your Honour's attention to the district of Purnea, where the ravages of malaria are well known, and the most unhealthy and insanitary conditions of Patna City. The question of water-supply to the town of Bhagalpur has on several occasions been brought to Your Honour's notice, and unless the Government comes forward with a substantial help, it will be difficult for the people of Bhagalpur to successfully combat with the present situation.

"It is already known to Your Honour that ever since the river Ganges has changed its course and shifted further south of the water-works, it has been engaging the most serious attention of the Bhagalpur Municipality. We are grateful to Your Honour's Government for giving substantial help from time to time in this connection. I may mention here that, whereas we realize a sum of Rs. 40,675 on account of water-rate, including the District Board contribution of Rs. 5,000 we actually have to spend Rs. 52,769, because of the recession of the river Naturally, therefore, we are in great financial difficulties on account of our water-works, and I trust Your Honour will be able to save us from the present perilous situation.

"I have mentioned the needs of the district of Purnea, the city of Patna, and the Bhagalpur Water-works in the hope that their respective claims may be favourably considered by Your Honour's Government when the allotments under 'Sanitation' are made for various purposes.

"I cannot help, even at this stage of the discussion, drawing Your Honour's attention to the grievances of the members of the Provincial Service, both Judicial and Executive. In the last year's Budget discussions my hon'ble friend, Babu Braja Kishor Prashad, and some other Hon'ble Members of this Council advocated the cause of these two services. There were subsequent discussions on the subject in August last, and we entertain sanguine hopes that we shall hear in the near future of the improvements in the pay and status of these deserving officers.

"I must also place my emphatic protest against the large expenditure under heads 'Law and Justice—Courts of Law'—particularly against fees to Counsel in connection with the trial of political cases. The other day the Hon'ble Mr. Chapman drew our attention to the immense difficulties the Government have to face in getting the services of lawyers in such cases, and I quite appreciate that such difficulties may occasionally arise; but if the Government always and in every case encounters such difficulties, something ought to be done to overcome them. A few experienced and capable lawyers, for instance, may be retained to conduct Crown cases on a monthly salary, as Government advocates, and this course, I venture to submit, may to a very large extent obviate the difficulties and reduce the expenditure under this head.

"I am not pleased to find a reduction of Rs. 39,000 in the grants to Commissioners and Heads of Departments for minor works. From personal experience of mufassal life I am convinced that it is absolutely necessary to allow the Commissioner a sum of fully one lakh, if not more, for speedy and prompt help in urgent needs and requirements of the people in their respective divisions. The amount under this head has, however, been curtailed under extraordinary circumstances this year, and I hope it will not be so in the next year.

"With these few observations I beg to support the Budget."

The President:—"As the Hon'ble Khan Bahadur Maulvi Sarfaraz Husain Khan's speech has been circulated to all Members, I would propose that it be taken as read."

The Hon'ble Khan Bahadur Maulvi Sarfaraz Husain Khan said:—"With Your Honour's permission I would add only a few words at the beginning of my speech. In his speech to-day my hon'ble colleague, Mr. Syed Wasi Ahmad, has referred to the question of the necessity of supplying filtered water to the Patna Municipality for drinking purposes. As Vice-Chairman of the Municipality, I bear testimony to the fact that the Municipality badly needs a filtered water-supply. It is a very old city, and as such needs sanitary improvements in various ways. But the supply of filtered water to it will be regarded as an improvement of the greatest value, highly calculated to improve the general health of the people, and reduce the death-rate consequent on the breaking of epidemics from time to time. Sir, the Government came to the assistance of the Patna Municipal Commissioners when, years ago, they needed a drainage scheme. Government also extended it is helping hands to them when they wanted to instal a flushing scheme. A short time ago, Government has been pleased to give the Municipality a grant of Rs. 50,000. The Sanitary Engineer of Bengal is now of opinion that at about double the cost of the present estimated cost, he can supply the Patna Municipality with the water for flushing, as well as filtered water for drinking purposes. Thus, I may take the liberty of drawing the attention of His Honour in this Council to the question, and ask His Honour to take the case into his favourable consideration at the time of the distribution of the expenditure of the grant which the Government of India has made to our Provincial Government for purposes of Education and Sanitation."

The following portion of the Hon'ble Member's speech having been circulated to all members of Council was taken as read :—

"Your Honour, I must first of all congratulate Your Honour's Government on the prosperity budget which has been presented to the Council. In spite of the great and ever-increasing demands on the Exchequer of the Government, allotments under the head Education have steadily increased year by year, so much so that in the year 1911-12 the allotment under this head amounts to Rs. 70,26,000. In 1906-07 the allotment was Rs. 38,50,749, in 1907-08 Rs. 45,52,592, in 1908-09 Rs. 55,28,726, in 1909-10 Rs. 55,68,813, in 1910-11 Rs. 59,17,000) which, according to the Revised Estimate, amounted to Rs. 55,52,000) and in the current year, viz., 1911-12, Rs. 70,26,000. I should, however, have liked the allotment under the head Education, especially Primary Education, to have been much larger than what it is at present—the intellectual advancement of a country being the standard by which its prosperity is judged. The cause of primary education has been so ably, eloquently and forcibly urged by our distinguished countryman, the Hon'ble Mr. Gokhale, that it would be a mere waste of time and energy to dwell on it again, and now it is only our fervent hope that the time may soon come when Government may find itself in a position to materially advance its cause. Sir, it is also not without regret that I have to note in the budget a gradual increase of expenditure under the heads 'Law and Justice' and 'Police.' In the year 1906-07 the expenditure under these heads was Rs. 1,69,78,833, while in the current year's budget the estimate of expenditure amounts to Rs. 1,98,00,000, showing clearly that in five years the expenditure under the heads has increased by Rs. 28,21,167. What a real good would have been done to the province if this amount had been spent on Education? How much would it have tended to the material prosperity of the province if the amount had been spent on irrigation? Here I avail myself of the opportunity of drawing the attention of that section of my countrymen, howsoever small that section may be, who believe in anarchism and terrorism, to the fact that their action, so far from helping the cause of the country, has tended to arrest the march of its social progress by causing public money that could have been spent on education to have been spent on matters which neither directly nor indirectly conduce to the well being of the people, as it was only because of their action that the Government has had to incur larger and increased expenditure on the Police and Court.

"Regarding the Province of Bihar, one of the divisions of which I have the honour to represent on behalf of Municipal Commissioners, I feel it my bounden duty to thank Government for the growing attention the Province is receiving at its hands. But at the same time I may be permitted to point out that the requirements of the Province have not yet been duly met, and, whatever may be the present difficulties of Government in meeting its wants, it is but fair to ask that expenditure on it be commensurate with its local needs and in proportion to its contribution to the revenues of the Province. Sir, the needs of Bihar have been brought before the Council by my hon'ble colleagues representing the different divisions and vested interests of Bihar, and by myself from time to time, and it will be needless for me to enumerate them here.

"At this time of the general discussion of the budget I do not think it will be desirable to enter into the discussion of any particular head or heads of expenditure. The time for that is past, and our present remarks can only have the effect of influencing the future.

"In connection with the discussion of the Financial Statement, all I need say is that the non-official members, as matters stand at present, have little or no effective voice in the distribution of expenditure. Last year I felt and was under the impression that the members of the Finance Committee had some real hand in the framing of the Budget or had some discretionary powers over expenditure, and it was therefore that the Bihar members felt relieved when two Biharis were elected as members of the Finance Committee of this year. But our illusion has been dispelled, and, from my experience of the Finance Committee, I can say that unless some change is made in its procedure the non-official members will always remain at a disadvantage. As matters stand, the time at their disposal is too short to enable them to give due consideration to the matters placed before them for discussion. For instance, the memorandum circulated to the members of the Finance Committee says:—"The following note is now circulated to the members of the Finance Committee explaining in greater detail the proposals of the Local Government under the head of 'New works' under 45—Civil Works, in the charge of the Public Works Department. This is the only expenditure regarding the distribution of which it is at present possible to consult the Finance Committee. The sum to be spent upon new works in the Public Works Budget—Civil Works—stands at present at Rs. 5,96,600 and the Local Government recommends that the following works be undertaken for the reasons specified in each instance."

"The above memorandum was dated the 3rd March, and the Finance Committee was called on the 6th March, the inevitable result of which was that the members of the Finance Committee had little or no time to come to any right conclusion with regard to the urgency of the different projects laid before them or to make their own suggestions. Apart from this fact, when it is considered that, out of the current year's estimated expenditure of Rs. 6,71,48,000, the members of the Finance Committee had to be consulted on the expenditure of only Rs. 5,96,900 under circumstances when they had hardly time to give due consideration to the recommendations made to them, the non-official members cannot help feeling their relative helplessness in the matter of the distribution of the expenditure of the province of the Legislative Council of which they have the honour to be members."

The Hon'ble BABU BAL KRISHNA SAHAY said:—

"MAY it please your Honour, before making any observations on the Budget I may be excused for repeating an old complaint that sufficient time is not allowed to the Members to fully study and properly consider and discuss the Budget. Very little time is given them to propose resolutions, and the difficulty has this year been enhanced by the fact that proposals for the disposal of certain sums could not be framed, as conditions governing certain grants by the India Government were not made known early. Even the Finance Committee, for some reason or other, could not sit before the 6th of March, so, before moving resolutions, the Members could not know the views of the Finance Committee. Your Honour was pleased to express a similar view on the 13th of March last when Your Honour said:—'I wish to say that Government entirely appreciates the difficulties which the non-official Members evidently experience in indicating items under which reduction of expenditure can be made. That difficulty is not in any way the fault of the Hon'ble Members. It is due to the shortness of time which under the present system is inevitable.' Your Honour will therefore permit me to suggest that steps should be taken to remove these difficulties infuture. At least a fortnight should be allowed to study and frame resolutions. The rules, if necessary, should be amended accordingly. Your Honour's words that 'we are going to consider in the course of the year whether it is not possible to devise some means under which Hon'ble Members will have greater facilities at their disposal for the purpose of picking out items in which reductions are possible,' are very encouraging, and I hope, Sir, that this complaint will be soon removed.

"Now, Sir, let me congratulate the Hon'ble the Finance Member for the elaborate and lucid Budget which he has presented to us. I can very well realise the difficulties experienced by one who is pressed for money from various sides and has to see that no important work suffers. People look at things from different points of view, and this enhances the difficulty of the distributor. On the whole, our present Budget shows a careful and fair allotment.

"To go into details, it is highly satisfactory that the closing balance again shows an improvement, and it is hoped that in future it will steadily increase. It is really a matter of great regret, nay unfortunate, that anarchism has not yet died out in the country, as it was once believed to have done. It is merely fanatical to suppose that, by stealthily killing a few men here and there, any good can be secured. It is certainly not vicious deeds but pious acts that bring happiness; and what is true for an individual is true for a nation. The so-called nationalists are doing great mischief to the cause of progress and advance. We can progress only when there is peace and order in the land and never during tumults and bloodshed. God is love, and so it is irreligious to be devoid of that great attribute of God. It is very astonishing how any one thinks himself justified in taking away the life which he cannot give, and that in the name of nationality, as if for every nation there was a separate God and a separate Father. Had it not been for this anarchism, we would not have found a big jump in the Provincial expenditure upon law charges, from 2 lakhs and odd in 1907-08 to Rs. 7,90,572 in 1908-09, and though it showed a little decrease in 1909-10 (Rs. 6,27,358), it again rose up in 1910-11 to Rs. 9,70,000. A good deal of public time, energy and money are wasted over these unfortunate and, I may say, calamitous occurrences. Government are showing great favour and leniency, but the rash youths, decidedly backed by some mischievous heads, are still bent on doing wrong to the country. Our present Viceroy has shewn great wisdom and statesmanship in connection with the extension of the Seditious Meetings Act. Let us hope that the heads of these lunatics, self-styled friends of India, will cool down and return to a normal state.

"Education.—The Imperial grant has very much strengthened Your Honour's hands and bettered our financial situation. We are sincerely grateful to His Excellency the Viceroy for this help in a very right and needed direction. This will, I hope, remove from the mind of the Hon'ble the Director of Public Instruction the fear of inundation. This will enable us to remove the long-felt want of having hostels in all centres of education, and especially in Calcutta, where some arrangement for Bihari boys, also, will not be lost sight of. I hope Ranchi will not be neglected, where, as I said the other day, there is a great need of a hostel for the non-Christian Kol boys.

"On the subject of hostels, I had a talk with Mr. Tipping, our popular and energetic Headmaster of the Ranchi Zilla School. He takes a keen interest in the welfare of the boys. He said that a hostel near the zilla school was very badly needed. I understand that a hostel site for the zamindars' boys has already been selected, and an estimate made. As for the Kol boys there are about 55 non-Christians in charge of the Uraon-Munda-Siksha-Sabha, and the President of the sabha informed me that 15 boys are reading in the Ranchi Zilla School from 3rd to 7th class, 5 in the G. E. L. High School, 4 in the Industrial School and the rest in the Middle Vernacular, Upper Primary and Lower Primary schools. These boys come from different thanas in the district and have no schools near their homes. I beg leave to submit that this sabha deserves encouragement at the hands of Government. The old bungalow, which was previously occupied by the Headmasters, might, with some additions and alterations, be used with advantage as a general hostel.

"There is yet another point in connection with education. The Ranchi S. P. G. Mission School had to build a new house, as the number of boys in the school had very much increased, and the Revd. Canon Cosgrave, the Principal of the School, told me the other day that the mission built the new house under the hope that the Government would, under the circumstances of their case, help them, and I beg leave to draw the attention of the Hon'ble the Director of Public Instruction to this, with the request that he will be pleased to see that these gentlemen, who are really doing good work in the district, are not disappointed, especially in view of the fact that out of 450 boys in the school they are imparting education to 110 non-Christian boys.

"I would once again, Sir, as I did last year, impress the necessity of giving some moral lessons to the school boys and making some arrangement for the same. I hope gentlemen will not be found wanting who would most willingly undertake the task.

"While mentioning with great pleasure that two new Hindi girls' schools have been started in Ranchi, one by the local Marwaris, and the other by some Bihar gentlemen, I regret to say that they keenly feel the necessity of good female teachers. There is a well-managed Kanya Maha Vidyalaya at Jullunder, and, in my humble opinion, arrangements should be made to send some elderly widows to be trained there who might be utilised as teachers for our schools in the province; and in order to induce such women to go and be trained there, a few Government scholarships ought to be created. I beg to draw the attention of the Hon'ble the Director of Public Instruction in this behalf.

"It is indeed very satisfactory to note that the case of the ill-paid School Sub-Inspectors has been favourably considered and provision made for regrading their pay.

"Excise.—I regret I did not make myself clear last year when I spoke on Excise income. I never meant to say that Excise revenue should be abolished. Looked at from the Government point of view, I understand the imposition of Excise revenue is intended to check the indiscriminate consumption of liquor. I quite understand that, if the Excise Act were to be repealed, many would begin making liquors in their own houses, and the vice would increase, particularly among rich people; but, Sir, I believe I am correct when I say that it is the poorer class of men who consume country liquor the most indiscriminately. The country is being very much impoverished by its use—not only is money thrown into the water, but our very blood is being turned into water.

Bengal Act V of 1909.

"We find in the Budget that there has been what is described as a 'noticeable improvement on the receipt side (Rs. 2,74,000) under Excise,' and it is admitted 'that the increase in the revised is due to better settlement and increased consumption.' What I wanted to suggest was that our good Government should devise means to stop this 'increased consumption.' I may not be again misunderstood to say that I lay the blame at the door of Government. It is decidedly the fault of the people, the consumers. But, Sir, has not Providence placed these people under the care and guidance of the British Government, and the Government, as protector of the people, should devise means and take measures to see that we may have opportunities to find a fall in the Excise income, and to find a note 'due to decreased consumption' appended?

"Roads in Chota Nagpur.—I crave leave to draw Your Honour's attention to the fact that Chota Nagpur District Boards have not funds enough to keep up the extensive roads under them, far less to make new roads which are very badly required in many parts of the Division. Many projects have been abandoned or put off for want of funds. A good Ranchi-Khunti road is a crying necessity. Its extension to Chundit is another want. This is only an instance. There are many parts of the Division which have not been opened out by roads. I therefore pray that Your Honour will be pleased to put in the hands of the Commissioner of Chota Nagpur such amount as Your Honour can conveniently spare.

"Sanitary.—Both Imperial and Provincial Governments have always in view this important head, and we are grateful for the actions that are from time to time taken towards sanitary improvements. We have this year been fortunate to get a large grant from the Imperial Government. I ask leave to suggest that, bad drinking water being the root of most of the diseases, steps should be taken to empower the District Boards to reserve tanks in villages for drinking purposes only, and to prohibit by beat of drum or otherwise, bathing, washing clothes, cattle, etc., under pain of prosecution. I have inquired into the matter, and zamindars will be found who will very gladly place a tank or two, for the purpose, under the control of District Boards. I am afraid there is no such provision in the Local Self-Government Act, and, if so advised, the law might be amended. I hope this will go a great way in stopping epidemics. Out of this grant some money should be given to the Chota Nagpur District Boards, especially Ranchi, to meet the necessary expenses in connection with the above as also to make pucca some of the daris (springs) in the interior, under similar conditions and prohibitions.

"Coronation Durbar.—The most welcome item is the expenditure of three lakhs for the Coronation Durbar to be held on the 12th of December, 1911. All India rejoices at the news of the Royal visit and is longing to see the 12th of December. Raj darshan is considered by the Hindus to be a pious deed, and I feel sure this Royal visit will go a great way in bridging the gulf and uniting the ruler and ruled more closely."

The Hon'ble SIR BIJAY CHAND MAHTAB, K.C.I.E., Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan, said:—

"Your Honour,—I only wish to make a few observations, for some of my hon'ble colleagues have already exhausted many of the matters that I wanted to bring forward in connection with the provisions of the Budget. First of all, I must, of course, join in the chorus of congratulations and congratulate my hon'ble friend Mr. Wheeler on the prosperity budget, and I must congratulate the Government of Bengal on the new arrangement that has been arrived at between the Imperial and Provincial Governments. I hail with pleasure the large grants that have been made this year under the heads 'Education' and 'Sanitation.' But, in connection with the grants made under the head 'Education', I wish to draw the attention of Government to the absolute necessity of starting model public schools in the province. I am glad my hon'ble friend Babu Bal Krishna Sahay has drawn the attention of the Government regarding the hostel to be attached to the zilla school at Ranchi. As I hope to approach the Government before long about a crystallised scheme for hostels for the well-to-do classes at Ranchi, I shall not go into the matter at present; but I may just impress on my hon'ble friend Mr. Küchler the needs of these model public schools and of making a start by putting the Ranchi Zilla School on such a footing. These hostels that we propose, and regarding which we hope to approach Your Honour's Government before long, will, I am sure, be largely resorted to by the sons of the well-to-do classes. By the phrase "well-to-do" I do not mean simply the zamindars' sons, because, no doubt, the zamindars fall under that category, but also the wealthy members of the different sections of the professional classes and of the educated middle classes. Now, while on this point, I may say that it would be a gracious act on the part of the Government, as the Ranchi College scheme has, for want of funds, been shelved for the time being, to consider very carefully this proposal when it comes before the Government through the proper channel.

"As regards the grants under head 'Sanitation' difficulty has been felt in the inadequate number of crystallised schemes being brought before the Government. Often the complaint is that there are not enough schemes to spend this money upon. But I think that if the Government officials who are entrusted with the expenditure of this amount, were to consult more mufassal Members than town Members regarding the ways these amounts should be spent, I am sure many suggestions would come forward, and many schemes could be definitely shaped. I have nothing else to add but to thank Your Honour and more particularly the Hon'ble Mr. Wheeler for putting into the budget the very small sum (Rs. 5,000) for the medical officer's quarters for the Fraser Hospital at Burdwan. In this hospital scheme I have taken a very great interest, and, on behalf of the Raj, have spent a considerable amount of money, and I am therefore anxious to see the whole scheme completed, which the small grant will help to do. In conclusion, I wish the province all prosperity, during the current year, specially in view of the Royal visit, and now I beg to support the budget before us"

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

"Your Honour, I feel as a Member of this Council, and as one in particular not holding a very convenient seat in this Council, that I may be permitted to bring to Your Honour's notice the great unsuitability of this hall for the purpose of a Council chamber. I realize that when the reforms scheme was inaugurated we had not then any chamber ready at hand; but at the same time Your Honour will have, I have no doubt, some consideration for the strained voices of those who have to address this assembly from its extreme end, and, at the same time, to bear in mind the thread of the argument which they have got to follow. It may be difficult, Sir, in the life-time of the present Council, to have a suitable chamber for its accommodation. There was an observation recently made in another place that the Supreme Government was going to have a Council chamber of its own. Whether they will give us a place in that Council chamber is a matter of which I am absolutely ignorant, but, in the meantime, I think that we, the Members of Your Honour's Council, have a legitimate grievance that we are not housed in more suitable quarters. I do not know whether it would be possible to convert the old Council chamber with the corridor into a place which will accommodate the present number of members, if that chamber were so altered as to bring within its compass 50 or 60 men who would be able to make themselves heard at least by each other. There is another difficulty, and that difficulty is very great. When we are addressing this Council, we have not got at our disposal books of reference, and a debate in which books of reference cannot be looked up for the purpose of meeting an argument or laying down some proposition—a debate like that is shorn of much of its usefulness. I may instance that only the other day, when my hon'ble friend, Mr. Bompas, was delivering a long tirade upon the woes of the people of the Sonthal Parganas, and ascribed imaginary reasons for that state of affairs, we were unable to refer to any authorities which would controvert or corroborate the proposition which my friend was laying down with a great deal of authority. We felt, Sir, like some of those wooden images, which villagers hew out of rotten timber in times of calamity, and before whom they pour out all their invectives against an offending divinity, and the poor image sits there still unable to answer and swallowing all the abuses that are hurled against it. Our fate is very much the same as that of the wooden images of our village folk. Therefore, Sir, apart from the unsuitability of this Council chamber, the want of a good library with books of reference near at hand is very keenly felt by those who desire to refer to books and other documents for the purpose of conducting a debate with some degree of real interest in it.

"Sir, from the Council chamber by a very natural and easy descent, I come to the consideration of our jails in this Province. Last year, Sir, I ventured to submit to Your Honour some matters in connection with the administration of jails. This year also I have to bring to the notice of the Council a rather startling fact, that, whereas the general death-rate of the Province was about 24 per mille, there was in the jails of Hazaribagh a death-rate of 71·5 per mille, though Hazaribagh is well known to be a health resort in Bengal. This is a matter which requires very careful consideration, and the Sanitary Commissioner, while allowing that probably contaminated sources of water-supply were responsible for this state of affairs, has not indicated the causes which led to this extraordinary mortality. Apart from this heavy death-rate in the Hazaribagh Jail, the death-rate throughout our jails was rather high last year. Then, Sir, there is one very curious observation in our Administration Report on Bengal Jails—that amongst the jail population those who are able to read and write are about 8·42 per cent., but those who are able to read only are 1·74 per cent. That is a result which clearly shows that there must be some error in recording this percentage of literacy in our jail population, for common experience tells us that those who are able to read and write are much fewer in number than those who can only read.

"From jails, Sir, I pass on very naturally to political offenders. At the present moment I am not concerned with them, but with the money which they have cost us in their trial during the last year and this. We notice with satisfaction a change in the policy of Government, as regards the method by which this class of offenders should be dealt with. But, apart from the clemency which has been shown to them in a recent case referred to on this occasion by my friend, the Hon'ble Rai Baikuntha Nath Sen Bahadur, we, as mere outsiders, may say without impertinence that, if we dealt with this class of men as ordinary offenders, i.e., get hold of a dacoit and try him as such, instead of setting him up on a high pedestal of waging war against the King-Emperor and of being a member of a large conspiracy to subvert British rule, we should be able to deal with these people much more summarily and with much less expenditure, and the result would not attract attention and notoriety and the punishment that these men would get as ordinary offenders would have a very wholesome effect. Most of my friends who have spoken have dwelt on the very large expenditure which this class of offenders has cost us. Last year we budgeted about a lakh and-a-half for dealing with these criminals, and we spent 7½ lakhs, and I think the Government owed some fees at the end of the year to many eminent lawyers whom it engaged during the trial of these offences. I hope a saner view will be taken of the situation in the prosecution of these cases in future.

"From political offences, some of which at least have been ascribed in certain quarters to the impetus of western education that has prevailed in our country for the last 50 years, I pass on to the subject of education. I would not encroach upon the province of my hon'ble friend to my right who has dealt so ably with this subject, but there is one aspect of the question with which I believe he has not dealt this morning—I am not sure, I plead guilty of having come here a little late——I see my hon'ble friend Mr. Küchler sitting opposite to me smiling. I believe I am right in saying that last year we made a provision of 2½ lakhs for female education throughout the province. I am taking the figures roughly; that I submit is a very inadequate provision for female education in Bengal, Bihar and Orissa, and much is to be done in respect of female education in this country. I recognize the difficulties amongst us, Hindus, whose girls have to be married below a certain age; the question of imparting sound education to our girls is a matter of very great difficulty. The difficulty does not apply in the case of our Muhammadan fellow subjects. They are much better off so far as opportunities of imparting a sounder education to their women are concerned than we are, because they are not hampered by the rules of early marriage with which we are hampered, and I am glad to find that our Muhammadan brethren are trying to seek to further the cause of female education amongst themselves. In Calcutta we have got only one Government school, and I believe no primary schools for girls are maintained by Government. The one Government school I am referring to, the Bethune School of Calcutta for female students, would hardly be considered adequate even for the small children who go to the school department there to receive their education. We have no doubt indigenous schools in Calcutta such as the Mahakali Pathsala. But I would respectfully urge upon the attention of the Government the desirability of having two or three other schools in Calcutta for the primary education of our girls. Then leaving the school department, I come to the college department of the Bethune institution. I would remind my friend the Hon'ble Mr. Küchler that in the Bethune College the only branch of science in which instruction is imparted is Botany, and girls who want to take up other branches of science in the Intermediate (Science) and B. Sc.. Examinations vainly knock their heads against the portals of the Presidency College, because the Bethune College does not provide for any course of instruction in other subjects. In private colleges in Calcutta, the state of things as regards arrangements and accommodation is not so good as in the Presidency College itself. If accommodation cannot be provided in the Bethune College for the education of girls in science, now that the University has opened its gates to girls as well as boys, and if girls are willing to enter it on its own terms, I would appeal to Your Honour that some suitable provision be made for accommodating girl students in the Presidency College, where they seek to take up scientific subjects in the Intermediate and B. A. Examinations.

"There is one matter to which my friend the Hon'ble Maharajadhiraja Bahadur of Burdwan has referred. That is the hostel scheme at Ranchi. We were very sorry, Sir, that the Ranchi scheme had to be given up owing to financial pressure. We do not press for the reconsideration of that scheme at the present moment. If the Ranchi school is made into a high school under European supervision with a good hostel, it would be conferring a benefit upon the whole province for there is a considerable amount of difficulty in the education of our boys of the upper classes or even of the middle classes in Calcutta under proper conditions.

"There is one matter to which I wish to refer, and I have done, that is the question of sanitation in Bengal. I am not going over the old story of the enormous ravages done by malaria for it accounts for 68·41 per cent. of the total death-rate of the province, but it is high time that there should be something done to control the channels of our navigable rivers. There has been a proposal from the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce, and no sounder and wiser proposal has been made. If the Government take up that proposal earnestly and institute an inquiry into the conditions of our navigable rivers in Bengal, and if, later on, we could constitute a Board which, I believe, would have a fair income from the navigation of these rivers, a great deal of good, both as regards commerce and health of the people, would be done to my Province."

THE PRESIDENT said :—

"I am afraid the Hon'ble Member has exceeded the time-limit."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU, said :—

"Sir, I have practically finished what I intended to say. I crave Your Honour's leave to refer to the Royal visit to India. There has been very naturally a great deal of interest aroused on account of this visit. Many people were keen and anxious that the Coronation should take place in the Metropolis of India, and as that has been found impossible, you will give effect to the legitimate wishes of my countrymen by allowing their representatives to witness the great ceremony that will be held at Delhi in honour of one of the greatest of the monarchs of the world."

The Hon'ble Maharaja SIR PRODYOT KUMAR TAGORE, KT., said :—

"Your Honour,—I beg to congratulate the Hon'ble Member in charge of the portfolio of Finance upon the very satisfactory statement which he has been fortunate enough to be able to present regarding the financial position of the Province. Last year, I rather welcomed the slight decrease in the receipts under Excise, as indicating a decline in the consumption of intoxicants. But, in the revised estimate for the current year, I notice an increase of Rs. 2,74,000 which is explained as being due, at any rate partially to the 'increased consumption of country spirits' which is, in itself, not a very desirable thing, though it may be a sign of returning prosperity. The increase in the receipts under Courts of Law, however slight, which is ascribed to larger receipts from Magisterial fines, is another unpleasant feature, which may be due, either to increased lawlessness, or to increased activity in repressing lawlessness. On the other hand, the falling off of the revenue under the head of Registration may be regarded as a sign of general prosperity among the agricultural population, upon which the country may well be congratulated. The Revised Estimate shows a decrease of nearly rupees twenty-five lakhs on the expenditure side, of which a sum of nearly rupees seven lakhs has been due to the fall in the prices of food-grains, and it is to be devoutly hoped that it will be some time before the Government again find themselves under the painful necessity of providing for Grain Compensation Allowances. Last year, I ventured to express a hope that the item—and a by no means inconsiderable one—of law charges in connection with political cases, would soon disappear from our budget. To the misfortune and incalculable mischief of the country, that hope remains unrealized to this day. Therefore, I welcome, all the more readily, the provision in the budget for the coming year of a substantial subsidy to a new vernacular newspaper, which is about to make its appearance, the policy of which will be to vindicate the Government before the people. The wonder is that such a thing should not have been attempted long ago. In a country where the party system, which provides each party with it own organs, is unknown, and where the indigenous press has rightly or wrongly educated itself into the belief that it is its sole and bounden duty to play the 'rôle' of His Majesty's Opposition in season and out of season, the utility of a Government organ which is guaranteed an extensive circulation among the rural population, must be patent to every unprejudiced mind. I do not for a moment assert or expect that, by means of this journal alone, the Government will be able to suppress the anarchist movement either quickly or completely, but it is at any rate a rational step in the right direction, and Government have a right to select their own weapons. The word subsidy has, I admit, rather bad associations. But is there any country where the Press is not subsidised in one shape or another? What are the Government subscriptions and Government advertisements but subsidy in an indirect form? If the arrangement with Rai Narendra Nath Sen Bahadur is objected to on the ground of expense, then all I can say is that those who have been the loudest in its condemnation have so far done very little to check the prevalence of political crime, which has been costing the province so many lakhs of rupees year after year on account of law charges.

"Besides, the arrangement with the Rai Bahadur is in the nature of an experiment, and may be discontinued, if the object aimed at is not gained. I am aware that there are people who have been propounding all sorts of conundrums as to how the new paper will steer clear of the Scylla of religious controversy or the Charybdis of this, that, or the other thing. To all such I can only repeat the famous formula of the Prime Minister—"wait and see."

"I welcome the provision in the Budget for 1911-12 for the reorganization of a long list of public offices, which will benefit hundreds of hard-worked public servants. The increased allotments on Education and Sanitation afford gratifying evidence of the sincerity of the Government in promoting those useful objects, and will be welcomed with gratitude by the people. I am however, inclined to think that the provision of a sum of only rupees three lakhs for the Coronation Durbar at Delhi may prove inadequate, and will have to be supplemented, the occasion being unique and unprecedented, not merely in India, but I may perhaps say, in the annals of the world. The smallness of this provision, however, throws an instructive sidelight upon the rigidity of the economic conscience of Government.

"Your Honour, I take this opportunity of congratulating Your Honour's Government upon the selection of the Hon'ble Rai Kisori Lal Goswami Bahadur as the Indian Member of the Provincial Executive Council. We, zamindars, are all proud of him as one of our brightest ornaments, and from what we know of his education, ability and experience of public affairs, we are confident that he will be able to discharge his duties with credit to himself and benefit to the country, so that when the curtain is rung down upon his official career, he will be able to leave the stage, like a well-graced actor, amid the plaudits of his fellow-countrymen."

The Hon'ble RAI SITANATH RAY BAHADUR said:—

"Your Honour,—I am glad that the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu has spoken a few words for the improvement of the waterways. As the only Member representing the Indian Commerce in this Council, it is my duty to strengthen his hands by adding my voice to his. Formerly, both in Bengal and in East Bengal, all kinds of merchandise used to be carried on by boats through rivers and canals. But since the introduction of railways, with the construction of bridges and culverts, these rivers and canals have silted up, with the result that goods-traffic cannot now-a-days be safely conducted by means of boats through the rivers, which have dried up, and that all goods have to be transported by railways at much higher costs. In all European countries their respective Governments do not hesitate to spend large sums of money for keeping waterways open throughout the year and for maintaining them in their proper order. There waterways are allowed to exist side by side with railways, but in India the impression is that there exists a feeling of jealousy towards river traffic. It is alleged to be the policy of the Government, at least of the Railway administration, that no money should be spent for the improvement of the waterways, lest they should draw away the traffic from the railway and thereby interfere with receipts from railway. The Hon'ble Mr. Stevenson-Moore, when District Magistrate of the 24-Parganas, formulated a big scheme for the canalization of the Tolly's Nala and its connection with the Madaripur bhsel route. In reply to some of my questions put last year, Your Honour's Government was pleased to observe that the matter was before the Government of India, but that the Government of India was not prepared to undertake the scheme until it could be shown that the receipts from the canal would be enough to maintain the same. This is, to say the least, taking a too narrow view of a noble scheme. I, however, do not look at it in that light. Sir, it is the duty of the Government to do all it can to facilitate the traffic of the country. It now takes several days for steamers—even then it is unsafe—to go in a roundabout way through the Sundarbans and a part of the Bay to East bengal; that is why the Bengal Chamber of Commerce pressed it upon the Government to take up in right earnest the scheme of canalizing the Tolly's Nala. Apart from that big scheme, I beg to refer to another grievance regarding the Tolly's Nala: while more than five lakhs of rupees are realised every year from tollage, nothing has yet been done for keeping open the Tolly's Nala, with the result that the Chetla merchants have to carry their goods by carts from a very long distance and to pay very heavily for it, instead of having their goods brought to their doors by boats. I specially beg to draw the attention of the Government to the fact that since five lakhs of rupees are realised yearly from the tollage on boats, I submit it is the duty of the Government to do something towards the improvement of the Tolly's Nala.

"Next, with regard to the very generous grant made by the Government of India, and the allotments of that grant to different Municipalities made by Your Honour's Government, I beg to say a few words. It is very well to be complemented upon and to receive congratulations for the improvement of the water-supply in towns. But I regret to find that no allotment has been made from the above grant for the improvement of the water-supply in the rural areas. It is the rural population who suffer most from the dearth of good drinking-water and they suffer silently. What the poorer classes drink in the interior is nothing better than diluted sewage, and it is the use of dirty water which is the root-cause of all the epidemic diseases in the mufassil, from which thousands and thousands of people die every year without a drop of medicine to mitigate their sufferings. I mysolf have seen men and women travelling three or four miles to draw drinking-water from the excavations by the side of railway lines. Government would have done well to see that a certain portion of that grant was allotted to improve the water-supply in rural areas. With these few words I beg to support the Budget, and to congratulate the Hon'ble Finance Member on the Prosperity Budget.

"I also beg to support the proposal of the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu that a committee of experts should be appointed for the improvement of all waterways."

The Hon'ble MR. FILGATE said:—

"Your Honour,—Your Government and the Finance Member are to be heartily congratulated on the financial improvement of the Province as compared with 1909-10, 1910-11, and it is to be hoped we have entered on a cycle of favourable and good seasons, and there is every reason to anticipate that good harvests and revival of trade will not only benefit Bengal but the whole of India, and considerably increase the material prosperity of its people in the near future.

"The question of the growth of public expenditure is being constantly raised, but it seems to me that as the material prosperity of the people increases, expenditure is bound to rise in order to keep pace with and meet the increased demand for railways, canals, roads and bridging of the main rivers, let alone the pressing demands for education, sanitation and the improvement of the status of the members in all branches of the Government services.

"With reference to compulsory Primary Education and payment for the same by the State, we are constantly hearing reference made to the 'poor raiyat,' one who lives from hand to mouth, etc. Speaking for North Bihar, this is not the case, and the British farmer cannot possibly secure the returns per acre in £ s d. that is being obtained by many Bihar cultivators from such special crops as tobacco, sugar-cane, and chillies. In the days of my youth I spent some years amongst the peasant proprietors of Normandy and Brittany, and I have no hesitation in stating that a large portion of the Bihar tenants to-day are freer from care for the 'morrow' than were those peasant proprietors at the period I refer to. Of course, we must at the same time remember that occasionally the Bihar raiyat has to face a famine year, or an abnormal flood, but here again the rest that is given to the soil in a year of drought by nature results in large returns when conditions again become normal, and in the case of a bad flood, although there is loss and hardship, it is only temporary, as the following returns from the rabi crop more than cover the loss of the bhadoi. Speaking for North Bihar, in spite of what those who are pressing for compulsory Primary Education say, the agricultural classes who would be mainly affected do not want it. The children from their earliest years help and assist in all farm operations. Buffaloes, cattle, goats, etc., are almost entirely herded by children of a school-going age, and is it right or reasonable that a boy or girl who from earliest dawn has spent the long hours of a hot Indian summer day in the fields or woods, on returning to their homely cottage in the gloaming at the close of a strenuous day, should be forced by law to attend a night school instead of seeking that well-earned rest that is not denied to the animals that draw the plough, the harrow or cart? The District Boards are doing their share. Reference to the last annual report and resolution on the working of the District Boards of Bengal will show that the Tirhut Division compares very favourably with the other divisions in the Province. If the agriculturist of North Bihar wishes his children to receive rudimentary education, and if one member of the family can read and check the rent-receipts, parchas, etc., it will satisfy him, and he can afford to pay the small fees of the village school. If those who really have the welfare of the Indian agriculturist at heart can devise some scheme by which the oil-cake, the bones of the animals, and the cowdung can be returned to the soil instead of the two former being exported and the latter burnt, they will do more for the cultivators of India and the generations yet unborn than any Act or law for compulsory Education is ever likely to do.

"With reference to rural sanitation, speaking for North Bihar again, a very great deal more can and should be done by the proprietors, large and small, and the villagers themselves by filling up unhealthy tanks and cesspools in the village, closing wells that have been condemned, raising the tops of wells and clearing jungle and other matter from the vicinity of the water-supply, and draining by means of a simple channel low-lying ground in the vicinity of the village. The Government, the Municipalities and the District Boards have, do, and are taking their fair share in the case of Drainage and Water-supply, but the people themselves, with few exceptions, are not doing all they can, and do not seem to recognise their responsibility in the matter. If they take their full share, then and not till then have they any just or reasonable grounds for asking for increased expenditure under this head, which would only mean, if sanctioned, cutting funds from other important and pressing wants. One pressing need of the Division is a residence for the Commissioner, and public opinion in North Bihar is unanimous in considering that a suitable and proper residence should be built as soon as possible. The new Division was established more than two and-a-half years ago, and a fine site has been acquired, but apparently from the answer given at the last meeting of this Council plans and estimates have not yet been submitted. In the amended draft Financial Statement, Bengal, 1911-12, a sum of Rs. 50,000 was budgeted for, and we fondly imagined that work would be started this year, but I was considerably disappointed to find that this amount had been cut out by order of the Government of India in the revised Financial Statement, which I only received on the morning of the 13th ultimo. Under the rules I was debarred from moving a resolution, as I should most certainly have done so. It is the duty and essential that the employer, either State or private, should provide good and healthy house accommodation for their employés, and for the sake of the prestige of the Government a residence in keeping with the dignity of the office of the head of the Tirhut Division should be built without any further delay. In some of our Bihar stations houses have been acquired by Government, patched and added to, and some of them are not as comfortable residences to live in as they should be. I sincerely hope (although I do not advocate extravagant expenditure) that, when plans and estimates are drawn up and submitted, the mistake will not be made of cutting off a few feet either in the area or the height of the rooms, or verandahs, in order to save money, and that it will not be a case of 'a haporth of Tar;' and should Muzaffarpur have the honour and good fortune in the future to be visited by the head of the Bengal Government, the residence of the Commissioner should be such that the distinguished guest would suffer no discomfort or inconvenience, especially if such a visit were paid during the hot weather or rains. There is no getting over the fact in this country that a very great deal is thought of show, pomp and ceremony, and before the days of railways, motor-cars, etc., the progress of the Commissioner when on tour through his Division with his guard, string of horses, and carriages, etc., undoubtedly impressed the people, and it had one great advantage that it brought the ruler and the Ruled into closer touch than is possible now-a-days with the enormous increase of work and quicker means of travelling. I feel assured that the non-official Members of this Council will one and all agree with the North Bihar public that the official residence of the Tirhut Division should be taken in hand at as early a date as possible, and that the plan and design of the residence will be in keeping with the expansion and advance we hope to see Bihar make in the future. Several members of the Darbhanga District Board have brought to my notice a matter which it seems to me I am bound as their representative to draw attention to. Unfortunately this district has suffered from famine in three years:—

1896-97—	The Board paid	2·6	per cent of total cost.
1906-07—	Ditto	2·2	ditto.
1908-09—	Ditto	8·2	ditto.

"Had the Board been asked to pay on the same basis as 1896-97 and 1906-07, their share for 1908-09 would have been Rs. 28,290, or Rs. 65,448 less than they have actually paid. I am fully aware of sections 60, 81 and 82 of the Bengal Famine Code, [1] and it is quite right and fair that for test-works, etc., the local funds should pay, but it is a matter for consideration where the line should be drawn where famine exists, but is not declared, and when relief has got beyond the resources of the Board. In order to carry on their operations in 1899, the Board had to take a loan of Rs. 1,50,000, in 1908, another loan of Rs. 50,000, both of which are being repaid; and recently the Board has been forced to apply for another loan of Rs 90,000. When the loans are being adjusted and repaid, I hope Your Honour's Government will consider the case, and if it is not possible to allow credit for Rs. 65,448, at least to give credit for Rs. 19,000, as this sum was remitted by the Collector to the ghat contractors as famine-relief, especially as the income from ferries is given to the District Board for their educational allotment, but no reduction whatsoever has been made under this head. As the matter is not strictly concerned with the present Budget, I must ask Your Honour and the Hon'ble Members of the Council to pardon me for having taken up time by alluding to it.

"In conclusion, there are many critics of Government, of their financial policy, of their laws and Acts, but it is to be regretted how seldom we find any acknowledgment from those who should be the first to allow and publicly state what the forethought and care of Government have done for the millions they rule. Is this failure due to ignorance of the work that is being done, or is it that they are really not in touch with those who have benefited? I am especially referring to the Agricultural Co-operative Societies that have been established all over India. I have failed to notice in any Provincial Council or in the Imperial Council itself non-official Members acknowledging what has and is being done for the raiyat and cultivator of India. But if the critics who should have realised this have not done so, the International Institute of Agriculture fully acknowledges what has been done; and if those who are really interested in the welfare of the agriculturist will procure (if they have not already got a copy) a Bulletin of the Bureau of Economic and Social Intelligence, No. 3, December 31st, 1910, published in Rome, they can see for themselves how favourably the progress of these Societies in India compare with those in other parts of the world.

"Mr. H. W. Wolff in the 3rd edition of his book on 'Peoples' Banks' has said of the legislation by which it was initiated 'that it has borne fruit in such abundance as has never before been witnessed in the Co-operative Credit movements.' Now this movement is an illustration of State aid effectively administered, rather than of organised self-help, and thousands of Indian cultivators to-day are expressing their 'Shukr Guzari' to the 'Sircar' for what it has done for them. With those who have failed to do so, is it a case of—'a prophet has no honour in his own country ?'"

The Hon'ble MR. NORMAN MCLEOD said :—

"I had not intended addressing the Council at this session, but recently I was twitted with the fact that the representatives of the Chamber took no interest in the actual work of the Council. I had no idea until now that the making of speeches was a part of that work; in fact, from my point of view, I always looked upon long and frequent speeches as the frothing of a boiling imagination, and calculated more to delay than further the business before us. I think Your Honour will bear me out in that I have tried in a small way, without making speeches, to facilitate the success of our deliberations. As, however, it appears the unfortunate rule that every member should speak, there is apparently no monopoly in the orgy of oratory to which we have listened. I now unwillingly claim your brief attention and, as at this stage of the session, Hon'ble Members are allowed to diverge from the actual business of the Budget, I need only state with regard to it that, as far as I can gather, the Members of the Chamber of Commerce are quite satisfied with the way it has been stated and explained, and with the proposals of expenditure as put forward. In this connection I was rather surprised that an Hon'ble Member of the Finance Committee should have complained of how little scope was given to non-official Members of prompting in the distribution of the Provincial funds. I think this is a matter for congratulation than otherwise, as it shows us what an efficient executive is in charge of the financial affairs of this Province. I think in another connection it is also a matter for congratulation, as judging from the various resolutions put forward and the speeches at the introduction of the Budget, and to-day, there is, to my mind, a danger to our Province of being educated to a state of mental repletion and of being physically starved during the process. I have the greatest respect for education within limits commensurate with the receptive capabilities of the students, but I see around me, in my daily avocation, the most painful instances of men working on a pittance, who have been educated mechanically to a certain defined standard, and who, if they had applied the same mental capacity to acquiring a practical trade, would now have been earning a handsome competency. It must not be forgotten that the learned professions are limited, while the aspirants to them are unlimited; the demands of Trade and Industry are unlimited, while the supply of suitable candidates in and around Calcutta—the greatest industrial centre of Bengal—is so limited that employers have to indent on other countries for men to fill appointments which should be entirely Swadeshi. From this it would certainly seem that the trend of education in the past has been misdirected, and that in the future it should be so guided as to avert the danger which is threatening. It is a pleasing feature in some of the speeches which we have heard (or read) to-day that the advantages of a Technical and Industrial education are being recognised, and a movement in this direction should be strongly encouraged.

"I would like now to mention a matter which is of particular interest to the community which I represent, and I take it of the same interest to the whole of Bengal, and that is the present congested position of our High Court. I cannot say that there is any particular blame to attach to anyone, as the course of events in Bengal have unfortunately of recent years brought about a state of matters without parallel in recent history. While we deplore that such is the case, the large trade interests of the Province demand that the present state of matters should be rectified, and that, up to legal limits, a sufficient number of additional Judges should be appointed so as to adequately cope with the arrears which have crept in. I would not advocate permanent additions to our Courts, unless absolutely necessary, as High Court Judges are costly luxuries, but I would certainly strongly advocate such appointments being made until the millennial time should arrive when they are no longer necessary. A suggestion is put forward by an Hon'ble Member that while the Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam participate in the advantages of recourse to our High Court, they do not share in the expenses. It would seem but only fair, if this is the case, that the said Province should bear a proportionate share of the expenses involved, and the matter is quite worth looking into.

"I desire to endorse the congratulatory and complimentary remarks which my hon'ble colleagues have addressed to Your Honour as to the Budget and for your personal welfare."

The Hon'ble Mr. DIP NARAYAN SINGH said :—

"Your Honour, most of the points that I intended to speak upon have already been mentioned by the Hon'ble Members that have preceded me, and I do not think that I need take up the time of the Council by a recapitulation of these very points. In fact, Sir, after what has already been said I did not intend to have spoken at all, but some remarks that have been made by some non-official Hon'ble Members call for a reply, and I consider it my duty to say something about them. Your Honour has already heard the opinion of non-official Members as regards the scope and function of the Finance Committee, and I feel that I must say a few words to strengthen the hands of those of my colleagues who have pressed upon this Council the advisability of reconsidering the rules that govern the working of that Committee. The Hon'ble Mr. Saiyid Wasi Ahmad and the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahai have already dealt with this subject, and I shall simply supplement their remarks by pointing out to the Council and to Your Honour that if the Finance Committee is to do nothing more than to discuss the small item of five or six lakhs out of a total expenditure of five crores of rupees, it is hardly necessary that a Finance Committee should exist at all. My Hon'ble friend Mr. McLeod thinks that it is matter of congratulation that this is so. He says that it shows what a splendid executive we have. I think, Sir, that the non-existence of this Committee would be a matter of greater congratulation according to him. I take this opportunity to say, and I think I am right, that most of the non-official Members of this Council differ from my Hon'ble friend on this point. Sir, if the remarks which you made in one of your pronouncements shortly before the formation of this Council, namely, that the time has come when an attempt should be made not only to govern for the people but through the people, is to be given effect to—I believe that some effective voice should be allowed to the non official Members in the discussion for the allotment of sums for expenditure in the Finance Committee. Sir, in the Budget that has been placed before us I submit that most of the items appearing in the schedule of new expenses estimated to cost more than Rs. 5,000 might well have formed the subject of discussion in the Finance Committee. I am told, Sir, that they have already been agreed upon and are obligatory. Is it impossible, Sir, for the Finance Committee to be a working body throughout the year? Indeed it must be advisory in most of its deliberations. But I submit that if the larger items of expenditure had been referred to the Finance Committee, it might have been possible to reduce some and to modify others. Anyhow, Your Honour would have had the satisfaction of having public support in most of the items of expenditure budgeted. My friend the Hon'ble Mr. Filgate has given us a very rosy picture of the condition of the peasantry in North Bihar and he has said that free and compulsory primary education is not wanted by the people of his part of the country. Sir, if every country had to wait till its uneducated masses desired compulsory education, I beg to submit that not one country in Europe would have had such an enactment on its Statute-book to day. Sir, every country, even England, when it proposed to enact a law for compulsory and free education has raised a storm of protest, against such measure and yet I believe there is not a country that does not bless the day when compulsory and free education was made the law of the land. I beg to say a few words on the remarks made by my Hon'ble friend Maharaja Sir Prodyot Kumar Tagore. It is a subject upon which I had not wished to speak. It has reference to the paper which has been subscribed for by the Government for free distribution amongst the peasants of this Province. I admit, Sir, that the object and intention of the Government is good. But I entirely differ from my hon'ble friend when he says that the general impression of people is that this object will be achieved, on the other hand I have reasons to believe that the general opinion in the Province is that the object of the Government will not be achieved. True it is only an experiment, and as my friend has said we must wait and see. With reference to this subject I must say a few words with special reference to Bihar. This subsidised paper, Sir, is to be published in the Bengali vernacular, and I suppose it is intended to be circulated only in the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions. Will it be too much at this hour of the day to suggest that if only two divisions of the Province of Your Honour's Government are to benefit, if they are to benefit at all, from this paper, some arrangement should be made to reduce the expenditure from 62,000 rupees to a smaller sum. I find that the Government of Eastern Bengal and Assam are spending only Rs. 20,000 for a similar paper. Sir, if Rs. 20,000 suffices for a whole Province, it is worth considering whether an equal amount or perhaps even a larger sum may not be sufficient for only two divisions of this Province.

"I am glad to find that my friend the Hon'ble Mr. McLeod has referred to the question of the High Court here. I brought this matter before the Council last year, and I must say that I am still unable to understand why when the High Court benefits both the Provinces of Western and Eastern Bengal, Your Honour's Government should have to pay the whole of the cost.

"There is one other point that I wish to bring before the Council to-day. Sir, that is the expenditure under the head Public Works Department. I think it my duty to tell the Council that there is an impression abroad that there is room for a great deal of economy in this department. Sir, the cost of civil buildings, roads and works of public utility in 1906-07 came up to a little over 57 lakhs. In 1907-08 it was 61 lakhs, while in the revised estimate of last year it was only 38 lakhs, and yet we find that the expenditure on Public Works establishment has actually risen from 8 lakhs in 1906-07 to something like 10 or 11 lakhs in 1910-11. Now, Sir, this clearly shows that the permanent establishment of the Public Works Department goes on increasing whether the cost of new works taken in hand be large or small. I think the time has come when Your Honour should direct your attention to the Public Works Department and consider whether, excepting the Irrigation Department, most of the building work cannot now be entrusted to private firms. Your Honour will, I am sure, be able to make substantial reduction in the administration of this department. This question has been taken up by no less an able authority than Valentine Chirol in his recent work on India, and he suggests this same method. I think, Sir, that his remarks are worthy of consideration. With these few words I beg to support the Budget."

The Hon'ble MR. OLDHAM said :—

"Several Hon'ble Members have commented upon the increase under Excise revenue shown in the Revised Estimates for 1910-11. Since, in most cases, the remarks that we have listened to refer to the same points, I propose to give a general reply in the first instance to the criticisms levelled against the figures.

"The policy of Government in connection with the taxation of country-spirit is that the taxation should be as high as may be possible without giving rise to illicit manufacture and consumption of liquor. The principle may be roughly stated, as it often has been, thus—that the maximum of revenue should be sought with the minimum of consumption. This policy is always kept in view. A mandate from Government cannot change the habits of the people in respect of drinking. There is a normal demand that has to be met. If it be not met by licit supply, it will be met by illicit supply. It is the endeavour of Government to supply this demand with as pure and carefully-manufactured liquor as possible, at as high a rate of taxation as possible; to substitute a better class of liquor for the often defectively-made liquor sold under the old system, and at the same time to strive after the attainment of a condition of things under which every bottle consumed shall be taxed at as high rate as possible without driving habitual consumers to clandestine practices. We are still a long way off this ideal; but we claim to be working towards it. A great advance has undoubtedly been made in recent years; but even under the present system, with more accurate means of check and enlarged powers under the law, numerous cases of illicit distillation are brought to light in most parts of the province, and the only reasonable inference is that we have not yet reached the limit of licit consumption.

"The increase in consumption to which certain Hon'ble Members have specially referred has occurred in Calcutta and in the Monghyr, Bhagalpur and Purnea districts. In Calcutta the consumption fell (for reasons explained in the reports) in the years 1908-09 and 1909-10; and the increase noticed during the year just ended is merely a return to the normal, and is due, it is believed, to the cheaper prices of food-grains and also to a great extent to the rise in duty on foreign liquor. In fact the Collector of Calcutta informs me that the increase referred to has probably been counterbalanced by the decrease in the consumption of foreign liquor. The figures of consumption are still a long way behind those of 1907-08. In the districts of Monghyr, Bhagalpur and Purnea, the contract supply system was introduced in 1909-10. A heavy fall in consumption followed, owing largely to unfounded prejudices against the new contract liquor and also to the less favourable agricultural conditions. The increase in 1910-11 merely indicates that the prejudices referred to are dying out, and that conditions are reverting to the normal. In Monghyr the consumption is still much below what it was in 1908-09, the year previous to the introduction of the contract system.

"In the other Bihar districts, viz., throughout the Patna and Tirhut Divisions, there has been a very much larger decrease in consumption during the year just closed as compared with 1909-10, to which no attention has been drawn by any of the Hon'ble Members who have spoken. This, however, is entirely due to the introduction of the new contract liquor during the year, and is therefore of a temporary character. And here I must sound a distinct note of warning to those who confine their attention in too great a measure to the question of the consumption of liquor. We must never forget that by keeping too tight a hand on the consumption of liquor or placing undue difficulties in its way, besides the risk of illicit distillation, we incur a very grave danger of driving consumers to the habit of taking much more harmful and degrading stimulants, such as ganja, bhang, charas, cocaine, etc. We have had a striking example of this danger during the past year in Northern Bihar districts, where there has been a distinct rise in the consumption of ganja, which is undoubtedly due to a great extent to superstition and prejudice against the change of system and liquor introduced with effect from the 1st of April, 1910.

"I am not quite sure whether the Hon'ble Member who represents the Municipal Commissioners of the Chota Nagpur Division has made his meaning clearer this year than last. The drinking tendencies of the aboriginal tribes of that division are well known; but on looking into the figures I find that there has actually been a decrease in the consumption reported from that division. I do not follow the Hon'ble Member in his figurative—I was going to say fantastical—allusion to blood and water.

"From the remarks made by the Hon'ble Member who represents the University of Calcutta, I must assume that the hon'ble gentleman is not familiar with the history of Excise administration in this province since the Indian Excise Committee sat in 1905-06, when all details of the administration of the department were investigated and discussed, and since when all the recommendations of the Committee have been carefully scrutinized by the Government of India in consultation with the Local Governments, and definite lines of policy and administrative reform laid down for our guidance by the Supreme Government. If the Hon'ble Member had asked for information on the points raised, I would gladly have supplied him. The Hon'ble Member resents what he calls the 'stereotyped explanation' that the expansion of Excise revenue is due to improved methods of administration. I feel that equal objection may be taken to the reiteration of what may be called stereotyped criticisms of the Government's Excise policy, which have been fully met on many occasions before, and which are calculated in a great measure to impugn unfairly the motives of Government in the matter of Excise administration. The Hon'ble Member asks what can be done and what has been done to check the growth of consumption. I shall not take up the time of the Council by attempting to give a statement of all that has been done and is being done. I need only refer to one or two more important measures.

"The most far-reaching reform undertaken in this province has been the introduction of the contract supply system, in supersession of the old outstill and central distillery systems. The contract system has now been extended to all districts of the province except Palamau, Singhbhum and Angul and parts of six other districts, where it has been found impracticable under present conditions to enforce it. One of the most essential features of this system is the separation of the privilege of manufacture from that of retail vend, which means a check on consumption, since under a system under which manufacture and sale are united in the same hands, the competition between rival manufacturers and sellers must necessarily result in forcing up consumption.

"Under the new system we are giving to consumers a purer and more wholesome liquor.

"Under this new system we have also largely increased the price of country-spirit to the consumers over a great portion of the province.

"Under the new system the actual consumption—which could never accurately be known under the outstill system, and which under that system was notoriously under-estimated in their own interests by the licensees—is now known, and the prices of liquor, the rates of duty and the vend fees can therefore be more accurately controlled and more suitably regulated.

"This new system also enables us to detect more easily offences against the law, more especially cases of illicit distillation and manufacture. The provisions of the new Act, which came into force in the latter half of the year 1909-10, have also strengthened the hands of the Excise staff towards the detection and prosecution of such offences. The result has been a large increase in the detection and successful prosecution of cases of illicit distillation. In four districts in which such offences have been notoriously rife in the past, the aggregate figures show an increase in such cases detected from 375 in 1909-10 to 889 in 1910-11; that is to say, more than double the number of cases have been sent up during the year that has just closed. These figures will give Hon'ble Members some idea of the extent to which the Government has in the past been, and is still being, deprived of its dues, and what a large margin must still remain for the expansion of licit consumption, and therefore of revenue, at the expense of illicit and untaxed consumption.

"Then again, under the present system the figures of consumption are carefully scrutinized, the issues from every warehouse in the province being watched each month. If after proper inquiry it is found that consumption is rising unduly in any particular area, steps are at once taken to raise the taxation therein. In this way the rates of duty and the maximum prices have already been considerably increased in many parts of the province, and action will continue to be taken in this direction.

"For the information of those who profess to believe that Government expects and desires to see an increase every year under the head of Excise receipts, I may mention that the introduction of the system in the beginning entailed a very considerable loss of revenue, but this did not deter Government from enforcing it. I think I have said enough—though I could add much—to show that we do take such measures as are considered possible or praticable to check consumption without driving people to illicit supplies.

"I wish further to make it perfectly clear to the Hon'ble Members that there is still very large scope for expansion of the Excise revenue in this province. Even in the greater part of Bengal to which the contract supply system has now been extended, we have not yet nearly stamped out the illicit manufacture of untaxed country-spirit. In many of these districts enormous quantities of illicit liquor are still consumed. Then there are the outstill areas in the remoter and more inaccessible parts of the province, where communications are still in a very backward state, and where country-spirit is not yet fully taxed. And, lastly, there is the increase in population to be taken into account—a matter which is not uncommonly overlooked. It may interest Hon'ble Members to know that the latest comparative figures available to me show that while the incidence of Excise revenue per head of population in Bengal is 5 annas 3 pies, in Madras it is 11 annas 3 pies, and in Bombay it is 1 rupee.

"As regards the question of reduction in the number of shops, I would refer to the remarks made in this connection by the Indian Excise Committee in 1905-06. They referred to the general tendency in this province to reduce the number of country-spirit shops, and added that they were disposed to concur in the opinion of the then Excise Commissioner that this policy had been carried so far in some districts that there were not enough shops left to supply the legitimate needs. In spite of this view, during the past five years the number of country-spirit shops has been considerably reduced. In 1906-07 the number was 3,060, and it has been gradually reduced each year to 2,918 in 1910-11. The number of tari shops has also been very largely reduced during the same period, as may be seen from the departmental reports. Measures have also been taken, with a view to check the consumption of opium and ganja, to give details of which would take up too much of the time of this Council.

"It should be a matter for congratulation and not for regret, if in spite of increasing the rates of duty and the prices of liquor and reducing the number of shops, we obtain an increased revenue, which can be traced to the gradual substitution of licit and taxed liquor for illicit and untaxed liquor.

"There are only one or two other questions raised by the Hon'ble Member for the University that call for a reply. The new Excise Act has made no changes in the machinery for collecting the revenue as he seems to imagine. It is not within the competence of the Local Government to abolish the auction system. This system is in force under orders of the Supreme Government.

Ben Act V of 1909.

"Similarly, in the case of the amalgamation of the Excise and Salt staffs, this course was recommended by the Indian Excise Committee and approved by the Government of India It is useless raising questions in this Council with which the Local Government cannot finally deal. The figures quoted by the Hon'ble Member in respect of country-spirit shops and tari shops are incorrect The number of country-spirit shops was reduced by 24, and the number of tari shops by 844, during the year 1910-11, and not by 3 and 19, respectively, as stated.

"In respect of Calcutta the Hon'ble Member mentions that only one shop was reduced in the past year, but he omits to mention that no less than 16 country-liquor shops were abolished in 1908-09 and 1909-10, really leaving no further room for reduction.

"In his remarks about the increase in license-fees at the recent settlements (country-spirit shops were not settled—only shops for the sale of opium and other drugs), the Hon'ble Member seems to forget that an increase in the license-fees brings about an increase in the retail prices, which in itself tends to check consumption. Moreover, in respect of opium shops the restrictive system is in force in Calcutta, under which the issues to shops are fixed, and so consumption is necessarily limited.

"I have received no report to show that the celebration of the Holi festival was this year conducted in a different manner from what it has been in the past. No necessity arose for closing the liquor shops. If it had, the Commissioner of Police or the Collector of Calcutta would have moved in the matter. Early closing would not have affected the revenue; for festivals like this stocks are laid in beforehand."

The Hon'ble MR. KUCHLER said:—

"I am in the fortunate position of having on the present occasion less to reply to than last year in the way of actual criticism of the provisions made in the Educational budget. Gratitude to the Government of India for their liberal grant for Education is no doubt largely responsible for this benevolent attitude on the part of the non-official Members of the Council, and I can only hope that this gratitude is not entirely a sense of favours to come; not that I do not share this feeling myself to a certain extent, but because it is very doubtful how far any expectations which we may entertain in this respect are likely to be realised. I must strongly emphasize the fact that this Imperial grant is for objects of non-recurring expenditure, and that it can in no way be looked upon as a permanent addition to the expenditure under the Education budget. I am led to utter this note of warning by the expressions of satisfaction which have fallen from one or two Hon'ble Members as to the steady increase of the Educational budget expenditure up to the amount which is shown in the Financial Statement for the year 1911-12 and which includes the Imperial grant in question. The general feeling of satisfaction with the present Educational budget is reflected even in the utterances from Bihar in which, with one exception, we do not find the same note of complaint as was heard at the corresponding meeting of the Council last year with regard to the unequal division of educational expenditure. It is recognized by the Members from Bihar that Government is making an effort to respond to the increased demands for higher education in that part of the province, though at the same time it is suggested that Government might give even more assistance than it does at present. The specific wants that have been indicated are, as last year, chiefly concerned with collegiate education, and a special request has been advanced on the part of the Bihar National College at Patna that its grant-in-aid should be still further increased. The grant-in-aid, however, to this college was doubled as recently as the beginning of the last academical session, and it is obviously too early to consider now the question of a still further increase. The department has noted with satisfaction the large increase in the number of students attending this institution as well as the enhancement of the fee-rate which it is proposed to make from the commencement of the next session, and it will be necessary to examine carefully the financial effect of both of these factors before any conclusion can be arrived at as to the exact amount of assistance which the college requires to put it on a sound educational footing. In addition to the Bihar National College there are three other first-grade colleges in Bihar, the Patna Government College, the expenditure on which has of late years been very considerably increased, the Bhumihar Brahman College at Muzaffarpur, the application of which for a grant-in-aid is, as has already been pointed out, at present under consideration, and the Tej Narayan College at Bhagalpur which is, through the munificent liberality of a private benefactor, fortunately in a position to dispense with Government aid altogether. It will be seen therefore that the wants of Bihar in the matter of collegiate education are not being neglected, and though the increased demand for such education on the part of Biharis necessarily connotes some additional assistance from the public exchequer, that assistance must be strictly correlated with the actual measure of advance attained as shown by experience.

"I have said that there was one note of dissent from the general chorus of approval on the part of the Bihari Members with regard to the Educational budget this year. The Hon'ble Babu Braja Kishor Prasad has again returned to the attack with regard to the subjects to which he called attention when moving certain resolutions in the Council, and has again covered the same grounds in his remarks as on that occasion. I do not think I shall be justified in following the same course, but I would ask for permission to deal with one or two of the new points which he has raised. With regard to the professorship at Patna College, the figures which he has now produced cannot be said to be very conclusive as to the alleged popularity of this subject. But any force which they might have had is entirely lost when it is considered that they refer to a state of affairs which existed before the present University Regulations were introduced. At that time there was no such subject as Political Economy and Political Philosophy in the University curriculum. And no comparison is therefore possible between the popularity of these two different subjects. From a priori consideration and from actual experience I am in a position to affirm that the subject of Philosophy is unpopular not only in Bihar but in Bengal as well. As to the source from which I obtained my information as to its unpopularity at Patna, I may say that it was derived from the educational authorities of the college itself, and I venture to think that the latter are in a better position to gauge the popularity of this subject among the students than the Hon'ble Member.

"With regard to the question of preferential treatment for Bihar in the matter of education, I have no quarrel with the Hon'ble Member as to the desirability for such treatment. But I must take strong exception to the method by which he proposes to give effect to it. By preferential treatment in the case of races, educationally backward, is generally meant exemption from fees or at least the reduction of fees, and also in some cases the reduction of the standards of education itself, but I have never before heard the somewhat grotesque proposal advocated by the Hon'ble Member that schools in a part of the country, educationally backward, should be better equipped and better staffed than those in parts more educationally advanced. I hardly think that this suggestion will receive support from the Hon'ble Members from Bengal who were prepared on a previous occasion to endorse the plea of the Hon'ble Member for preferential treatment for Bihar.

"There is one other important matter in connection with education in Bihar which has been referred to to-day, and that is the removal of the Patna Collegiate School from the college buildings. This removal was necessary for two reasons. In the first place the University Commission strongly urged that schools and colleges should be entirely separated and, secondly, further accommodation was required for the work of the Patna College itself. As the Hon'ble Maulvi Saiyid Muhammad Fakhr-ud-din has stated, a site was tentatively selected for the new school buildings, but in the absence of funds to meet the cost of this project, which would have been very considerable, it was found necessary to remove the schools for the present to a hired building, and no further action was taken with regard to the acquisition of land for the new school and the preparation of plans and estimates. The present arrangement is admittedly unsatisfactory, and the question of providing the Patna Collegiate School with buildings of its own at the earliest possible opportunity is not being lost sight of.

"Another division which has come forward with certain specific requests is that of Chota Nagpur whose wants are as heretofore voiced by the Hon'ble Babu Bal Krishna Sahay. The Member has referred to the need of hostel accommodation for pupils reading in the various schools at Ranchi and has specially referred in this connection to the Zilla School. I can give the Hon'ble Member the assurance that the question of hostels for the Zilla School is at present under consideration, and that, with the help of the Government of India grant, the projects, which are at present before the department, are likely to be materially advanced within a very short time. The Hon'ble Member has also recommended the case of one of the Mission Schools at Ranchi, and has suggested that it should receive a material assistance towards the erection of a new school building.

"I am afraid I cannot fully go into this matter as the time-limit imposed on me has already been exceeded, and I can only say that after careful consideration it has been found impossible to hold out hopes of a grant to the school in question.

"Reference has been made in the remarks of one or two Hon'ble Members to the question of direct moral instruction, and the suggestion has been made that a provincial conference should be called to discuss the subject. This question is one of great importance and has been keenly debated of recent years in Western countries. No conference, however, which has ever been held, at least no representative conference, has been able to arrive at any conclusion on the very important issue, whether direct moral instruction can with advantage be given apart from the sanction of religion. I do not think it likely that any conference in Bengal would carry its deliberations to a more successful issue. As far as I have been able to judge myself, the preponderance of opinion, in this province at least, is opposed to the divorce of moral instruction from religious teaching. If this be so, and even in the contrary case, I think that before Government can take action there should be some stronger expression of opinion on the part of the community itself as to its wishes on the subject than has hitherto been the case. The initiative, I think, should come from the community itself, and I would again point to the fact that the Government schools form only a microscopic minority of the educational institutions of this province, and that as regards private schools, whether aided or unaided, there is no objection to the introduction of religious instruction, provided the community so desire. The Christian missionary bodies have made full use of the opportunities presented to them in this respect, and it remains to the adherents of other religious beliefs to take the initiative in the case of other private schools attended by their children.

"There are many other matters of interest which have been brought before the Council on which I should have liked to comment, but I recognize that I have already occupied the time of the Council to an extent considerably beyond what I am entitled to, and I am reluctantly compelled, in deference to the wishes of His Honour the President, to bring my remarks to a close. The views of the Government and my own views on the subject of female education, on which the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu has made some interesting observations, are sufficiently well-known."

The Hon'ble RAI KISORI LAL GOSWAMI BAHADUR said:—

"Your Honour,—The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari has this year reiterated his charge of the unsatisfactory character of explanations offered in regard to the variations in the anticipated receipts under the head 'Registration.' He seems to be under the impression that the explanation offered last year by the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay, and that offered while the Registration budget was introduced this year, are antagonistic and inconsistent. He has quoted a sentence from the speech of the Hon'ble Mr Gourlay with the usual marks of quotation, and chooses to interpret it in a way which was not surely meant by the speaker, for the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay followed it with further explanations to which the Hon'ble Member has not referred. The Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay told us that a period of scarcity, when the cultivator is driven to mortgage 'his holding, would necessarily increase the number of registrations and the amount of the registration fees.' This year we expect a good harvest and we anticipate a diminution of receipts from registration. Experience and observation extending over a number of years have conclusively shown that the receipts from registration fall off during a period of prosperity, and increase in times of stress and scarcity. As a matter of fact, agricultural conditions have steadily improved since 1908 each year, and we find the actual receipts are steadily decreasing. In 1908, the receipts amounted to 14 lakhs 28 thousand, in 1909 to 13 lakhs and 97 thousand, and in 1910 to 12 lakhs and 62 thousand.

"The estimate of receipts under registration in 1910-11 has been proved to be an over-estimate. It is so probably because the change for the better in the agricultural prospects was not fully realized in the beginning of the year. Perhaps, the Hon'ble Mr. Gourlay in this failed to exhibit to much advantage the gifts of a weather-prophet. The year that has just set in will, we hope, keep up the progress of prosperity which we put forward as a reason for the anticipated diminished receipts under registration.

"It would hardly lead to practical and useful results to go into the minutiæ of all the factors which operate to increase or decrease the registration receipts. For practical purposes, it is sufficiently safe to regulate our calculation according to the agricultural prospects of each year.

"The Hon'ble Babu Bal Krishna Sahay has asked your Honour to make a liberal contribution to the Boards of Chota Nagpur to open new roads. I must remind my hon'ble friend that Government, year after year, has been making liberal grants to the Chota Nagpur Boards for improving their means of communications. During the last three years the Government grants for roads and bridges amount to, respectively, Rs. 22,165, Rs. 58,876 and Rs. 57,979. No doubt the needs of this growing division are considerable, but so are other demands upon the Provincial revenue.

"The Hon'ble Maulvi Saiyid Zahir-ud-din wants provision to be made for grants to the District Boards generally, for effecting improvements in the matter of sanitation and water-supply. Definite projects in either respect can be assisted from the general sanitary improvement grant. The general resources of the District Boards are already aided from the augmentation grant. It is not clear what more is required. In the absence of definite proposals as to the method of expenditure, it is not expedient that lump grants should be made to District Boards, with a general injunction to spend them upon sanitation and the improvement of water-supply.

"The Hon'ble Babu Bal Krishna Sahay says, 'I am afraid that there is no provision in the Local Boards Act for reservation of tanks for the supply of drinking water.' Section 90 of the Local Self-Government Act makes special provision for the reservation of tanks for the supply of drinking water. If the Ranchi District Board desires assistance towards any scheme for the improvement of the water-supply, it should submit a well-considered project which can then be considered.

Ben Act III of 1885.

"The Hon'ble Rai Sitanath Ray Bahadur, in deploring the want of zeal on the part of Government in the matter of supply of good drinking water in rural areas, made a strong appeal for Government grants to the Boards for that purpose. I fear the Hon'ble Member has not taken the trouble to acquaint himself with the real state of affairs. I shall read a paragraph out of the last Government resolution reviewing the working of the District Boards with a view to show that the accusation of apathy lies at the door of the members of the Boards rather than that of the Government. Government has administered a rebuke to the Boards in the resolution, and I think the Boards will be able to show a better record of their work in the matter of rural water supply in the year which has just set in—paragraph 20 (page 6) of the Resolution:

'In nine districts only out of 29, viz., in Birbhum, Nadia, Khulna, Patna, Shahabad, Muzaffarpur, Monghyr, Bhagalpur and Purnea, did the expenditure on account of water-supply exceed Rs. 5,000, the standard which is regarded by Government as a minimum, although the attention of all District Boards has repeatedly been drawn to the necessity of improving the sources of water-supply in rural areas, the latest orders being contained in Government Circular No. 7T.—L S.-G., dated the 24th May 1910. Unless local bodies will, of their own initiative, pay greater attention to this important item of local administration, the Local Government will be left with no alternative but to embark for this purpose a portion of the grants which are made in aid of the resources of District Boards. Such a course will be adopted with reluctance, but it is impossible to acquiesce in the persistent disregard of the instructions in this matter."

The Hon'ble MR SLACKE said:—

"SIR, I would express my cordial thanks to Hon'ble Members for their courtesy and consideration in letting the official Members know beforehand the nature of the comments they were going to make on the budget, thereby enabling the latter to procure in time the details needed.

"The Hon'ble Rai Baikuntha Nath Sen Bahadur asks for details in respect of certain sums allotted for sanitary purposes, and desires to know whether Government has in contemplation any definite scheme of sanitary improvement and whether any steps are to be taken for the supply of good drinking water. I would refer the Hon'ble Member to the remarks I made when the budget resolutions were discussed, in connection with the method followed in dealing with this grant.

"That also applies to the remarks which the Hon'ble Babu Hrishikesh Laha has made regarding malaria. But I would assure the Hon'ble Member that the Provincial Malaria Committee is fully alive to the magnitude of the evil and is receiving from Government all the aid they have asked for. At the same time, I would impress on Hon'ble Members the necessity of patience in a matter of this kind.

"The Hon'ble Babu Hrishikesh Laha would be glad to know what further water-supply and drainage projects have been sanctioned in the past year. The grants made in that year are set out in paragraph 60 of the budget notes. So ne of these grants were made towards works which were approved or were under discussion in previous years and are probably not new in the sense contemplated by the Hon'ble Member. Others, as for instance the grant to the Darjeeling Municipality for drainage and to Khulna for water-supply, were for the furtherance of existing projects. It may perhaps be said that the initiation of the Bagjolla and Nawi Sunthi projects and the drainage schemes of the Ranaghat and Kushtia Municipalities were the distinctly new features of the year.

"Concerning the Hon'ble Member's remarks about the Bager Khal project, the matter is a very old one. The statement of cost, viz., 4 lakhs, which the Hon'ble Member has made, is, I have reason to think, an under-estimate. If any well-considered project under the Sanitary Drainage Act is submitted, Government will undoubtedly consider the desirability of making a grant, but it is for those locally interested to move in the first instance, and this they have apparently not done hitherto owing to a disinclination to pay for the improvement. No further provision by Government is needed for the Hooghly-Chinsurah waterworks, as the balance of the promised contribution was paid in the past year. Ben. Act VIII of 1895.

"The Hon'ble Member has made certain remarks about the provision of Rs. 1,07,000 for 'Timber and other produce removed from the forest by consumers and purchasers.' The entry in question is one of the account headings approved by the Comptroller-General, and a similar entry will be found in the Imperial Accounts The expenditure referred to is incurred in connection with the removal of timber and forest produce by private purchasers. The charges occur chiefly in the Sunderbans Division and include such items as temporary establishments, the maintenance and working charges of launches and boats, tree-marking and travelling allowances. It is true that this expenditure might be partly debited to general supervision, but it is more convenient to show it under one head.

"I can say nothing definite with regard to what two Hon'ble Members have said as to the necessities of Patna until the facts have been represented to and considered by Government.

"With reference to what the Hon'ble Babu Kirtanand Sinha has said about the Bhagalpur waterworks, I assume that the Hon'ble Member has not been supplied with all the facts, otherwise I fail to understand how he could speak as if Government had given no assistance at all to the Bhagalpur waterworks. From first to last the Government contributions towards the cost of the works have amounted to nearly two lakhs, and in connection with the present difficulties with which the installation is threatened by the river Ganges, the Sanitary Engineer has been in frequent communication with the local authorities and has just recently visited Bhagalpur. It now rests with the municipality to take action upon his recommendations.

"With reference to the proposal of the Hon'ble Maharaj-Kumar Gopal Saran Narayan Singh, it would appear that his request is due to the ravages which in recent years have been caused by plague and malaria. The Hon'ble Member is doubtless aware that the subject of plague has been inquired into by Committees and Commissions, while, for the purpose of investigating the remedial measures possible for allaying malaria, Government has recently appointed a Provincial Malaria Committee. Under these circumstances, it is not considered that any practical good would result by acceding to the Hon'ble Member's request.

"As regards sanitary matters, nothing in my opinion will be gained by reserving tanks for drinking water till villagers have shown that they appreciate good drinking water. Had they already this wish, they would long ago have had such reserved tanks.

"At present, opposition is often made because people object to having to bathe in a different tank from that whence they get water. Until villagers get that wish,—and this can be secured through the co-operation of landlords and Hon'ble Members,—it would be premature and possibly dangerous to have tanks reserved for them, as some one must be put in charge of those tanks, which would be absolutely needless if the villagers themselves were alive to the value of good water, and that some one might abuse his position.

"I would also strongly impress on Hon'ble Members how much good could be done by their organizing measures whereby villagers could be taught to recognize the value of self-help. Much, very much good, would be gained from a sanitary point of view if villagers would keep the vicinity of their huts clean and their immediate surroundings free of jungle. I have come across some examples of what can be done by villagers who are alive to their particular needs. I would instance the manner in which in Chittagong spawning grounds are preserved and the purity of the well-known local breed of poultry is maintained.

"The supervision of navigable rivers by Government, to which the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu and the Hon'ble Rai Sita Nath Ray Bahadur have referred, is a matter which is being considered by Government, who have suggested to the Chamber of Commerce the advisability of placing the Waterways Committee under the Railway Board. In view, however, of the financial position of the province, Government is unable to encourage any proposals which advocate extremely heavy expenditure without any prospect of a reasonable return. The expenditure by this province on the eastern waterways has exceeded 100 lakhs and the return is less than $1\frac{1}{2}$ per cent.

"With regard to the remarks which were made by the Hon'ble Mr. Dip Narayan Singh about the Public Works Department, had the Hon'ble Member let me know beforehand the nature of the comments he proposed to make, I would have been in a position to give him statistics which would probably have led him to modify what he has said. As it is, I have not had the time to obtain these figures completely, and therefore I will later on furnish the Hon'ble Member with a note on the subject."

The Hon'ble MR. DUKE said:—

"If the Member in charge of the budget has the advantage of the last word, he also has the disadvantage of having to reply to a considerable number of disconnected suggestions which hardly concern any one else at p time when the attention of the Council is rather wearied. I, therefore, bropose to notice as briefly as possible the principal suggestions which have een made.

"The Hon'ble Babu Deba Prasad Sarbadhikari has made suggestions regarding the provision in a comparatively cheap manner of accommodation for Honorary Presidency Magistrates. This matter is at present under our consideration, and if it is possible to supply the necessary accommodation cheaply, we shall be only too glad to do so. The only note of warning which I have to strike is, that while the whole premises in Lall Bazar require reorganisation, we must not do anything which would render it impossible to carry out that reorganisation or which would be money thrown away. At the same time, I do not mean to imply that we shall go into very extensive reconstruction there. The cost would be prohibitive. We can only make up our minds to move within our means, i.e., by reasonable instalments. I trust that one of the first things that we shall be able to do will be to provide additional courts for Honorary Presidency Magistrates as suggested.

"The next point on which I would touch is the question raised by the same Hon'ble Member regarding the provision of three lakhs of rupees for the Delhi Durbar. He suggested that the expense at Delhi would be an Imperial charge, and that this three lakhs would be towards expenditure in the province. That, however, is not the case. The expenses of the Bengal Camp at Delhi will be a Provincial charge, as they were on the last occasion of a Durbar at Delhi. So far, no provision has been made by Government in connection with the King's reception in Calcutta. It is impossible to make any, until we know what His Majesty's programme in Calcutta will be and what the local arrangements are to be.

"The Hon'ble Rai Baikuntha Nath Sen Bahadur suggested that various purposes which he had at heart might be obtained by savings in one direction or another in the Police budget. I venture to suggest that suggestions of this kind are of very little use. The Police budget has been subjected to very severe criticism, and so far as I know there is nothing that in ordinary probability can be saved out of it. On the contrary, at any rate, this is a budget which will from year to year have to go on increasing until the standard set by the Police Commission has been attained. The Hon'ble Member was perhaps somewhat more nearly on the mark when he suggested that the expenses of the scheme for the separation of the judicial and the executive might be obtained by the savings which we are now to make by the early conclusion of the Khulna trial. That conclusion is from a financial point of view a very satisfactory matter as involving a considerable saving, but what the total saving on our law expenses is to be until the other trials which are now in progress have concluded, we are not able to say. The fact that one of the smaller ones has come to an early conclusion is unfortunately no evidence that the others are going to be equally brief.

"The scheme for separation of judicial and executive, to which the Hon'ble Member referred, is continuously under the consideration of Government, and no doubt some proposals regarding it will be brought forward as early as possible, but a scheme of that kind is one which requires mature consideration, not merely by the Provincial Government, and it is certainly unlikely that anything will take place within the year to which this budget refers.

"The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu was good enough to tender some advice on the nature of the charges that Government should take up against political offenders. He suggested that it would be more satisfactory if we proceeded against dacoits for dacoities and not for revolutionary conspiracy. It seems hardly necessary to remind the Council that Government does not prosecute for the offences which they would like to prosecute for, but for those which the evidence shows to have been committed. It is not our choice to prosecute for this offence or for that offence, but for the offence constituted by the evidence that is put before us according to the advice of our legal advisers.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Saiyid Wasi Ahmad, in the same connection, has made a suggestion that it might be more economical if, for the purposes of Government prosecutions, we retained advocates on fixed salaries. I may first point out that to obtain advocates of really good standing, able to hold their own in the courts, we should have to pay very considerable salaries, but even so, the suggestion might be a very reasonable one, if we contemplated that we should for years to come be prosecuting the class of cases to which he refers. This is an assumption which we should be very sorry to make. It is true that for the past two years or so, we have continuously been prosecuting such cases, but I have no doubt that the Council shares with me the hope that these prosecutions are really nearing the end and that this is certainly not the time to consider how we should provide for similar prosecutions during a series of years. In the meantime, as has already been said, in case there should be further prosecutions of the same sort, we are considering how the expenses connected with them may be cheapened.

"The Hon'ble Rai Baikuntha Nath Sen Bahadur suggested that there was a general popular apprehension that a great deal of money provided for the Criminal Investigation Department was spent on business of a confidential nature without adequate control To this, I think, a very simple answer can be given, and that is that of the whole grant provided for the Criminal Investigation Department which amounts to nearly Rs. 3,68,000; the amount which is not subjected to the regular public audit which all other Government expenditure undergoes, is Rs. 25,500. That is the whole sum that goes in expenditure of a confidential character and therefore gives the measure of the possible leakage or extravagance which the Hon'ble Member fears.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Dip Narayan Singh made a suggestion,—another Hon'ble Member made it also,—that the expenses connected with the High Court ought to be divided between this province and Eastern Bengal and Assam, since that province also enjoys the services of the Court. Regarding this, I have merely to point out that at the time that the provincial settlement was entered into after the Partition, the funds necessary for the expenses of the Court were allotted to this province and were not allotted to Eastern Bengal and Assam, and there is therefore no possible ground for redistribution between them.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Dip Narayan Singh also referred to the expenses on the subsidised paper, an experiment which he did not think likely to be successful. With regard to this I would only suggest that, as has already been said, the thing is an experiment, but the Hon'ble Member is hardly generous in suggesting that we should cut down the subsidy which was agreed upon, because the only result of doing so would be to fulfil his own prognostication. If he does not want the paper to succeed, the best way of securing that result would be to reduce the subsidy that has been decided on as being necessary for it.

"The Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu has drawn attention to the state of health in our jails, and with his usual acumen he has fallen upon what is certainly the weakest spot in the jail administration of the last several years, and it is the bad health of the Hazaribagh Jail in 1909. The actual number of deaths was high, as many as 76, and the mortality was about 72 per thousand. The Hon'ble Member omitted to mention, what he might have found in the same place where he obtained his information, that Government had appointed a special officer to make an inquiry into the matter, and that this officer had been working from the beginning of 1910 and that he has actually been working up to the 31st March last. I will supplement the information which I think the Hon'ble Member had at his disposal. Even in 1910 the mortality of the Hazaribagh Jail was somewhat serious. There were 37 deaths and on the diminished population the percentage was still 46·8 per thousand. This serious outbreak in Hazaribagh was due to dysentery in a more or less epidemic form, and it has now been prevalent in the jail for about two years. When dysentery lays hold of a jail, it is one of the most difficult complaints to counter. Somehow or other, I believe, it has never been ascertained exactly how the whole jail becomes more or less infected by it. and for some time no precautions regarding the preparation of food or the water-supply avail to check it.

"What the conclusions of the special officer are, we are not yet aware, but, at any rate, this much has happened, that precautions having been taken in every conceivable direction, the epidemic has now come to an end, and I trust will not recur. Whatever suggestions are made by Captain Wells, who was on this duty, will be considered. While, however, the Hon'ble Member has put his finger on the weakest spot in the case of the Hazaribagh Jail, his general conclusions regarding the health of the Bengal jails are entirely at sea. The health of the jails has progressively improved for many years, with some slight fluctuations, and the mortality upon the whole has steadily decreased. This is a history extending over many years, 15 or 20 at least. In the year 19 7 the jail mortality for the province was the lowest on record, viz., 16·9, that is before the scarcity of 1907-8. In 1908, jails were exceedingly overcrowded, and a large part of the population having been affected by scarcity, the figures went up as high as 31·5. In 1909, when the scarcity had passed away, that is the year with which the Hon'ble Member is dealing, the ratio had gone down to 24·8 per thousand in spite of the high rate in the Hazaribagh Jail. In the year which has just closed, 1910, the ratio has fallen to 18·7 which is a low ratio, and the lowest that has ever occurred except in 1907. There is no reason to suppose that as long as reasonable health conditions prevail in the province, and the jails are not overcrowded, there will be any set-back in this respect.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Saiyid Wasi Ahmad, if I understood him rightly, is under some misapprehension as to the reduction of the grant to local bodies for works. He apparently was under the impression that this grant has been reduced. If that is so, he is in error. That grant which had been increased for several years running remains as it was last year. The grant which has been reduced is the grant for minor works, that is, minor works on Government buildings. It was necessary to economise on that, but the grant for assistance to local bodies has not been touched.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Filgate has referred to the disappearance from the budget of the provision of Rs. 50,000 for a residence for the Commissioner of Tirhut. I need not perhaps go in detail into the circumstances which obliged us to omit this provision. It was done at a late stage when it was absolutely necessary to provide a certain amount of money for commencing the scheme for the removal of the Sibpur College to Ranchi, and this particular project was fixed upon as it was found that the plans and estimates were not yet ready. However, the Government recognises the extreme importance of providing a residence for the Commissioner, and every attempt will be made to secure a part, if not the whole, of the funds by reappropriation and to make a commencement in the current year.

"Passing from these specific suggestions which have been made by various Members I will come to one or two points of more general application. First of all there appears to be rather a general opinion both in the public press and amongst Members of the Council—I refer particularly to the speech of the Hon'ble Khan Bahadur Sarfaraz Hussain Khan, that this budget is a prosperity budget. I have already incurred a considerable amount of criticism by arguing that it is not. In fact the budget shows no very high degree of general prosperity. There are certainly some very satisfactory features in the budget, but from the standpoint of Provincial finance it is anything but a prosperity budget. The grants which we have received from the Government of India put us in a position to spend 17 lakhs on certain purposes of education and sanitation, non-recurring expenditure in both cases. We also know that we shall have the same amount for the same purpose for one year more. But beyond that we know nothing except that such an exceptional windfall is hardly likely to be repeated on the same scale. Apart from that, the general improvement in the financial condition is only enough to give us a small working balance, and looking to the many large schemes which we have in hand, or which are being urgently pressed for, it seems to me that we shall have great difficulty in retaining that balance in future years. It is true that the improvement in our actual income has been accompanied by the substitution of a certain amount of growing income for fixed assignments, and that accordingly the natural expansion of Provincial income should proceed somewhat more rapidly than hitherto; but since for several years we have been beggars at the gates of the Government of India for special assistance, it is evident that the expansion of income has not so far kept pace with the expansion of expenditure, and we have not been able to assure ourselves whether the improvement which has now been made in our position will suffice to produce equilibrium in this respect. My own strong impression is that, if at all, it will only be attained by the exercise of extreme financial caution. Several Hon'ble Members have referred to the very small degree of control which the Financial Committee has so far been able to exercise over expenditure. Complaints are made both as to the very small proportion of expenditure which is submitted for the consideration of the Finance Committee, and also as to the very short time that is allowed for consideration. As to the latter point, I think that most of the Members who have spoken on the subject either have not noticed, or do not choose to admit, the explanation which has been given in the memorandum attached to the Revised Financial Statement. The circumstances of the present year have been altogether abnormal, because until the Government of India announced the special grants and the revision of the terms of our settlement to which I have just referred, it was impossible for us to decide what amounts would be available for optional expenditure, and even after the Government of India had informed us confidentially of the figures, it was some time longer before they indicated the conditions that were to attach to them, and until we knew this, we could not decide what our free surplus might be taken to be. Thus Government is free of responsibility in the matter, and I think it would be reasonable to assume that the Government of India also had good reason for its procedure, and that it was unable to dispose of the subject until the time when it communicated its orders. Accordingly, I freely admit the objection raised by the Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur and by the Hon'ble Mr. Saiyid Wasi Ahmad that the Finance Committee have not this year been consulted in the manner which is contemplated by the rules. I can only point out that we have received the very substantial solatium, of which Members are aware, for this breach of proper procedure. The occasion is perhaps unlikely to recur. The actual Draft Financial Statement, as has already been pointed out, was presented this year three days earlier than in previous years, and several Hon'ble Members have acknowledged this fact. The time left for consideration is however extremely short, and while we shall consider how far it is possible to provide for more deliberate consideration, we are very much tied by the programme laid down for the budget of the Government of India, and it is improbable that we shall be able to provide for any very substantial extension in the later stages of the budget.

"As to the objections to the small proportion of expenditure which comes under the consideration of the Finance Committee, I think reflection will convince Hon'ble Members that it is in the nature of things, and I do not believe that most of them share the ideas which the Hon'ble Mr. Dip Narayan Singh appears to hold, that the whole expenditure of the province ought to be reviewed every year by the Finance Committee. That certainly would involve sitting practically continuously throughout the year, and it certainly was not part of the original scheme laid down by the Government of India for the functions of the Finance Committee. A reference to the directions and circulars before this Council was constituted will show that nothing of this kind was contemplated. The idea was that the Finance Committee should, at a reasonable period before the preparation of the budget, consider the optional expenditure which it might be possible to provide for. The income of the province is no more than sufficient for its more conspicuous requirements. By far the greater part of it goes upon permanent establishment, the expenditure upon which we are often urged to increase, but which it is hardly possible anywhere to reduce. Of the remainder, even that portion which is non-recurring, mostly public works of one kind or another, a large part is on works in progress, works which have already been settled on in previous years. Once a work has been put in hand it must go on, and the only economical way of carrying it on is to do it as fast as possible, to keep the works establishment fully employed and to spend the largest amount in the given time that they are able. In all subjects of this kind the attention of the Finance Committee is hardly required, and if Members attempted to review such expenditure they would surely find that they had more cause than they have at present to complain that their action was infructuous. The amount which is available for new projects and new schemes must always therefore be comparatively small. Again, the choice of the Finance Committee as to the objects of expenditure must always be somewhat restricted, since it is useless immediately before the year begins to propose to spend money on schemes which have not already been fully considered and matured. Such a course must infallibly result in a large part of the allotment remaining unexpended. If Hon'ble Members desire to promote particular objects, they can only do so successfully by taking them up at a much earlier stage than that of the Finance Committee, by using their influence in the various ways open to them, particularly by moving resolutions, to have schemes considered and prepared, and it will then be possible for the Finance Committee to select from schemes already matured those which they prefer.

"The Hon'ble Rai Shiba Shankar Sahay Bahadur has objected that certain items which ought to have found place in the schedule of new expenditure have been omitted from it. To one of these—that is, the provision of three lakhs for the Delhi Durbar—we must plead guilty.

"The sanction of this expenditure came late in the day and it was omitted from the schedule. It was, however, referred to in the memorandum, and the speeches of Hon'ble Members show that it has not escaped notice. I cannot, therefore, accept his criticism regarding the remaining items which he mentions. Rupees 19,000 for additional allowances to non-official Members is an increase, but in no respect a new item; it has always found a place in the budget Rupees 23,000 for temporary establishment in the Secretariat record-room is also not new. The establishment has been employed for two or three years past. Similarly, the mill engine at Buxar, costing Rs. 9,000, can hardly be classed as new. There was an engine for the workshop at Buxar before, and when it became useless, it had to be replaced and a new engine bought. This cannot therefore be referred to as a new scheme.

"The Hon'ble Mr. Dip Narayan Singh made similar remarks of the same general character, asserting that a great many new schemes had been omitted from the schedule. I think, as I have already said, that the Hon'ble Member has an entirely wrong conception of the duties of the Finance Committee. To satisfy his ideas it would be necessary that it should be a Standing Committee exercising a sort of further control over the Financial Department throughout the year, and that is surely impossible. I have tried in the preliminary budget debate to explain that it is not the desire of Government to evade or restrict the influence which the Council is entitled to exercise over the preparation of the budget, and my explanations of the difficulties and attempts to meet the arguments which have been brought are not intended as an apology for any such attitude on the part of Government. We shall try to extend, as far as possible, the opportunities for consideration by the Finance Committee and by the Council, and particularly we shall consider whether consultation as to the selection of schemes may be possible at a period sufficiently early to permit of their inclusion in the budget of the year immediately following.

"The suggestion by the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu regarding the Council Chamber I have, I think, failed to meet. He suggested, I believe, that our present location was not entirely suitable, and that attempts should be made to secure a better one, and in particular that the possibility of altering the old Council Chamber so as to hold the present Council should be considered. That point was very carefully considered at the time when this enlarged Council was constituted. It was found that by a process of extreme compression the Members of the Council might just be got into the room, but it would be with extreme discomfort, and that it would neither be properly ventilated or lit, and there would not be adequate room for the staff of the Council, and for the public and the reporters, and, accordingly, that suggestion had to be given up. We shall continue to look for reasonable means of providing really suitable accommodation for the Council, but it must obviously be a matter of great expense, and perhaps the Council will agree that in comparison with some of the objects which they have been urging on Government their own housing is rather in the nature of a luxury. In the meantime, if the present Chamber is not an entirely suitable place, yet there is adequate space and light and air, and we cannot regard an improvement in this direction as one of our most urgent requirements."

The PRESIDENT said:—

"Gentlemen of the Council,—It is not my intention to say more than a very few words on the present occasion. This is no doubt a departure from past practice. But it is a departure which is fully justified. Under the new constitution, as has been pointed out more than once, the justification for a discussion ranging over the whole field of administration has disappeared. It is now open to Hon'ble Members to raise a discussion on almost any question of public interest at any meeting of Council throughout the year, and this privilege is being freely availed of. There is, therefore, no need to concentrate such discussions into the debate on the budget. Nor is this all. Even as regards the budget itself, using the word in the widest sense, there are two other occasions on which it comes under discussion. The first of these is when the first edition of the estimates is laid before the Finance Committee. The second is when the second edition of them, technically known as the Financial Statement, is presented to, and discussed by, the Council as a whole. Now it is at these two stages that discussion and suggestions for alteration in the figures can be really effective; and it is well known that when the final edition comes before us, the time for making changes has passed, and the rules do not permit of any resolutions being moved. It is clear, therefore, that the need for a general discussion at this present stage, if there be such need, stands on quite a different footing from before. I have even seen it suggested in the press that there is no real object in having this debate at all, and that Hon'ble Members themselves will come to see that it may be dropped without loss to anyone. I doubt whether we have come to that yet; but I certainly think that we seem to be moving in that direction.

"Now, with regard to the Finance Committee, the Hon'ble Mr. Duke has already explained what our attitude is, and he has made it clear that the breach of rule that occurred on the present occasion was inevitable. We have already acknowledged that the present arrangements are not perfect, and we have undertaken that in the course of the year we shall endeavour to devise some means by which more time shall be allowed for the consideration of the figures, and generally to make the task of the Hon'ble Members easier than at present. The great difficulty, of course, arises from the fact that our dates for the various stages are necessarily dependent on those of the Imperial budget, in which all Provincial budgets are incorporated. If it were possible to exclude the latter altogether from the Imperial budget, it would not be difficult to do what the Hon'ble Members desire; but I am not very sanguine that such a course would commend itself to the Government of India or the Secretary of State. I know from my experience of the Finance Department of the Government of India that that department would be disposed to set its face against it.

"Two Hon'ble Members have alluded to the fact that while the aggregate of the budget is nearly six crores of rupees, yet the total sum which came under the consideration of the Finance Committee was under six lakhs. The Hon'ble Mr. Duke has given an explanation which is perfectly clear. The proportion is certainly very small. If the special grants for Education and Sanitation had been intimated to us at an earlier stage, it would have been much larger. But I doubt whether under any system that is within the sphere of practical politics, it can ever be very large. There is no escape from the plain fact that by far the largest part of the expenditure of Government, especially of the recurring expenditure, is fixed and obligatory, and is not susceptible of modification, except very gradually. That must be the case in every country in the world; and even in the House of Commons, although the whole of the public expenditure is open to discussion and has to be voted, except charges against the Consolidated Fund, yet I imagine that the items which are actually open to modification are much smaller than is commonly supposed. We may certainly hope that larger sums will be available hereafter under the new and improved settlements, but I have no expectation that their relative proportion to the sum total of the budget will ever be very great.

The only other matter to which I desire briefly to refer is the coming Coronation Durbar at Delhi. The Hon'ble Mr. Duke has explained what the provision of three lakhs is intended for, and he has also explained that there is no provision so far for expenditure within the Province. All Hon'ble Members who have referred to this matter have expressed approval of the expenditure which it is proposed to incur upon it; and some have entertained fears lest the budget grant of three lakhs should prove inadequate. I fear that there is some ground for this apprehension. We have quite recently compiled our detailed estimates of the probable cost of the two camps by which Bengal will be represented, and have submitted them to the Government of India; and it is true that the aggregate gross cost seems likely to considerably exceed that figure, though there will, no doubt, be substantial recoveries on the other side. This will, no doubt, receive careful consideration by the Government of India. In the meantime, I rejoice to notice the loyalty and enthusiasm with which Hon'ble Members have received the announcement of the visit of Their Gracious Majesties, and I do not doubt that, whether it be in Delhi or at Calcutta, everyone in this Chamber, no less than the whole population of this great province, will strive their utmost to accord to Their Majesties a reception which shall be worthy of the august occasion.

Gentlemen, our session is at its close. It has not been a very heavy one owing to the postponement of the Calcutta Improvement Bill until the rains session. I wish you all a pleasant vacation, and trust that when we meet in August next, as I understand it will be, when the discussion of the Calcutta Improvement Bill comes on, we shall find that there will be a very much smaller number of points for dispute than has hitherto been suggested.

The Council was then adjourned sine die.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

FORECAST OF THE RABI CROPS OF BENGAL, 1910-11.

[On an average of the five years ending 1908-09, the area under summer rice which is included in this forecast in the territory to which it relates, represents about 0·2 per cent. of the total area under rice in British India

Explanatory.—The crops dealt with in the present forecast are the spring crops, such as summer rice, barley, grams tobacco, poppy and other food and non-food crops which are harvested between February and April. In these food and non-food crops are included rahar, kalai, mung, peas, lentils, khesari, kulthi, buck-wheat, aches, potatoes, yams, melons, chillies and other spices as well as oats and vegetables.

Bihar is the chief rabi-growing tract, but rabi crops are important also in Burdwan, Midnapore, Cuttack, Ranchi, Palamau, Singhbhum and in all the districts of the Presidency Division, 24-Parganas excepted.

Character of the season.—Good rain fell in September and October and there was sufficient moisture for the sowings which were commenced at the usual time. In November there was no rain except in Bihar and in parts of Chota Nagpur, where the fall was above the average. This was followed by a dry December. In January the rainfall was general and proved beneficial to the rabi crops, especially in Bihar In February light showers fell in Darjeeling and in the districts of Orissa and Lower Bengal, Sambalpur and Bankura excepted, but the prospects of the crops continued favourable. In Midnapore, Nadia, Murshidabad, Jessore, Cuttack and Ranchi certain rabi crops were reported to be suffering for want of timely rain. Heavy rain in March accompanied with hail did damage to the crops in some districts. The season has been favourable this year for the rabi crops, especially in Bihar.

Area sown.—The normal area under the different rabi crops in the province dealt with in the forecast is estimated at 8,288,800 acres. The area actually sown this year is reported to be 7,225,100 acres against 6,699,300 acres, the revised figure for last year. The increase in the area sown is due to there being sufficient moisture at the time of sowing.

Outturn.—The estimated percentage of outturn in the twenty-one districts where the crop is most important is as follows:—Saran 109, Patna and the Sonthal Parganas 100, Gaya 99, Burdwan 98, Muzaffarpur 97, Khulna 96, Purnea 95, Shahabad, Darbhanga and Singhbhum 90, Bhagalpur 86, Champaran 84, Palamau 82, Murshidabad 78, Midnapore 77, Monghyr 73, Jessore 68, Cuttack 66, Ranchi 60 and Nadia 56.

According to the District Officers' estimates the outturn of the different rabi crops for the province as a whole works out to 90 per cent. of the normal, i.e., the same per cent. as estimated last year, but from the reports it would appear that the total crop will not be less than the normal.

Accepting 100 per cent. as the outturn of the summer rice crop, the gross yield for the province works out to 1,089,600 cwts. as compared with 998,400 cwts. of last year

Offg. Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

1. The examination is held annually at the Civil Engineering College, Sibpur, on the first Monday in June. The examination will be conducted, either at the College, or by an Accountant-General (including Government Examiner of Railway Accounts and Examiner of Accounts, Lower Ganges Bridge Project), in Bengal, Eastern Bengal and Assam and Burma only. The examination will be ipso facto vitiated, if it be not held (begun and completed) on the dates fixed; but the officer who will conduct the examination may make his own arrangements, in regard to the place and hour of examination, with the candidates.

Candidates will not be examined in any of the Calcutta offices.

A candidate already in permanent Government employ* may be allowed to compete in the examination, even if he is more than 25 years of age, and may be appointed to an accountantship if he passes it; but if he is not already in pensionable service, he will be eligible only for appointment to the non-pensionable establishment on State Railways.

* This term includes employment under Local Boards and foreign bodies, if such is pensionable by the British Government.

2. The candidate should apply to an Accountant-General not later than 30 days previous to the date fixed for the examination, and obtain his consent to conduct the examination, if examination at the College is not convenient. The application must bear the address of the candidate, must be accompanied by a fee of Rs. 10 and the following certificates and registration form duly filled in and must be forwarded by him, not direct to the Principal, but through the Accountant-General.

Certificates may be submitted in original, or true copies attested by an officer of the Engineer or Accounts Branch, but none will be returned:—

(1) Certificate of good character signed by applicant's immediate official superior, or by the instructor under whom he has been educated, or by some other superior under whom he may have been brought up or employed, or to whom he may be well known. (This certificate must have special reference to the two years immediately preceding the application.)

(2) Certificate of age, baptismal or of birth (not required, if the candidate is already in permanent Government employ).

(3) Certificate that the application is in the candidate's hand-writing.

(4) Registration statement containing the following information:—

(a) Name in full.
(b) Father's name.
(c) Nationality or class, i.e., European, Eurasian or Indian, of candidate; and, if Indian, caste or tribe.
(d) Date of birth.
(e) Place of birth.
(f) Present address.
(g) Examinations passed.
(h) Thumb mark of candidate, left hand, to be made in the presence of a responsible person who knows candidate
(k) Signature and address of above-mentioned witness.

NOTE.—A candidate already in Government service should, in like manner, submit his application, through his immediate official superior, to an Accountant-General (including Government Examiner of Railway Accounts and Examiner of Accounts, Lower Ganges Bridge Project) qualified to hold the particular examination, and should state whether he desires to be examined at the office of the Examiner of Accounts concerned or at the College.

It will rest with the Accountant-General, to whom the candidate submits his application, to decide, on a consideration of the certificates submitted, whether the candidate should be allowed to appear for the examination, or whether his application should be rejected. The Accountant-General will then forward to the Principal for registration the names of the accepted candidates, together with their registration statements, which should be signed by the Accountant-General. The registration statements should be carefully preserved by the Principal. The names of these candidates should be entered in a statement showing their ages and their addresses, and also showing where each candidate is to be examined, whether at the College or at the office of the Accountant-General. This statement, together with the fees, should be transmitted to the Principal not later than 15 days after the dates fixed in paragraph 2 for the submission of applications of candidates.

3. Examination papers that are issued for examination need not be returned.

4. Each examination is complete in itself. A candidate who has failed in an examination, and presents himself for examination on a subsequent occasion, must undergo the full examination and furnish fresh fee and certificates.

5. If from any cause a candidate fails to appear for the examination, the fee paid will not be refunded.

6. It must be distinctly understood that the passing of this examination does not give any claim to an appointment, and that in making appointments preference will be given to qualified persons who are already employed in the Department.

7. Passed candidates should apply, not to the Principal of the College, nor to the Comptroller-General, but direct to the Accountant-General or Government Examiner of Railway Accounts in the province or railway under whom they may desire to be employed.

8. The Civil Engineering College acts solely as an examining body in reference to admission to the 4th grade of Accountants, Public Works Department.

9. Candidates for the 4th grade Accountantship examination, who are not Government servants and over 25 years of age, are allowed to appear at the examination at the Sibpur College centre only, but, even if successful, they are debarred from employment in the service of Government, and their names will be excluded from the list of passed candidates which is furnished to the Comptroller and Auditor-General.

10. Candidates over 25 years of age should apply in writing to the Principal of the Civil Engineering College not later than 30 days previous to the examination; the application to be accompanied by the fee of rupees ten and the Registration statement prescribed in Rule 2 (4).
